

WOLFGANG HALBIG

the Hoax of a Lifetime

Table of Contents

Prologue: They call him “The Kraut”.....	1968-1976
Chapter 1: Probie.....	1974-1975
Chapter 2: Hurricane Fail.....	1977-1979
Chapter 3: Student Driver.....	1980-1983
.Chapter 4: The Lost Years (Mystery at Sebring High).....	1983-1985
Chapter 5: Splitsville.....	1990-1993
Chapter 6: Quadro Sinko.....	1994-1996
Chapter 7: Think of the Children.....	1997-2000
Chapter 8: Axis of Evil.....	2001-2003
Chapter 9: The Long Way Down.....	2004-2009
Chapter 10: A Man of the People.....	2010-2011
Chapter 11: The Scent.....	2012-2013
Chapter 12: Year of the Wolf.....	2014
The Fall of Wolfgang Halbig.....	2015

“Look into my background.” - W.H.

Prologue: They call him “The Kraut”

August, 10th, 1946: Wolfgang Walter Halbig is born, somewhere in Germany.

Early Life (Germany)

Wolfgang was raised by his grandparents in the town of Heidelberg (state of Baden-Württemberg) until age twelve (or fourteen, or sixteen, but Wolfgang usually claims twelve.)

He was raised Catholic while in Germany, but would claim no faith as an adult.

According to public statements made by Wolfgang on multiple occasions, he never knew his father. Wolf claims that his father was “in a concentration camp for three years,” sometimes saying the camp was located “in Posen, Poland.” This would presumably indicate Stalag XXI-D.

Relocation to United States:

In 2012, Wolfgang gave a deposition as part of a civil lawsuit. In it Wolf explained about the circumstances of his move to the United States:

14	Q	And why did you move to the U.S. when you were 12
15		years old?
16	A	Well, I never knew my mother till age 12. The
17		week that I was confirmed in the Catholic Church, she shows
18		up with this military guy. They're married, and she tells
19		me and my grandparents, who raised me up to this point, that
20		"You're going to the United States;" so I saw my
21		grandparents having a huge fight. And the next thing I
22		know, I'm headed to Ramstein Air Base and I'm coming to the
23		United States. I got my shots and I was displaced from my
24		grandparents and I was not very happy about it, 'cause I
25		never knew her. I didn't know what the hell I'm doing with

Early Life (US):

In the United States, Wolfgang was raised by his mother in Avon Park, Florida. From age twelve through high school, he picked fruit to earn money, according to comments made under Wolfgang Halbig's name to CNN news stories in November of 2012:

The image is a screenshot of a CNN news website. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the CNN logo on the left and links for News, Video, TV, Opinions, and More... Below this is a secondary navigation bar with links for U.S., World, Politics, Tech, Health, Entertainment, Living, and Travel. The main content area shows a news article with a headline: "Who will design the next generation computers, phones, satellites, appliances ... etc? NOT singers, dancers and ball players!" dated November 8, 2012 at 9:09 am. Below the article, there is a comment by Wolfgang Halbig, dated November 8, 2012 at 8:50 am. The comment discusses the education system and the challenges faced by Black students. A pink horizontal line is drawn under the sentence "I picked fruit at age 12 all through High School to help my mother and I liked it because I got paid for my work." in the comment.

News Video TV Opinions More...

U.S. World Politics Tech Health Entertainment Living Travel

Who will design the next generation computers, phones, satellites, appliances ... etc? NOT singers, dancers and ball players!

November 8, 2012 at 9:09 am |

Wolfgang Halbig
Black people are people and why are we afraid to say what we feel.

I see black students holding other black students back from learning because it makes the uneducated black look stupid

Think about it.....

"In 1989, a senior director of the Mid-Continent Regional Educational Laboratory told the fifty governors of American states that year assembled to discuss government schooling, "What we're into is total restructuring of society." It doesn't get much plainer than that. There is no record of a single governor objecting.

Two years later Gerald Bracey, a leading professional consultant for government schooling, wrote in his annual report to clients: "We must continue to produce an uneducated social class."

That uneducated social class is the 47 million people on food stamps, free cell phones, utility subsidies, Free Section 8 housing, free gas, pay No taxes and are only expected to vote the color of their skin to keep those benefits provided by the hard working middle class.

All you have to do is watch Jerry Springer and Mauray for the last 8 years and they will clearly show you that uneducated social class.

It is out there and it is growing by leaps and bounds with NO end in sight.

Yes, I can ignore our problems since I receive my retirement check that I earned and my social check that I earned and my Medicare that I earned but I have two beautiful granddaughters and I have to fight for them because they one day will have children and what will be left for them.

How can so many people be that stupid and not see the big picture.

I picked fruit at age 12 all through High School to help my mother and I liked it because I got paid for my work.

The Mexicans are taking the blacks jobs because the blacks see those jobs as demeaning to their status in America.

Rosa Parks fought for the right to be in the front of the bus and now in Public Schools blacks ride in the back of the bus and beat up kids who won't let them.

How times have changed.

November 8, 2012 at 8:50 am |

1965

Wolfgang Halbig is finishing his senior at Avon Park High School, and plays on the football team. Looking back on this time in a 1971 profile in the Abilene Reporter, Wolfgang remembers complaining to the coaching staff about the physical pain the other players caused him:

Living in Avon Park, Fla., Halbig said he was asked to play football (even though he couldn't speak a word of English at the time) "because they thought I was big so the first thing they had me playing was center." Recalling this, Halbig added laughingly, "But then I got tired of getting beat up all the time because I was German and didn't understand the game of football. They told me all I had to do was bend over and snap the ball whenever the guy said a certain number." Expressing his displeasure at being "beat up" all the time, Halbig went to his coaches and they moved him to halfback.

Summer 1965: Wolfgang graduates from Avon Park High School. To this day, he is unable to explain how this was possible given his abysmal academic performance:

2	Q	Okay. You graduated from high school in Avon Park
3		in 1965?
4	A	Right.
5	Q	Could you speak English then?
6	A	Barely.
7	Q	How was it that you graduated?
8	A	That's my question. I played football and played
9		baseball. They just passed me with a 1.0 GPA.
10	Q	So after graduating from Avon Park, then you went
11		to Coffeyville Junior College?
12	A	One year.
13	Q	For one year. Did you learn to speak English
14		there?
15	A	Not fluently.

November 8 1965: Wolf is playing Defensive Halfback in Coffeyville, Kansas. In his later deposition, Wolf would explain that this school was a "Junior college for Florida State players who couldn't speak English."
<http://www.newspapers.com/newspage/1541495/>

1966

Wolfgang "transfers to Florida State University" from Coffeyville, but is unable to enroll in classes because he is found to have never registered for the draft. He soon winds up joining the United States Air Force, claiming that he "had no idea" that there was a draft:

The "Kraut" as he's called by fellow Wildcats at ACC, signed a scholarship to attend Florida State University. "But, not speaking English too good, they thought my chances in a four-year school were bad and they thought I couldn't make it because of the English problem." With that in mind, Halbig entered Coffeyville Junior College in Coffeyville, Kan., on a football scholarship. He played a year there and his team went 9-1 with Halbig making All-Conference as a linebacker.

However, then an unusual happening came to pass. Halbig was informed he hadn't registered for the draft (something he had no idea existed) and he joined the Air Force rather than go in the Army. Halbig was stationed at Dyess Air Force Base when he got out. He then strolled over to the campus of McMurry College asking about a football scholarship and Buddy Fornes asked him to come to their spring tryout camp. In the meantime, Halbig inquired across town at ACC and Wally Bullington took a look at the fit German and said he could use him at ACC. (Abilene Reporter, Sept. 8 1971)

Note that 2012 Wolf claims that he was drafted after all, just before enlisting in the Air Force:

1	A	well, I was sent back to Highlands County to get
2		my draft card.
3	Q	which is in Avon Park?
4	A	which is in Avon Park. I wasn't a naturalized
5		citizen; so they wouldn't enroll me unless you had a draft
6		card in those days; so FSU sent me back to get a draft card
7		so I could enroll. But then in the meantime, they drafted
8		me; so, therefore, instead of being drafted, I joined the
9		Air Force for -- from 1966 through '70, I was in the United
0		States Air Force.
1	Q	So your lottery number came up?
2	A	No. It was more than the lottery number. He
3		didn't like the fact that I didn't have a draft card.

Question #1 Wolfgang Halbig MUST answer: You were going to high school in America in 1965 and you didn't know that the United States had a draft? Nobody on your football team mentioned Vietnam once? How is that possible? Were you trying to dodge the draft?

1967

Wolfgang Halbig is stationed at Lackland Air Force base, and is then transferred to Dyess Air Force Base in Abilene, Texas.

NOTE: Entries from Halbig's 2012 resume are listed as "The Truth According to Wolfgang":

1967-1970 THE TRUTH ACCORDING TO WOLFGANG:

United States Air Force, 1967-1970

- Strategic Air Command
- Combative Measures Instructor
- Disaster Preparedness Instructor
- Physical Fitness Specialist

1968-1969

Wolfgang becomes a naturalized citizen in Abilene, Texas. This moment – reciting an oath of citizenship with his “right hand raised” – becomes a story that Wolfgang would recycle over and over for the rest of his life, often in the context of assuring an audience of his patriotism.

Jul 12 1968: Wolf wins a “sportsmanship award” after his team comes in 3rd place

<http://www.newspapers.com/newspage/15180295/>

<http://www.newspapers.com/newspage/15180174/>

More sports stuff:

<http://www.newspapers.com/newspage/47502597/>

<http://www.newspapers.com/newspage/47503659/>

<http://www.newspapers.com/newspage/47507101/>

1970-1973 THE TRUTH ACCORDING TO WOLFGANG:

Bachelor of Science

Secondary History and Physical Education, 1973

Abilene Christian University, Abilene, TX

1970

Early 1970: Wolfgang receives his honorable discharge from the United States Air Force, rank E-4.

Feb 8 1970 - “Halbig, who will be discharged from the Air Force this summer, has been a baseball and tennis star at Dyess.”

<http://www.newspapers.com/newspage/47442250/>

Feb 27 1970: Wolf gets a football scholarship to Abilene Christian College (ACC; note that the name was changed in the early 1970s to Abilene Christian University, thus also ACU.)

<http://texashistory.unt.edu/ark:/67531/metaph99512/m1/7/zoom/>

April 1 1970: Article notes that football recruit Wolfgang Halbig is “a 200-pound linebacker from Dyess by way of Florida and Coffeyville Jr. College”

<http://www.newspapers.com/newspage/47487443/>

July 26 1970: article notes Wolf is joining Abilene Christian College, after leaving armed forces

<http://www.newspapers.com/newspage/47519979/>

Sept 18 1970 - Wolf is noted as a “newcomer” at ACU, expected to play tight end.

<http://www.newspapers.com/newspage/47586147/>

November 4, 1970 - Wolf is noted as having a bruised kidney

<http://www.newspapers.com/newspage/49214086/>

Various sports headlines throughout the Fall:

<http://www.newspapers.com/newspage/49214268/>

<http://www.newspapers.com/newspage/49214489/>

<http://www.newspapers.com/newspage/49214750/>

<http://www.newspapers.com/newspage/49215423/>

<http://www.newspapers.com/newspage/49215459/>

<http://www.newspapers.com/newspage/49215708/>

<http://www.newspapers.com/newspage/49215748/>

<http://www.newspapers.com/newspage/49216093/>

1971

May 15 1971: - A correction in the Abilene Report's sports section indicates that Wolfgang Halbig is, at age twenty-four, already noticeably sensitive about his public image.

<http://www.newspapers.com/newspage/51775259/>

Wolfgang Halbig of Abilene Christian College telephoned to report he WILL be the Wildcats' fullback this fall. We had reported that Halbig had been shifted to fullback and should add power "if the coaches leave him there." Halbig was somewhat upset over the statement as he is confident he will be at fullback. We did not know anything Wolfgang didn't know so will confess, Wolfgang, that you [fragment ends]

July 17 1971 - Halbig's exercise regimen is detailed by the local paper

<http://www.newspapers.com/newspage/51782522/>

Halbig, the enthusiastic Air Force veteran, is going after daily drills in a big way. The native of Germany runs the swimming pool at the Dyess Officers Club, teaching lessons and also getting in some swimming exercise in the mornings. He works 40 hours a week and works out every night. Halbig is running four miles every other evening, doing quick starts and sprints, riding a bicycle, lifting weights and playing catch the other afternoons. "I do it because I want to be ready," said Wolfgang. "No second team for me. I want to start." Halbig, who now weighs 208, says he wants to play at 205.

July 29 1971 - Wolf is injured in a car accident

<http://www.newspapers.com/newspage/51783382/>

August 1, 1971 - Wolf is noted as frequently visiting Dyess Air Force Base, well after his supposed discharge.

<http://www.newspapers.com/newspage/51783588/>

But some athletes have managed to land more exciting, glamorous positions than others. Take for instance football fullback Wolfgang Halbig, who is a lifeguard and swimming instructor for the Officers Club at Dyess Air Force Base.

More sports headlines from this period:

<http://www.newspapers.com/newspage/29725840/>

<http://www.newspapers.com/newspage/51785386/>

<http://www.newspapers.com/newspage/51785372/>

<http://www.newspapers.com/newspage/51786020/>

<http://www.newspapers.com/newspage/51786064/>

<http://www.newspapers.com/newspage/51786131/>

September 8 1971 - "Halbig Likes Switch to Fullback at AAC" - A detailed profile on Halbig's path to Abilene Christian University is published. Wolfgang has by now been given nickname "The Kraut." He complains about his position on the team, and openly admits that he is resentful about being passed over for a scholarship by the team's upcoming opponents, McMurry University. He also shares that he did make the starting lineup, as he said he wanted to on July 17, but only because someone else got injured.

<http://www.newspapers.com/newspage/51786189/>

Halbig, 25, recently was sidelined with a bruised kidney and didn't return to drills until Monday, although he's been running through some passing patterns in shorts. His main challenge this year, he said, is to make the starting lineup. "I don't want to make it this year because somebody is injured. I did it last year and I think it's a poor way to have to start." Halbig is bent on making it big on his own because "I want them to realize that I do have the potential to be a good ballplayer." The deeply sun-tanned German stated definitely he has no plans of trying to play pro ball -- even though he has the smarts and physical attributes to make a good go of it. "I'm more interested in teaching and going into coaching," noted Halbig seriously. "I think by the time I graduate from Abilene Christian College I'm going to enjoy looking forward to going out, making a living and teaching the kids what I know."

He sees a good season for the Wildcats this year because of depth, despite the fact ACC lost some top players through graduation last year. Of the ACC-McMurry clash Saturday: "I just hope that I can prove to 'em that they missed their opportunity by not offering me a scholarship. I think they realized that last year when I played against them. I didn't have a great game, but they knew I could play ball." The game, as a whole, should be a good one said Halbig. One thing's for sure -- Wolfgang Halbig will see action. He expresses no qualms at not liking the idea of being a utility man, but he's a ball player and plays his heart out whenever he's called on.

September 10, 1971: The Optimist publishes a list of “freshman women” that Wolfgang Halbig has determined to be “most dateable.” It is implied that Wolfgang is a notorious womanizer:
<http://texashistory.unt.edu/ark:/67531/metaph99545/m1/2/>

Random Notes is proud to get the following scoop for Optimist readers. This is a list, as provided us by Wolfgang Halbig, of freshman women he says are the most dateable. And . . . Wolf ought to know because when it comes to women, Wolf is unparalleled:

1. Linda Williamson
2. Beverly Ford
3. Betty Lindsey
4. Martha Mitchell
5. Jan Pruhliere
6. Donna Perkins
7. Sue Jones
8. Judy Harris
9. Linda Meyers
10. M'linda Britton

Most of you big flying huffs missed the one airport opening that

Sports Headlines

<http://www.newspapers.com/newspage/51786354/>
<http://texashistory.unt.edu/ark:/67531/metaph99554/m1/14/>
[\[LINK\]](#)

1972

Jan 20 1972 - Wolfgang is admitted to the West Texas Medical Center. This appears to be for knee surgery, based on later reports
<http://www.newspapers.com/newspage/49179367/>

Knee surgery confirmed:
<http://www.newspapers.com/newspage/49179711/>

September 28 1972
Wolfgang is photographed playing football against Southeast Louisiana University's Lions. Wolfgang's team, the Abilene Wildcats, go on to lose the game 14-10.
<http://texashistoryunt.edu/ark:/67531/metaph91787/m1/7/>

October 27, 1972 - The Amarillo Globe-Times from Amarillo, Texas - Wolfgang is confirmed to be a Senior at Abilene Christ University, and plays running back for the Abilene Wildcats.
<http://www.newspapers.com/newspage/30039758/>

WOLFGANG HALBIG gets by Louisiana's No. 41 on a twelve yard run that gave ACC a first and goal situation late in the first quarter play Saturday night. Hubert Pickett is blocking.

1973

Jan 28 1973: Wolf is noted to be officiating basketball games at Abilene Christian College.
<http://www.newspapers.com/newspage/46748204/>

February 11 1973: Wolf's shoes are vacant at Abilene Christian
<http://www.newspapers.com/newspage/46749434/>

1973: Wolfgang Halbig graduates from Abilene Christian College. He earns a Bachelor of Science degree in Education.

Aaron Cloud	Chris Tome	Kay (Miller) Olsen	Melinda (Brittain) Cunningham
Tim Coburn	#Lana (Smith) Trietsch	Colleen (Reinsch) Phillips	Beverly Davis
Pam (Martin) Crites	Ken Truax	Debbe (Pace) Pickett	#Bill Day
Mark Cunningham	Doug Vaughn	Jamie (Rogers) Pruitt	#Gail Day
Chris Deavours	Paula (Legg) Vaughn	#Jeanene Reese	Gary Douglass
Cindy (Brower) Dodson	Clint Wade	Howard Reynolds	Diane (Mabery) Fergadis
John Estes	Becky (Ferguson) Weyandt	Bob Serravo	Jane (Delony) Fitzgerald
Angela (Clovis) Estes	Ron White	Mary Beth (Durham) Shumate	Nina (Witt) Foster
Roy Fitts	#John Willbanks	Steve Smith	Blair Francis
#Dan Garrett	#Donna (Thompson) Willbanks	Claudia (Parrish) Southern	Debby (Kirkpatrick) Gage
Kay (Scott) Garrett	#Sherla (Colglazier) Winter	Mark Stewart	Cherri (Williams) Goad
Yolanda (Smith) Giboney	Bill Wishard	Kay Tenhet	Dale Goad
#Lyn (Hunt) Goggin	Yuhunter Woodard	Debbie (Chron) Thompson	Glynna (Sanders) Gower
Lloyd Goldsmith		#Lee Ann (Waters) Thornton	Cynthia (Steele) Gragg
Gordon Gower	CLASS OF 1974	Janelle (Jones) Thurman	Carolyn (Moore) Graham
Janet Griffith	11.2% participation	Claudia (Craig) Truax	James Hall
Gary Hachtel	$29,777.00	Sandy (Shults) Turner	Mary Jo (Himmelrick) Hardman
Wolfgang Halbig		Jan (Palmer) Van Horn	#Don Harrison
Katry (Boyle) Hall	Debbie (Cooper) Abshere	Martha Vannoy	Renae (Stewart) Harrison
Randy Hall	James Allen	Keith Watson	Letha (Lee) Harshman
Mark Hamilton		#Lisa Weather	Don Hartless

(Halbig is listed under Class of 1973)

http://www.acu.edu/img/assets/12695/Undergrad_alumni_donors_by_class_year_FY06.pdf

After graduation, according to his 2012 deposition, Wolfgang "got a phone call" that he was "hired as a teacher at Lake Brantley High School" in Seminole County. He thus returns to Florida.

Wolfgang then claims that he worked at Lake Brantley High School for only six months, bizarrely attributing his sudden departure from teaching and coaching (which he had noted was his life's ambition just two years previous) to the clothing that female students at the school were wearing:

2 Q And why did you only stay there six months?
3 A Because it -- I did not like the dress code at the 4 time for girls, and I thought that being a young coach, I
5 was not going to put my education at risk.
6 Q Just explain to me what you're talking about.
7 A Well, in those days, in 1973, the fad was girls
8 didn't wear bras and they had very short skirts, and it
9 seemed like nobody wanted to enforce the dress code. And 10 for young coaches in those days, it -- you could get 11 yourself in trouble if you were not careful. To me, I
12 didn't want to lose my certification; so I became a state
13 trooper.
14 Q So you voluntarily resigned Lake Brantley?
15 A Oh, yes.

Chapter 1: Probie

1974

1974-1975 THE TRUTH ACCORDING TO WOLFGANG:

- State of Florida State Trooper, 1974-1975
- State Trooper-graduated from academy in Tallahassee, FL
- Assigned Miami, FL duty station

Florida State Trooper: According to Wolfgang's boasts over the years, he was the first trainee at the Tallahassee trooper academy to have held a college degree.

According to Wolfgang, during his less than two years as a rookie State Trooper from 1974 to 1975, he witnessed over 200 autopsies, was shot at multiple times, and was responsible for conducting "homicide investigations." He has not provided any documentation or witnesses to substantiate any of these claims, nor has he explained why he was assigned these senior responsibilities during his probationary period.

— At The Graduation —

45TH RECRUIT CLASS GRADUATION — Class President Wolfgang W. Halbig speaks. Background (l to r) Sgt. C. H. Strickland, Lt. T. M. Betts, Capt. C. W. Saunders, Col. J. E. Beach, Rev. Warren H. Rush, and Executive Director Ralph Davis.
(FHP Photo Lab)

Wolfgang then quits, admitting that he is not cut out for law enforcement.

2012 Wolf Says:

10	Q	And which troop were you assigned to during your
11		tenure with the highway patrol?
12	A	Troop E in Miami, Florida.
13	Q	And what were your duties?
14	A	I was a state trooper.
15	Q	Rank?
16	A	No rank.
17	Q	Did you voluntarily resign from that position?
18	A	I resigned from that position.
19	Q	Voluntarily?
20	A	Voluntarily.
21	Q	Okay. And why did you resign?
22	A	I was shot at too many times, and there's too many
23		fight and broken noses, and I thought I could do a better
24		job going back into prevention.

1975

1975-1983 THE TRUTH ACCORDING TO WOLFGANG:

Marion County Public Schools

Vanguard High School, Teacher/Coach, 1975-1983

- Taught history, government and economics in secondary high school
- Served as head football, baseball, tennis, golf and wrestling coach
 - Served on Southern Association for Colleges and Schools for ten year study at Ocala Vanguard High School

1976

Feb 19, 1976: Wolfgang is listed as the coach for the Lake Weir Hurricanes wrestling team.
<https://news.google.com/newspapers?nid=1356&dat=19760219&id=bYdPAAAAIBAJ&sjid=mwUEAAAAIBAJ&pg=1737,4761777&hl=e>

Chapter 2: Hurricane Fail

1977

Kazuually Speaking
By Mark Kazlowski

You Think You Have Problems?

If you think you have problems, you should talk to Lake Weir baseball coach Wolfgang Halbig.

In his first season as the Hurricanes' head diamond man, Halbig has been besieged by problems that would take five years to afflict more fortunate coaches.

Lake Weir's football team came out of its first five games in better shape than Halbig's baseball team did in its first five tilts.

- In the season opener at West Orange, senior shortstop Jack Monroe broke his ankle sliding into second base.

But that was not bad compared to the disaster that struck the shorthanded Hurricanes Friday

March 13 1977: Halbig is listed in an article as "The Lake Weir baseball coach." Halbig blames injuries for the 10-2 loss against the Eastside Rams, but despite the multiple injuries in one game, also claims that "We just didn't have the aggressiveness a ball club should have." (Ocala Star-Banner: "Lake Weir Nine Loses Bizarre Battle")

March 15 1977: Halbig's coaching is "besieged by problems" according to a local sports writer. (Ocala Star-Banner: Kazuually Speaking / "You Think You Have Problems?")

Halbig assures readers that his Hurricanes, who have yet to win a game, will soon be training using a pitching machine, even after he learns that there are no electrical outlets at the practice field.

"I think we'll be back in the second half of the season." [Halbig] said confidently. "Once we get it together, look out."

May 26 1977 An article notes that Halbig is now coaching football and living in Ocala, Florida.

<http://www.newspapers.com/newspage/47656837/>

"Managing Rose Pool for the second summer in a row will be Wolfgang Halbig, an Abilene Christian University graduate who now lives and coaches football in Ocala, FL. "

1978

Mar 15 1978 "Coach Halbig Returning to Lake Weir High School" - published in Ocala Star-Banner.
<https://news.google.com/newspapers?id=0JZPAAAAIBAJ&sjid=xQUEAAAAIBAJ&pg=6858%2C3892471>

The article notes that Wolf is "currently an assistant football coach at Vanguard" and is "returning to Lake Weir as the head football coach" after having been "an assistant coach" at Lake Weir for two years previously. It is noted that the job will be Wolfgang's first year as a head coach.

It is also noted that, before coming to Lake Weir the first time, Wolfgang was "defensive coordinator at Lake Brantley," apparently referring to the six-month stint in 1973 that was cut short due to Wolf's concerns about the attire the female students wore.

8A Ocala Star-Banner Wednesday, March 15, 1978

Coach Halbig Returning To Lake Weir High School

By MARK KAZLOWSKI
Assistant Sports Editor

After a one-year absence Wolfgang Halbig is returning to Lake Weir High School.

Halbig, currently an assistant football coach and golf coach at Vanguard, is returning to Lake Weir as the head football coach.

Lake Weir Principal Clyde Folsom announced the decision today. Halbig replaces Tom Perrin who is leaving the school at the end of this school year.

In addition, Folsom announced that head basketball coach Bobby Hall will take over the position of athletic director which Perrin also held.

"He has a big challenge in front of him," Folsom said of Halbig who was an assistant football coach at Lake Weir for two years before moving to Vanguard last year. "Hopefully in

WOLFGANG HALBIG
...Currently at Vanguard

given time he can build the program back to a competitive level so we can compete."

obituaries

Question #2 Wolfgang MUST answer: Why did you try to make it look like you never worked at Lake Weir High? You say on your resume that you were at Vanguard High School from 1975 to 1983. Here we are in 1978 and you've only been at Vanguard for one year, and are about to leave. What happened at Lake Weir High School that you don't want people to know about?

March 17 1978: - "Welcome Back Wolf a Hit at Lake Weir" - article about Wolfgang's warm welcome back to Lake Weir High School. Lake Weir reportedly welcomes Wolfgang as a returning hero, and hopes are high that he will show his gratitude to the school that first took a chance on him by rebuilding their struggling football team.

Halbig explains that he has a "three-pronged plan" for improving the team, in that "the three things he said he wants out of the players are enthusiasm, dedication, and loyalty."

Wherever Wolfgang Halbig went Thursday, he didn't go far before being surrounded by well-wishers welcoming him back to the school as head football coach.

If the likable, towheaded coach were running for office, he would have been a shoo-in.

Faculty and students alike crowded around Halbig at each stop to pat him on the back, shake his hand or just verbally tell him they are glad to see him return.

Halbig, currently an assistant football coach and golf coach at Vanguard, learned Wednesday that he had been selected to take over the Lake Weir football fortunes.

Thursday was his first trip back to the school since accepting the position, and one would have thought he was there to announce the school year would be shortened.

Halbig was an assistant coach at Lake Weir for two years before moving to Vanguard at the beginning of the present school year.

He and new athletic director Bobby Hall will be working together to put some life into the athletic program that has been stagnant.

The article, like many glowing articles about Halbig from this era, is written by columnist Mark Kazlowski, demonstrating that Halbig has developed a talent for recruiting journalists to increase his profile. LINK

May 1, 1978: Halbig To Speak To Boosters: A short newspaper blurb notes that the Lake Weir High School football team's spring practice starts the following Monday, with Wolfgang as the new head coach, setting the stage for Halbig's speech to the Lake Weir Booster Club. The school's principal, Clyde Folsom, is also in attendance for this event, as is athletic director Bobby Hall.

Ocala Star-Banner - May 1, 1978 Browse this newspaper » Browse all ne

Halbig To Speak To Boosters

New head football coach Wolfgang Halbig will be the guest speaker at the meeting of the Lake Weir Booster Club at 8 p.m. Monday in the school cafeteria.

With spring practice beginning Monday, football is a likely topic for Halbig's talk. New athletic director Bobby Hall and principal Clyde Folsom are scheduled to be in attendance also.

New officers will be seated at the meeting.

Sept 7, 1978: 'Canes Expect Exciting Year: In a lengthy write-up, Ocala Star-Banner interviewers learn that Wolfgang has long-term plans to rebuild the team, and Halbig is "really looking forward to two years from now and not right now. We'll try to be respectable."

<https://news.google.com/newspapers?nid=1356&dat=19780907&id=rZ5PAAAAIBAJ&sjid=vwUEAAAAIBAJ&pg=4583.1838577&hl=en>

22 Ocala Star-Banner Thursday, September 7, 1978

'Canes Expect Exciting Year

CANDLER — Wolfgang Halbig doesn't promise a winning team in his first year at the helm of the Lake Weir ship, but he does predict his Hurricanes will be exciting.

Halbig has his work cut out for him trying to rebuild the team that was 4-6 two years ago and 2-8 last season. With the inexperience he has to contend with, Halbig is looking a little further down the road before he can sight a winner.

"I've got some good young kids," he commented. "I'm really looking forward to two years from now and not right now. We'll try to be respectable."

One of the primary weaknesses Halbig mentioned is the youthfulness of the team. He will be working with a primarily junior unit in the starting positions.

"The 11th graders were on the varsity last year holding dummies," he said. "They have no game experience."

Halbig will be counting on his 'Canes to develop experience as the season matures.

"I think by the fifth game this year you'll see a different team," said the spunky coach. "I think as the season goes along we'll get a little better."

Halbig is counting on his spunk and excitement for the game to show up in his players. Size is a big check mark in the negative column. Desire is on the plus side of the ledger.

"I think we can move people," Halbig said of his offensive line. "We're quick. I think quickness is one of our assets."

Perhaps the strongest point for the Hurricanes is their air corps.

"We have six decent kids that can catch the ball and two good quarterbacks," the coach said. "Our receiving department is good. We've got some kids that have hands. We're going to teach that secondary to respect us."

Rick Wilcox, a junior, and Bob Renfroe, a senior, will be sharing quarterbacking duties for the Hurricanes. They will have several choice receivers running routes.

Among the leading contenders are Chuck Grant, Todd Hubbard and Pete Robinson at wide receiver. Harry Dentonio, Lester Davis and Mike McKeever are the leading tight ends.

"They five out of 50 plays will be passes," Halbig

Sept 28, 1978 Halbig still confident in the Hurricanes, losing every game so far. "I believe we can win. Things are going to start going our way real soon and it could be Friday night up there."

<https://news.google.com/newspapers?id=v55PAAAAIBAJ&sjid=vwUEAAAAIBAJ&pg=2048%2C8087551>

By BUD CRUSSELL
Assistant Sports Editor

Lake Weir's football fortunes were dealt a severe blow this week as the Hurricanes' leading ground gainer was lost for possibly the rest of the season.

Jack Ramsey, a 5-foot-10, 165-pound fullback, will not be available for duty Friday when the Hurricanes travel to Citizens Field in Gainesville to play District 6-AAA co-leaders Eastside.

Lake Weir football coach Wolfgang Halbig said Ramsey, who was injured earlier in the week, may be out for the rest of the season.

The hard-running fullback was being counted on heavily to carry the burden of the Lake Weir attack.

The Rams were stunned by a 2-0 loss in a non-district game to the Palatka Panthers last Friday night and Halbig thinks that is a bad omen for this week.

"I feel like Eastside is going to be mad after losing to Palatka and will be looking to take it out on us," Halbig said.

The odds heavily favor the much larger Gainesville school, but even though the Hurricanes are underdogs they are looking to take the role of David and be giant killers.

Eastside walloped the Forest Wildcats 22-0 in the season opener and then trounced North Marion 34-7 in the second game before losing to Palatka last week.

Lake Weir lost to Buchholz 28-0 in the opener and then lost to Forest 27-0 before taking last week off with an open date.

Taking Ramsey's place at fullback this week will be 5-foot-10, 160-pound Steve Hall who has had little varsity playing time.

The rest of the backfield will have regulars Bob Renfroe at quarterback, and Mike Samuel and Norris Lightsey at the tailback slot.

Halbig has moved Charles Carper

Ramsey

Renfroe

from a defensive position to offensive guard to bolster the running game.

Chuck Grant at wideout, tight end Harry DeAntonio, tackle Glen Cameron and center Darrell Smith are expected to carry much of the offensive load.

Dependables Dennis Tindall at tackle and Don Wood at end will spark the defensive efforts.

The Hurricanes may resort to a few tricks plays to get the jump on the Friday night hosts but whatever the strategy, Halbig has a winning attitude.

"I believe we can win. Things are going to start going our way real soon and it could be Friday night up there."

"We started off the season with the toughest teams in the district but I want my boys to know there are two halves to the schedule and we can still have a good year," Halbig concluded.

1979

Jan 27 1979 Halbig is fired by Lake Weir High School from his position as head football coach, with a record of 0-10 and in less than one year. The firing is attributed not to his win/loss record, but for lying about looking for another job, when it is discovered that Halbig had been "checking on a coaching job in Sebring where he could be closer to his mother in Avon Park." [\[LINK\]](#)

In his statement announcing the firing of Halbig as head football coach, [Clyde] Folsom said in part, "Within the past week, I have learned that Coach Halbig was interested in another coaching position in a high school in the state. It is my responsibility to secure someone who is totally committed to develop the football program at Lake Weir High School. Therefore, in the best interest of the football program, a change was necessary."

Halbig defends himself by hiding behind his students:

"If I were interested in leaving Lake Weir, I would have told the kids first and Clyde second," he said. "That's how I feel about the Lake Weir kids. My job was to go into Lake Weir High School and build a program." [...] "My first obligation will be to the kids first and him second."

Halbig Dealt Strange Hand

Wolfgang Halbig might have taken a hint from the date that he was hired at Lake Weir that everything was not going to go smoothly as head football coach.

It was March 15.

The Ides of March.

It wasn't a good day for Julius Caesar. As it turned out, it wasn't such a good day for Halbig either.

Less than a year after he was hired to build the Lake Weir football program "back to a competitive level," Halbig was fired as head coach.

Halbig goes on to explain that he didn't even contact Sebring High School. He had contacted someone who works at Sebring High School who was also his acquaintance, and that furthermore, that person had advised Halbig that Sebring was looking for "an older coach with experience," so Halbig had no chance.

"All I wanted to find out was what they were looking for," Halbig said. "I never sent a resume. Never had an interview. If that's a reason to show unloyalty, if that's a reason to be fired for, then I don't envy the next person coming in there."

In the end, Halbig insists that his firing was all a conspiracy by Clyde Folsom and Bobby Hall to silence him:

HALBIG from pg. 1B

ing other than the listed one.

Halbig said when Folsom told him that junior varsity football coach Ben Moxley was going to be fired "for not following the chain of command," Halbig argued in support of Moxley. "He and Rick Langsford are the primary people right now at Lake Weir High School that got the program going," Halbig said. "I talked back to both of them (Folsom and Hall)," Halbig said. "The reason they're firing me, I think, is because I'm backtalking them and defending my coaches. "They don't like it because I'm giving them fire," he said.

Other sources suggested the "fire" may have been the reason Halbig was let go.

Enthusiastic coaches with the quality and talent of Halbig don't come along often. The loss is Lake Weir's, not his.

Coach	Years	Record	Win %
J.M. Pfeil	1955-1965	48-47-5	.504
Murray Fugate	1966-1967	4-16	.200
Charles Dixon	1968	2-8	.200
Dale Wilson	1969	1-8-1	.180
David Lawrence	1970-1972	10-20	.333
Tom Perrin	1973-1977	28-23	.550
Wolfgang Halbig	1978	0-10	.000
John Land	1979-1983	13-35	.270
Alex Casteneda	1983-1985	3-19	.140
Joe Register	1986-1992	30-42	.420
Gary Hughes	1993-1996	15-27	.360
Richard Pettus	1997-1999	6-24	.200
Duke Schneider	2000	0-10	.000
Dave Brown	2001-2002	2-18	.100
Nate McCullough	2003-2005	2-28	.067
Mark Hinterthan	2006-2010	25-27	.481
Jason Robinson	2011-Current	6-14	.300

Question #3 Wolfgang Halbig MUST answer: Why were you planning to abandon the Lake Weir High School Hurricanes, right when the children needed you the most? You told everyone that "by game five you'll be a different team" but they were not a different team by game five. They lost every game, and you lied about planning for the next two years with them. Why would you lie??

Chapter 3: Student Driver

		MARRIAGE RECORD FLORIDA				STATE FILE NO. _____
APPLICATION NO. 22633
MALE PERSONAL DATA	1. Name of Male	(First)	(Middle)	(Last)	2. Race
	WOLFGANG WALTER HALBIG				W
	3. Usual Residence of Male		(City or Town)	(County)	(State)	4A. DATE OF BIRTH	4B. AGE
557-B Midway Dr.,		S.S.S., Ocala,		Florida	08/10/46		32
5. NUMBER OF THIS MARRIAGE		6A. LAST MARRIAGE ENDED BY		IF PREVIOUSLY MARRIED SPECIFY BY DEATH DIVORCE OR ANNULLMENT	6B. DATE LAST MARRIAGE ENDED		7. STATE OF BIRTH (IF NOT IN U.S.A. NAME COUNTRY)
1		divorce		Jan 6, 1978		Germany
FEMALE PERSONAL DATA	8. Name of Female		(First)	(Middle)	(Last)	Maiden name if different		9. Race
	KATHLEEN AUDREY CRACE		SMITH		W
	10. Usual Residence of Female		(City or Town)	(County)	(State)	11A. DATE OF BIRTH		11B. AGE
607-A, Midway Dr.,		S.S.S., Ocala,		Fl	01/02/57		22
12. NUMBER OF THIS MARRIAGE		13A. LAST MARRIAGE ENDED BY		IF PREVIOUSLY MARRIED SPECIFY BY DEATH DIVORCE OR ANNULLMENT	13B. DATE LAST MARRIAGE ENDED		14. STATE OF BIRTH (IF NOT IN U.S.A. NAME COUNTRY)
2		divorce		Jan 6, 1978		Penn
WE THE APPLICANTS NAMED IN THIS CERTIFICATE, EACH FOR HIMSELF, STATE THAT THE FOREGOING INFORMATION IS CORRECT TO THE BEST OF OUR KNOWLEDGE AND BELIEF, THAT NO LEGAL OBJECTION TO THE MARRIAGE NOR TO THE ISSUANCE OF A LICENSE TO AUTHORIZE THE SAME IS KNOWN TO US AND HEREBY APPLY FOR LICENSE TO MARRY.
15. Male (Sign full name)		Wolfgang Walter Halbig			19. Female (Sign full name)		Kathleen Audrey Grace
16. Subscribed and sworn to before me on:		March 30, 1979			17. Title		Deputy Clerk
18. Signature		Rita Deegan			20. Subscribed and sworn to before me on:		March 30, 1979
21. Title		Deputy Clerk			22. Signature		Rita Deegan
LICENSE TO MARRY				CERTIFICATE OF MARRIAGE
AUTHORIZATION AND LICENSE IS HEREBY GIVEN TO ANY PERSON DULY AUTHORIZED BY THE LAWS OF THE STATE OF FLORIDA TO PERFORM A MARRIAGE CEREMONY WITHIN THE STATE OF FLORIDA AND TO SOLEMNIZE THE MARRIAGE OF THE ABOVE NAMED PERSONS.				23. DATE LICENSE ISSUED		27. I HEREBY CERTIFY THAT THE ABOVE NAMED BRIDE AND GROOM WERE JOINED BY ME IN MARRIAGE IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE LAWS OF THE STATE OF FLORIDA.
				04/10/79		ON April 14, 1979
				24. EXPIRATION DATE		Ocala
				05/10/79		FLORIDA
						DATE CITY OR TOWN

April 14, 1979 - Wolfgang Walter Halbig marries Kathleen Audrey Grace

May 9 1979 A blurb in the Ocala Star-Banner explains Wolfgang's recent employment history (RIGHT).

It is reporting that, after being abruptly and publicly fired from Lake Weir High School, Halbig was transferred to Lake Weir Middle School.

Wolfgang then received a coaching offer (apparently bumped back down to defensive coordinator) from Forest High School in Ocala which he tentatively accepted and worked at for one week before changing back to Vanguard High School, where he is expected to start as an assistant coach.

Concerning the coaching position at Vanguard, Wolfgang would later claim in his deposition that "I was told I had the job."

The continuing saga of Wolfgang Halbig has taken some more turns within the last few weeks

When we last visited, Halbig was fired as head football coach at Lake Weir and was transferred to Lake Weir Middle School.

Since then, he has married and was offered a coaching job at Forest. He tentatively accepted the job at Forest working with the linebackers. He worked with the Forest football team for a week but has since crossed town to return to Vanguard.

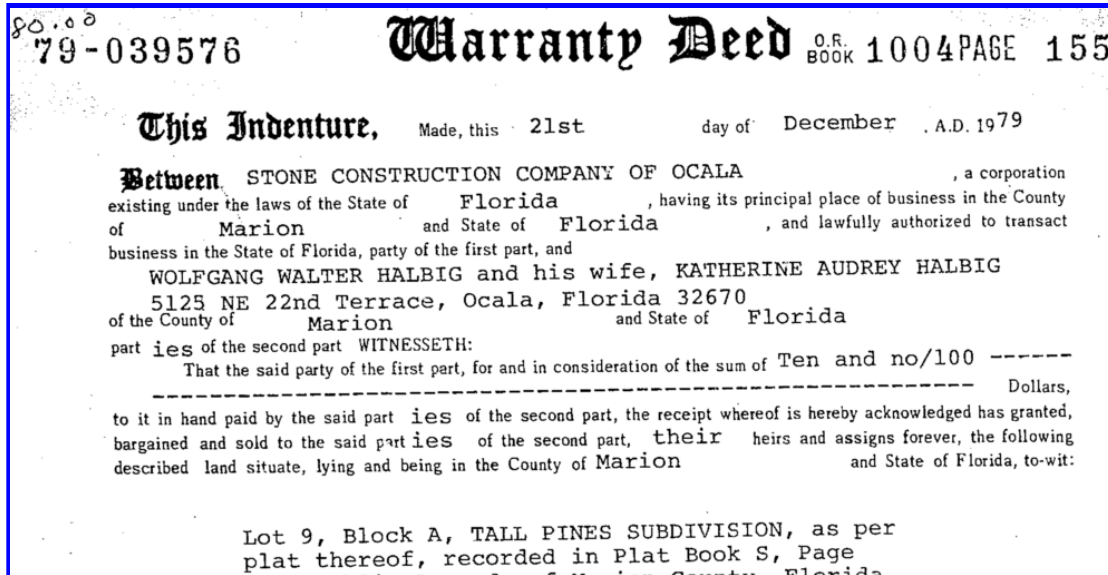

It seems that there was no teaching position available at Forest while there is one at Vanguard. Halbig was hired as an assistant at Vanguard.

You may recall that Halbig was an assistant to Tom Freeman two years ago when the Knights won the district title. He left Vanguard to take the head coaching job at Lake Weir.

As the world turns....

• • •

Dec 21 1979: The Halbigs purchase property in the Tall Pines development. Wolfgang would later describe this property as “a home for our first son to be born.”

1980

May 5, 1980: Wolfgang’s first son, Erik Halbig, is born.

According to Wolfgang, it is around this time that his selection by Vanguard High School as “head coach” (assistant coach according to the Ocala Star-Banner) is rescinded. In his deposition, Wolfgang asserts that this was the result of yet another shadowy conspiracy at work, this time at the school board (RIGHT).

NOTE: Wolfgang in 2012 also apparently believes he was transferred to Lake Weir Middle School from Ocala Vanguard, when according to the May 9 1979 article he was actually reassigned to Lake Weir Middle after being fired from Lake Weir High, not Vanguard High. He may be having trouble keeping track of his rapidly accumulating collection of humiliating professional blunders.

8	A	I was reassigned to Lake weir Middle School.
9	Q	From --
10	A	From Ocala Vanguard.
11	Q	And why?
12	A	The principal at the time, Henry Lambert, Dr.
13		Henry Lambert, offered me the head coaching job at Ocala
14		Vanguard, head football coaching job; so my wife and I
15		bought a home for our first son to be born and I'd made all
16		these financial commitments, and then after we purchased a
17		home, the principal told me that the decision was taken out
18		of his hand, and he apologized. He said, "I'm sorry,
19		Wolfgang, but they took it out of my hands." And it was
20		very frustrating to me 'cause we just made this financial
21		commitment; otherwise, I wouldn't have done it.
22	Q	So you transferred to --
23	A	No, I didn't transfer. I questioned the
24		superintendent as to why he would do that and the answer is,
25		"None of your business." And he thought since he appointed

October 27 1980: "Vanguard Teacher Battles for Driver's Ed": Halbig is "currently teaching driver education" at Vanguard High School, and "embarks on a crusade" to make driver's education mandatory, after the State of Florida lifted the requirement. He cites one reason why driver's education (the class he teaches, and thus his meal ticket) should be required: the safety of school children. His experience as a State Trooper is cited to add credibility to his sales pitch. [\[LINK\]](#) asks people involved in accidents if they have ever had driver education.

DAVID COOK
Managing Editor

Byline

"Who keeps statistics on the number of accidents that never happened because some driver drew on his knowledge of defensive driving to avoid a collision?" he asked.

The answer, of course, is that nobody does. There simply is no way to gather statistics to show that driver education has been successful over the years. Common sense tells you, however, that teaching kids to drive properly has to be helpful in preventing accidents.

As Halbig sees it, driver education is one of the most important courses that a youngster can take in high school because it will serve him the rest of his life. There is no question about that.

Driver education not only attempts to teach youngsters the rudiments of vehicle operation but also tries to install the right attitudes a person should have while driving a car.

A mistake in a car easily could cause an accident that might maim or kill somebody, Halbig said. Driver education tries to help students avoid mistakes that lead to accidents.

The change in the law hasn't meant to end of driver education in Marion County. About 1,400 students are taught in the courses offered through the high schools each year.

What has happened, according to Halbig and his supervisor, Tom Holton, is that the students are aware that they don't have to pass the course to get a driver's license. So, some don't try as hard to pass the course.

Halbig is concerned, too, because driver education has become optional with school boards. Some counties have just about done away with it, and he thinks that is bad.

His experience as a highway patrolman has shown him first hand the death and destruction that takes place on our highways. He has practical experience that shows him the value and need for driver education. Surely he must be frustrated when he runs into that wall of opposition -- or indifference -- put up by legislators.

With the backing and support of Holton, Halbig is seeking help from individuals and civic organizations in promoting the return of mandatory driver education. I hope he is successful in getting the help he needs and that the law is rewritten in next year's session of the Legislature.

Perhaps Graham will take another look at the highway carnage around the state and agree that a little education might help prevent some of it.

1981

March 2nd 1981: Proposal Seeks Drivers Education For Those Under 18 - A follow-up to the October 27 1980 story about driver's education notes that Halbig has managed to get a proposed bill in front of the Florida legislature. The writer, David Cook, is once again praising Halbig [\[LINK\]](#):

"You see, Halbig has personal experience on the road as a member of the Florida Highway Patrol for a couple of years, and as a teacher of driver education in our schools. He's seen the mangled bodies of teenage drivers who didn't know how to handle their vehicles in an emergency, because they had never been taught defensive driving.

Proposal Seeks Drivers Educc

Wolfgang Halbig, the driver education teacher at Vanguard High School who I wrote about some months ago, has reason for a small celebration. There's a bill before the Florida Legislature to require driver education before anyone under 18 years of age can get a driver's license.

That's what Halbig, a former highway patrolman, has been working for so tirelessly for quite some time now.

Of course, the introduction of a bill doesn't mean success. Halbig is fully aware that the biggest battle is yet to come and that many minds must be changed in the Legislature if success is to be achieved.

He knows the major opposition to mandatory driver education is in the Senate where our present governor, Bob Graham, led the fight several years ago to remove a requirement that teenagers undergo driver education before getting a driver's license.

The bill scheduled for hearing before the House Transportation Committee this month was introduced by Rep. Betty Easley of Clearwater. It may get through the House, if enough people work hard enough to convince a majority of representatives that driver education has a direct correlation to highway accidents and traffic deaths involving teenage drivers.

A rough road awaits the bill in the Senate where senators seem to have the misguided idea that driver education doesn't do much good.

Like you, I've seen those stories during the past few years that claim driver education has not worked and should not be required of teenagers before they get a driver's license. There are some senators who believe them; I don't, and neither does Halbig.

DAVID COOK
Managing Editor

Byline

You see, Halbig has personal experience on the road as a member of the Florida Highway Patrol for a couple of years and as a teacher of driver education in our schools. He's seen the mangled bodies of teenage drivers who didn't know how to handle their vehicles in an emergency, because they had never been taught defensive driving.

As a teacher, he's seen the difference that his course makes in a teenager who wants to learn to drive properly. He's seen the differ-

Mar 19 1981: short newspaper mention of Halbig's past at Abilene Christian College. [\[LINK\]](#)

1982

Feb 2 1982 - "Racquetball is Growing" - Halbig is quoted. He is described as an instructor at the "Fontainebleau Racquet Club in Ocala."

[\[LINK\]](#)

May 10 1982 Halbig apparently gets the school district to expand driver's ed to include motorcycles, thus increasing his own employability.

[\[LINK\]](#)

March 25, 1982: News article notes that Wolfgang has filed to campaign for a seat on the Marion County school board, district 5. He is listed as a Democrat.

[\[LINK\]](#)

Wolfgang Halbig is latest to file papers

He is the eighth person to file papers, naming a campaign treasurer and identifying the location of a campaign treasury with the elections office.

The first primary will be held Sept. 7. If a runoff is necessary, the second primary will be Oct. 5. The general election will be Nov. 2.

To win a primary or a seat on the board, a candidate must capture more than 50 percent of the vote.

Three board seats are up for vote in the fall election. To be contested is the District 4 seat held by Carole Parrish, the District 5 seat held by Lamar Luffman, and the District 3 seat held by Sam Mansfield.

Halbig, 36, a Democrat, has indicated he will campaign for the District 5 seat. He resides at 5125 N.E. 22nd Terrace in Ocala. Named as his campaign treasurer is Nancy Werhner.

Wolfgang Halbig, 36, a teacher at Vanguard High School, said the school board has an "obligation to young people" to provide a quality education. "Why did 50 percent (of the black students) fail? They do not know the basic skills," he said.

He recalled his own experience of moving to Florida from Germany at the age of 13. He did not know English, but moved through the school system by playing football. When it came time to attend college, Halbig said, he did not have the grades.

"The school board is responsible. They have to answer to you. They had their chance; now it's time to put a teacher in there who knows the needs" of local students, Halbig said.

"People want to know what I stand for," Halbig said. "I stand for young people."

August 26 1982 Candidates Call for Increased Education

- [\[LINK\]](#) Wolfgang is observed participating in a political forum at the local funeral home. The reporter documents how, when it came Wolfgang's time to address the predominantly black audience, Halbig urged them to support him, though was vague on what exactly he plans to do if he were given power:

"The school board is responsible. They have to answer to you. They had their chance; now it's time to put a teacher in there who knows the needs" of local students," Halbig said.

"People want to know what I stand for," Halbig said. "I stand for young people."

September 7 1982: Teacher, Two Women Are Injured Newspaper article reports "Vanguard Teacher" Wolfgang Halbig was in a car accident (it does not appear that the accident was Halbig's fault.) The article also mentions that "Halbig was an unsuccessful candidate in the primary election earlier this month for a seat on the Marion County School Board." (RIGHT)

Halbig sues the other driver's insurance company, and the suit is eventually settled out of court.

Summer 1983: End of school year. This marks the end of the period that Wolfgang Halbig lists on his resume under simply "Vanguard High School, Teacher/Coach, 1975-1983" but in fact appears to have unfolded in a more complex series of shorter tenures within the county. At least one of the moves was as result of Halbig being fired in disgrace:

1. Fall 1975 - Summer 1977: Lake Weir High (two years)
2. Fall 1977 - March 1978: Vanguard (less than one year)
3. March 1978-January 1979: Lake Weir High (less than one year)
4. January 1979 - ??? 1979: Lake Weir Middle (less than one year)
5. ??? - ??? 1979: Forest High School (one week)
6. May 1979 - April 1983: Vanguard High School (four years)

2012 Wolfgang says:

4	Q	How long did you work with the Highlands County
5		School Board in any capacity?
6	A	Three years.
7	Q	So from about 1983 till about 1986?
8	A	Correct.
9	Q	And always did you work at Sebring High School?
10	A	Two years at Sebring High School, one year at Avon
11		Park High School.

Teacher, Two Women Are Injured

A Vanguard High School teacher is reported in fair condition today at Munroe Regional Medical Center, following an accident at Northeast 35th Avenue and Old U.S. 301.

Two Ocala women were also injured in the weekend accident, but apparently less seriously.

Wolfgang Halbig, 36, of 5125 N.E. 22nd Terrace, was injured when one of two cars in a collision Saturday struck his car.

Halbig was an unsuccessful candidate in the first primary election earlier this month for a seat on the Marion County School Board.

In the car were his wife, Kathy Halbig, 25, and two children, Eric, 2, and Karl, 1. Halbig was admitted to Munroe, suffering from chest pains, troopers said.

Also injured were Gladys Parry Hall, 58, of 4625 N.E. 10th St., and Brenda C. Bibb, 31, of 4941 N.E. 22nd Terrace, both of Ocala.

Robertson said a 1980 sedan driven by Mrs. Hall was traveling east on Northeast 35th Avenue and crossed Old U.S. 301, into the path of a 1981 sedan driven by Mrs. Bibb.

The resulting collision, according to troopers, knocked one of the vehicles into the path of a 1981 sedan driven by Halbig.

Chapter 4: the Lost Years

Mystery at Sebring High

1983

January 14, 1983: Group Appeals to Legislature For New Song - An article about citizens attending a legislative session at Ocala City Hall that week. One of the attendees is Wolfgang Halbig.

It is again noted that Wolfgang's run for Marion County School Board was unsuccessful. He is described as a "former Florida Highway Patrol trooper," and it is recorded that he "served on the blue ribbon traffic committee," showing a presumably strong dedication to the principles of traffic safety at all times.

At the legislative session, Wolfgang observes that since driver's ed is no longer required, school boards look to it when budget cuts are needed (thus impacting his job prospects.) He also pushes for "more strict fines for people who violate the law," possibly to recoup the expense of paying his salary. [\[LINK\]](#)

April 6 1983 "Halbig Accepts Sebring Offer" Halbig accepts the head coaching assignment at Sebring high, and thus is transitioning from Vanguard High School to Sebring High. Article notes that Halbig has "been out of coaching for two years" but was defensive coordinator at Lake Brantley and Lake Weir. [\[LINK\]](#) (RIGHT)

Investigators note that this position (head football coach at Sebring High School) is the same position that Halbig had inquired about while working at Lake Weir four years earlier leading directly to his being fired. At the time, he claimed he was not looking for a job at Sebring; the school was looking for someone older. At the same time, he was demanding "enthusiasm, dedication, and loyalty" from his players.

Halbig Accepts Sebring Offer

By VINCE MURRAY
Assistant Sports Editor

Halbig

Ocala's Wolfgang Halbig, currently a teacher at Vanguard High School, has accepted the head football coaching assignment at Sebring High.

Halbig, who served as defensive coordinator at Lake Brantley and Lake Weir High, was one of 19 candidates to apply for the Sebring post.

"I feel like I really accomplished something considering 19 people applied for the job," said Halbig.

But he realizes there is much more work to be done.

"The Highlands County community isn't as strong athletically as Marion County," said Halbig. "But Sebring is a good opportunity. It's a Class AAA school with lots of talent if someone will just go in there and work hard."

Halbig will have plenty of work to do — especially during spring practice.

"I'll commute on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays and stay down for two-a-days on Saturday," said Halbig. "We'll have a 20-day workout schedule and get in a spring game. It will be mostly teaching."

Halbig, 35, figured it was time to make a move.

"It's a good opportunity," said Halbig. "I've been out of coaching two years and I figured it was time to get back into it."

"It's a lot like Leesburg, a one-school community. I feel like I'm good at motivating people — getting people to support the program."

Halbig will make the permanent move in June.

"I'll move down in June and get a weight program going," said Halbig. "I'll try to get the community leaders involved in the booster club and try to get a quarterback club going."

"I hate to leave Marion County," added Halbig. "I've met a lot of nice people here. But this is a great opportunity. It's just time to move on."

Question #4 Wolfgang MUST answer: Why don't you include your stint at Sebring High anywhere on your resume? You completely leave out 1983-1985 in your career, why is that?

While at Sebring, Wolfgang suffers a nasty fall, causing him to take "a lot of medication":

6 cleared the field and I was trying to get off the bleachers
7 as quickly as possible, and I slipped all the way down the 8 bleachers. And I did file a workers' comp.
9 Q So you slipped from the top row down to the bottom
10 row?
11 A Not all the way down. Probably five, six rows
12 down.
13 Q what injuries did you receive?
14 A I injured my lower back.
15 Q And what was the nature of the injury?
16 A Severe bruising, muscle spasms, 'cause they put me
17 on one of those electrode things, stimulating machines, for 18 about four months.
19 Q Yes, sir.
20 A And a lot of medication.

1983-1985 THE TRUTH ACCORDING TO WOLFGANG:

Master of Science
Administration and Supervision, 1985, Nova University
Fort Lauderdale, FL

1983-1984 Academic year: Wolf attends the Gainesville, Florida satellite campus of Nova University according to his 2012 deposition.

Nov 23rd 1983: The Halbigs sell the Tall Pines property.

REC. 5,00 THIS INSTRUMENT WAS PREPARED BY:
D.S. 127.25 Florida Title & Abstract Company
S.T. _____ 23 N. Magnolia Ave., Ocala, Fl.
Barbara Flannigan 83-10-317

Warranty Deed

83-056366 D.R. BOOK 1189 PAGE 0891

This Indenture, Made the 28th day of November A.D. 1983, Between WOLFGANG WALTER HALBIG and his wife, KATHERINE AUDREY HALBIG a/k/a KATHLEEN AUDREY HALBIG hereinafter called the grantor*, and JOHN R. GRANT and his wife, KAREN R. GRANT whose mailing address is 5125 N.E. 22nd Terrace, Ocala, Fla. 32670 hereinafter called the grantee*.

Witnesseth, That said grantor, for and in consideration of the sum of -----TEN----- ($10.00)----- Dollars, and other good and valuable considerations to said grantor in hand paid by said grantee, the receipt whereof is

1986

December 12, 1986: News story mentions Wolfgang Halbig as "Lake Brantley Coach" apparently for girls's soccer. [\[LINK\]](#)

1987

February 25, 1987: Lake Brantley, Lake Mary, Lyman Stars Dominate Sac - Wolfgang's coaching fortunes have improved at Lake Brantley, and Halbig is even " named coach of the year for his team winning the conference." [\[LINK\]](#)

1988

September 8 1988: An article notes that Halbig, in the 1970's, was playing volleyball for the Air Force, experience that is coming in handy as Wolfgang is beginning coaching girls volleyball at Lake Brantley. [\[LINK\]](#)

More assorted sports coverage: [\[LINK\]](#) Sun-Sentinel [\[LINK 2\]](#) Orlando Sentinel

1989

April 28 1989: - Schaefer New Soccer Coach At Lake Brantley [\[LINK\]](#)

John Schaefer has been named the girls soccer coach at Lake Brantley High School. Schaefer replaces Wolfgang Halbig who resigned to go into administration. Halbig coached the Patriots for the past two seasons, leading them to the district title two years ago.

1990

1990-1993 THE TRUTH ACCORDING TO WOLFGANG:

Assistant Principal, Lyman High School, 1990-1993

- Managed the school plant facilities, provided for a safe, healthy learning and working environment by evaluating needs, identifying and selecting appropriate services and personnel, implementing preventative day-to-day maintenance and cleaning schedules and directing personnel
- Served as an evaluator on the Southern Association for Colleges and Schools for the ten year study at Evans High School
- Administrator responsible for discipline, drop-out prevention, in-school suspension, Physical Education, Life Management, Drivers Education, school security and School Resource Officers Program
- Coordinated air-conditioning replacement as well as asbestos abatement throughout Lyman High School
 - Directed and developed plans for improving the quality of athletic playing fields
- Developed a committee to prepare a video for staff development regarding violence in schools by bringing together a school board member, the teachers union, school administration and the Sheriff's office

Chapter 5: Splitsville

1991

Wolfgang Halbig is working at Lyman High School as Assistant Principal during this time.

1992

June 21, 1992: Schools, Parents Debate Proposed

Anti-drug Policy [\[LINK\]](#) Wolfgang is quoted in an article about curbing teen alcohol use, foreshadowing a thread that will become prominent in his own family life in the years to come:

School Board members want a countywide policy because they say there is a serious alcohol and drug problem in the district. High school officials routinely snag fliers on campuses announcing keg parties and overhear stories in hallways about weekend drinking binges.

"I've taken about 35 fliers this year talking about a big keg party," said Wolfgang Halbig, assistant principal at Lyman High School in Longwood. "How do you prevent this? Do we turn our backs or get involved?"

August 12, 1992: A temporary relief is recorded relating to the marriage of Wolfgang and Kathleen Halbig. This indicates that a divorce has been initiated.

Document Detail

Pursuant to Florida law, this document is not available for viewing on the internet.

Type: 0

File Number 1992-310685

Date/Time: 8/12/92 08:06:00

Book Type: 0

Book/Page: 2463/667

Pages: 0

Consideration: $0.00

Legal 1: TEMP RELIEF

Legal 2:

Grantors: HALBIG, KATHLEEN S
HALBIG, WOLFGANG W

Grantees: RE MARRIAGE

Investigators have been unable to 100% confirm any of the theories as to why the Halbigs ended their marriage at this point in time, however it is noted in records that the divorce was initiated by Kathleen Halbig.

November 25, 1992 Stun Gun Could Mean Expulsion For Student [\[LINK\]](#)

Another article from the Orlando Sentinel, this time about a student being caught with a "stun gun" at his school, quotes "Lyman Assistant Principal Wolfgang Halbig." Halbig, who had no independently documented involvement with school security before this event, takes special note that a student called the school to report the danger:

Halbig, who once worked as a state trooper in Miami, said the electric device can really zap a person. "It can really hurt you and cause serious damage," he said. "It's not something you bring to school." He was heartened that the tip came from students. "They didn't want to see anyone else get hurt," he said. "There are a lot of good kids who are really getting sick of all this."

1993

February 3, 1993: The Halbigs divorce.

IN RE: The Marriage of KATHLEEN S. HALBIG, Petitioner/Wife,
and
WOLFGANG W. HALBIG,
Respondent/Husband.

FINAL JUDGMENT OF DISSOLUTION OF MARRIAGE

THIS CAUSE having come on for final hearing February 3, 1993 upon the Wife's Petition for Dissolution of Marriage, and the Court, finds as follows:

1. That it has jurisdiction of the parties and the subject matter herein.
2. That the Wife has been a resident of the State of Florida for more than six (6) months next prior to the filing of her Petition, and that her residence has been corroborated by a witness.
3. That the marriage between the parties is irretrievably broken.

FILED IN OFFICE
MARYANNE MORSE
CLERK CIRCUIT COURT
93 FEB 11 PM 2:31
SEMINOLE COUNTY, FLA.
D.C.

OFFICIAL RECORDS
BOOK PAGE
546 0390
CLERK OF CIRCUIT COURT
SEMINOLE COUNTY, FL
38421A
REI

Question #6 Wolfgang Halbig MUST answer: Why did you and your wife get a divorce? What happened? Did one of you have an affair? Was it because of your career? Your mental state? Why won't you answer these simple questions?

May 23, 1993: School District Studies Expulsion Alternatives - Article about alternative schools quotes Wolfgang, who is still identified as "assistant principal at Lyman High School" and a member of a task force that presented their recommendations to the school board that week. [\[LINK\]](#)

"These kids are becoming too aggressive. They aren't afraid to get in your face," said Wolfgang Halbig, assistant principal at Lyman High School and a member of the task force.

1993-1994 School Year: Wolfgang is transferred to Lake Mary High School, where he stays for one year. At some point during this year as Assistant Principal, Wolfgang meets Brian Marcum, a resource officer at the school who previously had worked for U.S. Customs.

1993-1994 THE TRUTH ACCORDING TO WOLFGANG:

Assistant Principal - Lake Mary High School, 1993-1994

2012 Wolfgang says:

13	Q	And why did you leave Lyman High school?
14	A	I was transferred to Lake Mary high school.
15	Q	In what capacity?
16	A	Assistant principal.

1993-1994 THE TRUTH ACCORDING TO WOLFGANG:

United States Customs Customs Inspector, 1993-1994

- United States Customs Inspector, Orlando International & Sanford Orlando International
- Worked with foreign and American travelers in inspection duties at International Airports

I appreciate the time. Thank you.
Mr. ZELIFF. Thank you. Mr. Wolfgang Halbig.
Mr. HALBIG. Thank you, Mr. Chairman.
The part that I would like to speak about is the protection of our school systems across our country that we are seeing. A little background, I have been a State trooper in Miami for several years, I have been a teacher, a school administrator, and I worked part time for U.S. Customs. So I know what is happening and keep up with the latest information on the drug flow in our area.
What I would like to do this morning. You are here to look at the report from the front line. What I want to do this morning is show you an example of how difficult our job is at the front line. And I would like for Representative Souder to come down, I am going to promote him to assistant principal. I would like for you to see how difficult our job is as administrators in dealing with drugs on public school campuses—not just in central Florida but throughout the whole United States.

Question #7 Wolfgang Halbig MUST answer: Why have you been touting your experience as a U.S. Customs Inspector for more than twenty years, when you know that it was an entry-level part-time job at an airport, lasting one year at most?

QUADRO TRACKER (1993-1996)

Initially marketed as a golf ball finder for US$20, it was soon advertised as being able to detect a range of substances and even missing persons, and the price shot up to $8,000. The device was sold to schools and even some local police departments in the US, until the FBI found it to be a fraud and banned it in January, 1996.

Chapter 6: Quadro Sinko

1994-1995 THE TRUTH ACCORDING TO WOLFGANG:

*Seminole County Public Schools
Project Director/School Principal and Co-Designer of Project Excel, 1994-1995*

1994

March 29 1994 Wolf is noted as being the principal of Excel, "the district's new alternative high school for disruptive students." In this role, he brings "US Customs Inspectors" to the school, who in turn bring along drug-sniffing dogs, just like a person named Brian Marcum was working with at this time. [\[LINK\]](#)

Wolfgang Halbig, principal of Excel, the district's new alternative high school for disruptive students, did the frisking lesson. He's a former U.S. Customs agent and still works part time at that. The lesson was an eye-opener. Using a student stand-in dressed in typical teen garb and calling on experience as a former assistant high school principal - discipline chief, that is - he proceeded to unload an inventory of illegal objects. The list included three guns, several knives, two sets of brass knuckles, a marijuana pipe, a pager and pack of LSD.

[...]

It should be emphasized that only a very small percentage of students bring weapons to the campus; by far a majority of students are law-abiding and attend to learn. What is distressing, though, is that the number of disruptive students grows each year, and the audacity of their conduct worsens.

Halbig, who has been teaching and administrating for 18 years, says the problem grows. "They are more aggressive, more rude, more disrespectful each year."

September 7, 1994: Parks Open Later to Reduce Traffic, Crime - An Orlando Sentinel report claims that a park near Wolfgang's school is opening two hours later now, due to the plague of student crime. [\[LINK\]](#)

After getting dropped off, some students congregated at the park instead of walking straight to school, said school district security director Wolfgang Halbig. Students also have used the park as a parking lot.

Halbig said he was also concerned about students being targets for drug-dealing and other crimes.

"They're a captive audience," he said.

December 4, 1994: Teachers May Get Rap Sheets On Serious Offenders

Wolfgang Halbig, security director for Seminole schools, said teachers deserve to know what they are up against. But he also hopes the information is not used to label students as doomed for trouble. Some can be saved if they are identified and properly handled, he said.

"You need to look at the whole child," Halbig said. "The first time he ran into trouble. His reading score. The family situation. Don't let a felony determine who the kid is."

1995-1999 THE TRUTH ACCORDING TO WOLFGANG:

Seminole County Public Schools
Director of Safety and Security, 1995-1999

1995

May 7, 1995: Some Swear By Device, Others Scoff - This is the first instance investigators have found and confirmed where Halbig is associated with a truly unbelievable product often called the Quadro Tracker. This fantasy technology promises to be able to locate any item - including illicit drugs, explosives, and firearms - in a given physical space. Even at this early stage, it is noted that many are very skeptical about the device's legitimacy, but Wolfgang Halbig is unequivocally enthusiastic about the potential for this invention to improve his standing as security director for Seminole County Schools. [\[LINK\]](#)

As fiercely as some believe the gadget is nothing more than a modern-day divining rod, some who have practiced taking smooth steps with the device in hand - taking care not to disturb the magnetic field that surrounds their body - are believers.

Wolfgang Halbig, security director for the Seminole County school district, said he wants to buy at least one tracker for each of the district's 50 schools, to rid them of drugs and guns.

"We are going to purchase it, I want you to know that," he said. Halbig said he learned of the tracker when Quadro's distributors asked him to test the device and give an honest opinion.

Halbig said other people who were contacted by Quadro's representatives scoffed openly at the device, but he is adamant that it will "slow down kids bringing drugs to school."

May 14 1995: "Quadro Tracker" letter to the editor is published in the Orlando Sentinel, expressing concern over Halbig's intent to buy these sham products:

http://articles.orlandosentinel.com/1995-05-14/news/9505120391_1_tracker-quadro-seminole

REGARDING "SOME swear by device, others scoff" in the May 7 Seminole Extra, Seminole County school security director Wolfgang Halbig wants to buy 50 "drug-sniffing" electronic Quadro Trackers. My calculations say he would spend at least $19,750 of Seminole County taxpayers' money for a device that the maker is afraid to patent and that uses "voodoo" to find contraband with a method the maker can't clearly explain. The U.S. Customs Service even tested it: The Quadro Tracker doesn't work.

Mr. Halbig: Don't buy the Quadro Tracker and engage in fraud, waste and abuse of taxpayer money. If you want to find drugs in the schools, use dogs.

Question #8 Wolfgang Halbig MUST answer: Why didn't you know the Quadro Tracker was a fraud, since the U.S. Customs Service knew that, and you frequently tout your experience working for U.S. Customs? Why are you trying to sell a phoney bomb detector to the school you work at? What if there really was a bomb?

May 14, 1995: Another letter mocking Wolfgang for believing the Quadro Tracker is published. The author of the letter, identified as Clarence R. Keller, displays an extremely low opinion of Halbig's judgment. [\[LINK\]](#)

*And How About A Good Deal On A Bridge In Brooklyn?
OPINION - Letters to the Editor
May 14, 1995*

QUICK, HOW can I get in touch with Wolfgang Halbig, security director for the Seminole County school district? He wants to buy 50 "magic" drug-tracking devices to use in district schools at a cost approaching $50,000.

Tell him I've got a digitalized divining rod that's guaranteed to find buried gold deposits under school properties. But he's got to act fast. At the introductory price of $500 per, they're selling like hotcakes! Quick! Get me in touch with this guy!

1995 - (current) THE TRUTH ACCORDING TO WOLFGANG:

National School and Workplace Safety Consultant Expert Witness, Risk Assessments, 1995 - current

July 9, 1995: Principals Question Method Used To Report Misbehavior - Wolfgang is interviewed for an article about the rise in violence at a school in his district, during his tenure. In it, he tries to argue that all of the other schools are lying about their stats and he just looks bad for being honest. However, he ultimately concedes that the school he is responsible for securing is plagued by seemingly endless violence. [\[LINK\]](#)

Wolfgang Halbig, the school district's director of security, agrees that the statistics don't seem complete. "You have to ask, are all other schools putting in all their data? I know they're not." Still, Halbig said, "When you have a school that has 300 fights, you need to look at what's causing these fights and what we can do resolve it. That's a lot of fights."

August 7, 1995: Report Targets School Crime - Article reports that Halbig is still resisting the statistical proof that his school is a dangerous place, while at the same time claiming to be implementing measures to curb the bloodshed. Halbig also notes that a system of audio monitoring is already in effect. [\[LINK\]](#)

Teachers will be offered new training on aggressive behavior management, such as how to break up a fight and how to handle an assault.

"We hear that it's more and more difficult, and there are more and more incidents that arise," Parker said. As state law requires, teachers and principals will now be alerted to any students involved in the juvenile justice system.

*- More security equipment will be installed. Audio detection devices, which pick up voices and other sounds during a break-in, are already in county high schools, Halbig said.

August 20, 1995 - In Schools, Cost Of Crime Also Measured In Dollars - An article about the expensive security system Wolfgang has purchased for the school, and how ineffective it is. [\[LINK\]](#)

In addition, says Wolfgang Halbig, chief of school security, there are burglar alarms, video cameras, detection devices and fenced campuses, all to guard against theft and mayhem in the schools.

Mr. Halbig says the money being spent is all school money, money that can't be spent for teachers, books, supplies, more classrooms. Even so, many thousands of dollars in property is stolen or vandalized each year.

October 15, 1995: "Discipline, Violence Worry Local Schools" - An article about the completely unrestrained growth of criminal gangs in the schools under Wolfgang's "protection." Wolfgang defends his actions by pointing out that he successfully purchased a great deal of expensive equipment and hired more private contractors. He then openly wonders why everyone in the school's administration hates him. It should be noted that one of the programs he champions is the "Save a Friend hotline" set up to receive tips, not unlike the November 5, 1992 stun gun tip. [\[LINK\]](#)

"I don't think we have a huge gang problem," Gorman said. "But this shows if we're not vigilant, if we don't quash it, this is what could happen on a widespread basis."

Security director Wolfgang Halbig cites a number of successes under his tenure, including the addition of new security officers at schools and the installation of more sophisticated security equipment.*

But he has encountered some frustrations as well, including a cool reception from several school administrators.

"Some have supported me," Halbig said. "Some have no support. They tell me I'm being overzealous or overreacting. There are some campuses where I feel uncomfortable because I don't feel welcome."

*And he said schools have been slower than he would like to promote such programs as "Save a Friend," a hot line that allows students to anonymously report weapons or other threats to safety.

Superintendent Paul Hagerty praised Halbig's efforts to increase safety consciousness. "He's made a lot of progress. He has a lot of good ideas and he's impatient. That's healthy," Hagerty said.

November 6, 1995 - Halbig is listed as an administrative contact on a hiring contract for a DARE officer.

(b) It is understood and agreed by the parties that no School Resource Officer. Officer shall be deemed an employee of the SCHOOL BOARD and that no officer or employee of the School Board shall be an employee of the Agency.

10. DESIGNATED CONTRACT ADMINISTRATOR:

a. For the School Board:

Wolfgang Halbig
Seminole County Public Schools
District Administrative Office
1211 Mellonville Avenue
Sanford, Florida 32771

1996

January 24, 1996: District To Hear Students' Views On Violence - Students attending Seminole County schools, for which Halbig is the is the director of security, organize a forum to discuss the ongoing and dangerous problem of violence in Seminole County schools. [\[LINK\]](#)

SANFORD — Seminole County students will get their say today on violence in schools.

About 40 high school students have been invited to a closed forum at school district offices in Sanford, sponsored by the district and the county's chambers of commerce.

*The purpose is to hear students' suggestions for coping with violence and school safety issues, said Wolfgang Halbig, director of security for Seminole schools.

A cross-section of students have been invited, Halbig said. "These are kids who are respected by their peers," he said. "We'll ask them, 'What do you see? What do you hear? What is happening? What can we do to help?' "

January 25, 1996: Drug, Weapon Tracker Yanked Off The Market - An article in the Orlando Sentinel describes how the "Quadro Tracker" has already been taken off the market as an obvious fraud. [\[LINK\]](#)

The ideomotor effect is the user's unconscious tendency to move the device, he says, just like using a Ouija board. The device appears to be working on its own, when in fact, the human is doing the work.

Randi of Fort Lauderdale said he and Seminole County school security director Wolfgang Halbig tested the device, and it worked only when Halbig knew where the hidden substance was.

When Halbig had no idea where the substance was hidden, nine times out of 10 the device pointed the wrong way, Randi said.

Halbig, who originally was an enthusiastic fan of the device, said schools everywhere are so eager to stop the flow of drugs and guns that the tracker seemed a godsend.

"It shows you how desperate we are," he said. "When someone tells you they've got this magic, it gets your attention. I'm just so glad we didn't buy it."

February 4, 1996: Hollywood Halbig - More attention is showered on Halbig, who is potentially to appear on an upcoming broadcast of the news magazine show Dateline NBC. The adulation is despite the fact that Halbig is scheduled to appear as an advocate for a fraudulent technology, this being the premise for the entire segment. http://articles.orlandosentinel.com/1996-02-04/news/9602011669_1_seminole-halbig-dateline

Wolfgang Halbig, director of security for Seminole schools, may appear in an upcoming broadcast of Dateline NBC.

The news magazine interviewed Halbig last year about a dubious hand-held device that is supposed to detect hidden drugs and weapons. He's been told the show will air later this month.

Halbig told Dateline he considered buying the $1,000 device, made by the Quadro Corp., until independent tests proved it was not reliable. Since then the FBI has called the device a fraud. A memorable exchange that may not make the NBC show:

Reporter: "If you could convince the kids you had some kind of psychic power, could you walk down this hall with a stick and do the same thing (as the tracker)?"

Halbig: "I don't think I can convince them I have psychic powers."

February 13, 1996: Sales Of Drug Detector Sidetracked - The Quadro Tracker is reported to have come under official investigative scrutiny, placing one Wolfgang W Halbig in an undesirable position. [\[LINK\]](#)

The Quadro Tracker is a magic wand to some, mysteriously directing its handlers to hidden drugs and weapons. But to the FBI, it's nothing more than hocus-pocus.

"They really hooked us," Halbig said. "I mean, here's a police chief telling us this device is 100 percent accurate. I really thought we had something that could act as a deterrent."

"We were looking for magic," Halbig said. "It shows how desperate we are to find something that will make a difference in our schools."

March 24 1996: Students are Talking - Seminole County's forum (see January 26, 1996) to address "coping with violence and school safety issues" appears not to have resolved the lingering anxiety on Wolfgang's campus, as students publicly decry the lack of safety at their schools. [\[LINK\]](#)

Three actions on the part of safety officers are reported by young people to be troubling:

1. Students are victims of unfair stereotypes by adults.
2. Principals are too busy to listen to students.
3. Administrators follow students around without cause; especially students of color.

Lake Mary High School's newspaper, The Rampage, quoted one participant as saying school district security director Wolfgang Halbig "blew up" when the issue arose. "Director Halbig totally lost his composure over this," the student told the newspaper.

Halbig said last week he may have raised his voice but that he did not lose his temper.

"Teachers are losing their lives. Kids are losing their lives, and these kids are worried about being treated with respect," Halbig said. "They should be treated with respect, but my point was, they need to take responsibility for what is going on on campuses."

April 22, 1996 - Federal indictment against marketers of Quadro Tracker.

[\[LINK 1\]](#) [\[LINK 2\]](#) [\[LINK 3\]](#) [\[LINK 4\]](#)

UNITED STATES of America, Plaintiff, v. QUADRO CORPORATION, Wade L. Quattlebaum, Raymond L. Fisk, Malcolm S. Roe, Defendants. Civil Action No. 1:96CV38.

October 14, 1996: Report from the Front Line: The Drug Battle in Central Florida

A congressional session is held regarding the drug war in Florida, including Halbig's district. Halbig attends, and testifies that the headsets that children wear are particularly fortuitous avenues for smuggling contraband.

HEARING BEFORE THE SUBCOMMITTEE ON NATIONAL SECURITY, INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS, AND CRIMINAL JUSTICE OF THE COMMITTEE ON GOVERNMENT REFORM AND OVERSIGHT HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES ONE HUNDRED FOURTH CONGRESS SECOND SESSION OCTOBER 14, 1996

October 15, 1996: 'Drastic Solutions' On Drugs Called For

http://articles.orlandosentinel.com/1996-10-15/news/9610141210_1_drug-abuse-teenage-drug-drastic

Mr. HALBIG. Now he does a good job, because he is trying to keep him at ease. Does he not do a good job? He is talking with him, he is not putting him in a defensive mode. But look at his dress, look at the headsets. Do we allow headsets, do we allow hats in our schools? Do we allow bandannas? Do we allow them with their pants legs up? Those are gang activity signs. Where there are gangs, there are drugs, there are guns.

And again, we have to let them know that it is not acceptable. And I want you to know we take a tongue lashing many, many times. They will verbally abuse us and we are limited in what our scope is. But look at this, just the headset, this is all the stuff that we have taken off. Let us say you were to take this from him. These are kids who will wear these to school and look what is inside of them. We may assume that they are listening to music, but that is where they will put their rolling paper and their marijuana. And we as educators, that is our job, just like the young lady said, nobody dealt with it—you know, confidentiality, we cannot offend anybody. People are in denial. But again, look at this, there is the marijuana wrapping paper and here you have got the marijuana inside the headset.

If you look at the hat. A lot of times we will take the hats away and he is the assistant principal, he will take the hat and say look, you are not allowed to have it. But inside the headband, I want you to take a look, that is where they put their acid, their Rohypnol, they will put it inside the headband. Teachers have never ever been taught to look, because they are part of the stakeholders in the school system. They all have to get involved, but we have not been trained. But look at this, this is where your Rohypnol and acid is.

Mr. SOUDER. Am I allowed to do a search?

Mr. HALBIG. Now if you have suspicion, yes, you can. If you have reasonable suspicion—that is a good question. If I have reasonable suspicion, we can do it, but it stops when he does what? What if he says no, do not touch me? What is the next thing that you and I are going to do in trying to find out whether he has the drugs or not? Due process. The Supreme Court Justice, Mr. Thomas, talked about due process. These kids have too many rights, they have way too many rights and they know the rules and the way to play by the rules. They are killing us in public schools and we are losing the battle. And I want you to see how.

Educators, such as Wolfgang Halbig of Seminole County and Margie LaBarge of Orange County, threw some of the responsibility back in the lap of Congress. Federal law prohibits teachers in schools receiving federal drug education dollars from telling parents if their children have drug and alcohol problems, they said.

November 1996: Reason.com publishes an article "Box of Dreams" on the Quadro Tracker, a bunk drug detecting device. Halbig is featured, and described as having only barely avoided investing in the item for the school system, until skeptic James Randi debunked the device personally for him. Halbig is listed as "Director of Student Discipline" for Seminole County. <http://reason.com/archives/1996/11/01/box-of-dreams>

Maybe in the topsy-turvy world of an ultimately futile war against drugs, any old flimsy straw looks like a mighty log with which to build. Certainly, school officials who bought, or thought about buying, Quadro were really convinced it worked. Never mind that the "frequency chips" that had to be loaded in the Quadro (and cost hundreds of dollars extra per chip), which were said to be "oscillated by static electricity produced by the body inhaling and exhaling gases into and out of the lung cavity," were merely small photographic images of the search target, sealed in plastic.

But the Quadro boys were good salesmen. "It was a very exciting demonstration," admits Wolfgang Halbig. "I was excited." Halbig, director of student discipline for Seminole County in Florida, only narrowly averted wasting the school board's money on the device, through magical intervention of a sort.

*While using a Quadro on loan before purchase, he wandered around middle school hallways and parking lots, letting the antenna swing where it would. It reacted to a car driving into the school parking lot. Halbig is sensible about the subject--now, at least.

"I used to be a customs inspector. We tried to be rational. We knew the profile. Why would Quadro react to one bunch of kids and not to another? You see a car drive in with a bunch of kids. Windows closed. They're bouncing their heads. Next thing you know, you get them to admit, 'Hey, I was smoking marijuana this morning.'"The demonstration, and even some experience, made Halbig a believer. It took a magician to convince him that the Quadro Tracker's magic was just an illusion. "Just as I was ready to make a commitment to buy one, I got a call from this fellow named James Randi. He told me, 'Before you buy it, can I come up and show you a test?' I checked the guy out on the Internet."

Thus Halbig learned about James "the Amazing" Randi, professional magician and debunker extraordinaire. Through the generosity of some of his supporters, Randi has a standing offer to pay $624,000 to anyone who can conclusively demonstrate to his satisfaction any method or device that works by supernatural or extraphysical means. As a professional fakir, Randi is not easily fooled by others. Despite the plethora of the supposedly mystical in the world, no one has yet won Randi's booty.

Halbig let Randi supervise a double-blind test of the tracker. It didn't work. Later, Halbig began to wonder: Did the magician fool him? He tested it again, doing his own single-blind test in which he placed a bag of pot on a desk, and then put in different frequency chips without himself knowing what chip he was using. The Tracker failed. He similarly tested a colleague who had gone through extensive personal training in Harleyville with Quattlebaum. He failed too. The Quadro Tracker had lost a customer--a $49,000 customer, since Halbig had planned to buy one for every school in his district.

Chapter 7: Think of the Children

1997

Detailed Information for Case 1997SC000329
Case Number:	1997SC000329	Judge:	MARK E. HERR
Date Filed:	02/10/1997	Case Type:	CONTRACT/INDEBTED,ETC
Plaintiffs:		Defendants:
■ HALBIG,WOLFGANG ■ WESTFIELD INS CO ASO		■ LUDWIG,REBECCA ■ WILT,MILES
18	02/07/2000	CCIS	CERT COPY ISS'D AND FJ TO REC W/CK
11	01/07/2000	FLJT	FINAL JUDGMENT AS TO REBECCA LUDWIG ONLY $2699.42 1/6/2000 F
10	12/16/1999	ADFS	AFFIDAVIT IN DEFAULT OF STIPULATION

February 10 1997: Halbig collects on a debt.

February 21, 1997: Wolfgang Halbig gets his gun stolen by a student at his school http://articles.orlandosentinel.com/1997-02-21/news/9702201095_1_halbig-seminole-deputy-sheriffs

Police: Teen Sold Stolen Gun To Student

February 21, 1997|By Sharon McBreen of The Sentinel Staff

LONGWOOD — A gun stolen from the director of security at Seminole County schools has made its way into the hands of a high school student, deputy sheriffs said.

The irony is not lost on Wolfgang Halbig, whose Whisperwood home was burglarized last week. "My big concern is the firearms and shells (that were stolen)," Halbig said. "I didn't want anybody getting hurt. I mean, gosh, I'm the director of security."

Seminole deputy sheriffs arrested a 15-year-old Lake Brantley High School student after finding a box of Halbig's stolen belongings in the boy's home.

Question #9 Wolfgang Halbig MUST answer: How did that student get his hands on your firearm? You're a director of security for the school system and you let a student got ahold of your weapon? Why didn't you stop him? Who does that??

April 25, 1997: Boy Takes Loaded .357 To School - barely two months since Wolfgang's sidearm was stolen by a student, another student is found to have brought a gun onto the school campus that Wolfgang is supposedly responsible for securing. [\[LINK\]](#)

*"The thing I feel good about is, I'm glad the kids took the responsibility in stepping forward," said security director Wolfgang Halbig. "This is exactly what we expect of our young people."

July 14 1997: Kathy Halbig purchases the property at Lot 70, Cambridge Commons, AKA 1821 Cranberry Isles Way. She is "a single person" [\[LINK\]](#)

File Number: 99-491
Parcel ID #:
Grantee(s) SS #:
WARRANTY DEED (INDIVIDUAL)
This WARRANTY DEED, dated 07/14/1999
by	Recorded - Martha D. Haynie
ESTATE OF LADONN P. BENTON
whose post office address is:
1045 EUCILD AVE., APT. 5, MIAMI, FL. 33139 hereinafter called the GRANTOR, to KATHILEEN S. HALBIG, a single person whose post office address is:
1821 CRANBERRY ISLE APOPKA, FL 32712
hereinafter called the GRANTEE:
(Wherever used herein the terms "Grantor" and "Grantee" include all parties to this instrument and the heirs, legal representatives and assigns of individuals, and the successors and assigns of corporations.)
WITNESSETH: That the GRANTOR, for and in consideration of the sum of $10.00 and other valuable considerations, receipt whereof is hereby acknowledged, hereby grants, bargains, sells, aliens, remises, releases, conveys and confirms unto the GRANTEE, all that certain land situate in County, Florida, viz:
Lot 70, Cambridge Commons, according to the plat thereof as recorded in Plat Book 27, Page 108, Public Records of Orange County, Florida.

August 26 1997 <http://www.scps.k12.fl.us/PORTALS/53/assets/pdf/1997meetings/9997/Sbmints.pdf>

Dr. Kuhn congratulated Wolfgang Halbig for his appointment to the Safe and Drug Free Grant Task Force.

September 9, 1997: The Seminole County School Board records in their meeting minutes that one particular session attendee (potentially Richard Wells, who frequently attended) was aggressively pushing for "the inclusion of site based administrators and support administrators in future work sessions." [\[LINK\]](#)

The meeting minutes suggest that the rest of the board was reluctant to allow the inclusion of contractors to board meetings. They were brought in anyway.

Based on discussion at the last Board meeting by one of the members and in a continued effort to provide the Board with a broad source of information, the planning team and superintendent have discussed the inclusion of site based administrators and support administrators in future work sessions. In this manner, an added dimension might be provided through the viewpoint or perspective of our "front line" administrators.

The next work session which deals with Security and Safety will include an overview by Wolfgang Halbig followed by short security perspectives to be shared by an elementary, middle and high school principal. Other possible sessions might include House Bill 1956, reading remediation, grouping practices, retention policy, E.S.O.L., purchasing practices, graduation requirements, elementary foreign language or license for learning opportunities. A district based representative as well as several principals might be asked to discuss how these subjects pertain to their particular school sites.

TO:	MR. WOLFGANG HABIG	Sonitrol of Orlando, Inc. 4209 Vineland Road, Suite J-7 Orlando, FL 32811 (407) 425-9031 FAX (407) 841-4448 www.sonitrol1.com State Lic. #EF0000208
FROM:	BILL FORD
DATE:	SEPTEMBER 30, 1997
SUBJECT:	Expanding of Sonitrol to the Remaining SCSB Schools

The following is the investment breakdown by type for budget purposes only (The prices follow Sonitrol's SCSB approved contract as per Orange County Bid #8-91-12KS)

Portable Classrooms Installation Investment:

Sonitrol presently secures a few portable classrooms throughout the district. There are approximately 200 portables that DO NOT have security Sonitrol's suggestion is to install the same impact activated audio intrusion system that includes the doors being switched just like what is presently very successful in the main buildings. To add one audio detector, two door switches to a main building system the investment would be $343.00. This does not include the conduit to go between the main building and each portable. The estimated investment for Sonitrol to run conduit between main building and portables is $179.00 per portable. According to Tom Brewer (SCSB Maintenance) half of the portables have attic drop ceiling access allowing us to switch the doors and install audio sensors in the ceiling (concealing all wire). The above investment would be inclusive. Those portables that do not have ceiling access would require the installation of conduit strapped to the bottom of the portable classrooms and wire mold up to each door and audio sensor. This would be an additional investment of $242.00 per portable classroom. The design would allow for the portables to be

If would be our intent to try this format for a few work sessions to provide the Board with a broadened input for the decision making process. At that point you may wish to review this new direction.

September 30 1997: Email from Bill Ford (Sonitrol) to Wolfgang (above):
<http://www.scps.k12.fl.us/PORTALS/53/assets/pdf/1997meetings/101497/Secure.pdf>

October 1, 1997: A Cop In Class - "Education Week" article describes Halbig's unconventional approach to safety inspections, noting that he is the "creator" of a method that integrates outside contractors. LINK

Unlike other districts that have conducted undercover probes to root out drug rings on campuses, Seminole County, part of suburban Orlando, decided to take a long-term, comprehensive look at school safety and classroom-discipline techniques. So far, this type of "safety audit," as its creator has dubbed it, appears to be unique to the 55,000-student Florida district. "People in this country are tired of teachers being shot and killed and kids losing their lives at school," says Wolfgang Halbig, who conceived the operation as security director for the Seminole County schools. "We've got to get a handle on it."

Only Halbig, district superintendent Paul Hagerty, and the county sheriff knew the identity of the undercover officer and the schools she was working. The school board signed off on the overall plan. By the end of the operation, 33 students and adults were arrested on charges involving marijuana, LSD, and cocaine. Several students have pleaded guilty and are awaiting sentencing. Most will be expelled. "This was a message to students," says Hagerty.

November 19, 1997 - Authorization for travel expense to 206

<http://www.scps.k12.fl.us/PORTALS/53/assets/pdf/1997meetings/101497/Prins.pdf>

4. HALBIG, WOLFGANG W. - OMBUDSMAN/SECURITY, DISTRICT SECURITY CHIEF, TEMPORARY TO ATTEND THE 43RD ANNUAL CONFERENCE OF THE EDUCATION LAW ASSOCIATION IN SEATTLE, WASHINGTON, LEAVE DATE 11/19/97 RETURN FROM LEAVE DATE 11/23/97

1998

January 12, 1998: Halbig is quoted in article about a safety hotline, "Callers Would be Anonymous"

<https://news.google.com/newspapers?id=PttPAAAAIBAJ&sjid=KQgEAAAAIBAJ&pg=5762%2C6332036>

Callers would be anonymous

CONTINUED FROM 1B

term for carrying some sort of weapon to school.

Wolfgang Halbig, director of security for the Seminole County School Board, said the Save A Friend line gets about 200 calls a year.

Most of the calls are from high school and middle school students, but students as young as fourth grade have called to report problems, Halbig said.

"People can call in on any topic they want as it relates to the safety and security of the school system," said Halbig, a one-time teacher and coach in the Marion County school district.

"I got one just a couple minutes ago, a student carrying a knife," Halbig said. "The first thing tomorrow morning, we're going to greet this person (with the knife)."

"These kids who are willing to step forward and take responsibility have a right to be protected," Halbig said. "The dilemma has always been how do we break this code of silence among the students."

The security officer answers the call, takes notes and channels the concern to the appropriate area.

A weapon or drug call would go to the sheriff's department, while a harassment or potential suicide call would be channeled to the school.

Halbig said in the five years Seminole County has had the phone service, there haven't been any prank calls.

Tittle thinks the idea could work in Marion County.

"I'm very excited about it," Tittle said. "On law enforcement, our focus is on the safety of firearms and weapons. But once it was explained to me how much it could benefit the entire system I liked

<http://www.scps.k12.fl.us/PORTALS/53/assets/pdf/1998meetings/12798/addendum.pdf>

Kathleen Halbig takes a personal leave, lasting almost four months

12. HALBIG, KATHLEEN S. - SOUTH SEMINOLE MIDDLE, TEACHER DROPOUT PREVENT PERSONAL LEAVE, LEAVE DATE 02/02/98 RETURN FROM LEAVE DATE 05/29/98

(extension)

INSTRUCTIONAL PERSONNEL RETURNING TO DUTY FROM LEAVE OF ABSENCE 6. Halbig, Kathleen S - South Seminole Middle School, Teacher Dropout Prevent, Return from Leave Date 7/27/1998

February 24, 1998 - Seminole County School Board meeting

Chairman Kuhn announced that the May 26th School Board Meeting will be rescheduled from 7:00 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. to accommodate various graduation ceremonies and that the Expulsion Hearings will be rescheduled from May 26th to May 28th. She spoke of an article that she saw in the School Board which included a checklist about how safe a school is and what the security is like. She forwarded the checklist to Wolfgang Halbig with the request that he utilize it to determine information on SCPS schools. Lastly, she updated the Board on her efforts to increase the turn around time on fingerprint checks. Mrs. Morris suggested that a glitch bill be requested to allow school systems to share background/fingerprint checks with one another.

April 26, 1998: "Editorial: hot line got cool reception." - article notes that Wolfgang's hotline found funding and is being turned on, despite initial difficulties allocating the money to pay for it; an unnamed "private party" provided the funds. [\[LINK\]](#) a not line a priority.

Surely the school board had enough warnings that children are responding to their frustrations in frightening and deadly ways. In recent months students at local elementary, middle and high schools have brought loaded weapons and knives into classrooms.

Hot lines, have been very successful in other school districts. The hot line in the Seminole County school district has been operational for five years, and according to Wolfgang Halbig, Director of Security for the district, the results have been extremely positive.

With 58,000 students in 53 schools, seven of them high schools, the $5,000 annual expenditure for the hot line is never an issue. It is a budgeted item that comes out of general revenue.

"When we make a commitment that safety is our number one priority, the board never flinches," said Halbig, giving credit to the board for its strong leadership.

Barbara Kuhn, chairman of the Seminole School Board, said the hot line is worth the money the board paid to get it going.

"I don't think the taxpayers would disagree with any money going to something that would make school safer for their kids," she said. "In the society we are living in today schools are expected to do a whole lot more than teach academics. . . Anything that we can do to help stop crime or drugs is worth anything we can do."

April 27 1998 “break the code of silence” video is produced by Seminole County Schools, for the purpose of marketing the “Save-A-Friend” hotline that Wolfgang markets. In the article, Wolfgang strongly advocates for third party security contractors. LINK

LINK HALBIG, WOLFGANG W. - OMBUDSMAN/SECURITY, DISTRICT SECURITY CHIEF TEMPORARY DUTY TO ATTEND THE U.S. DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION'S SAFE AND DRUG FREE SCHOOLS PROGRAM IN WASHINGTON, D.C., LEAVE DATE 04/29/98 RETURN FROM LEAVE DATE 05/01/98 (ALL EXPENSES PAID BY THE U.S. DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION)

May 24 1998: Wolfgang's son graduates High School LINK

July 11, 1998 5. Halbig, Wolfgang W. - Ombudsman/Security, District Security Chief, Temporary Duty to Attend the National Association of School Safety and Law Enforcement Officers 29th Annual Conference in Toronto, Ontario Canada, Leave

Date 7/11/1998, Return from Leave Date 7/15/1998 (Registration and Lodging Paid by the National Association of School Safety and Law Enforcement Officers)

July 23, 1998 “Basic policy to deal with violence to be ready by August” Wolfgang endorses having an “emergency management team trained at each school.” LINK

The hot line could also be a boon to parents who are afraid of their own children or who may know things about some other child but are not comfortable calling the child's parents.

One of the reasons that Seminole's hot line has been so effective, said Wolfgang Halbig, director of security for the district, is the fact that it is contracted to Wackenhut Corp., a neutral party, which has courteous understanding personnel who answer the hot line seven days a week, 24-hours a day. According to Marion County School Board Member Leslie Scales, who has been advocating the establishment of a hot line for several years, the Wackenhut Corp. will also answer Marion's calls.

And there is a point person at each Seminole County school who is responsible for following up on the hot line reports, said Halbig. The object is prevention, intervention and counseling, not retribution.

But Halbig warns that unless the hot line is marketed properly, it will fail. The key he said, is not just to slap up some posters and forget about it; the key is to get kids involved and make the program user friendly. Seminole utilizes posters in key locations, but the district also distributes Save-A-Friend hot line cards to students, has produced a video, “Break the code of silence,” and constantly reinforces the message that while the caller will remain anonymous and the information will be kept confidential.

Basic policy to deal with violence to be ready by August

CONTINUED FROM 1A

Still, Ocala Police Chief Morrey Deen said, with more people moving into the county and the school system every year, it's hard to tell when something might happen.

“We are just as susceptible of having some ticking time bombs out here and don't even know it,” Deen said.

Wolfgang Halbig, director of security for the Seminole County Public School System, told the school district's violence committee that teamwork, training and communication are key to handling an emergency situation.

“When we had a shooting on devised its emergency plan.

Marion County does have an overall disaster plan, but it's too comprehensive. Task force members praised the Seminole plan for being more succinct.

“It puts a chain of command in place,” Deen said.

But, he added, the planning had to be augmented by actual practice.

School officials are also working on ways to handle potential student problems, according to Dr. Bill Edenfield, chief psychologist for the Marion County school system.

Edenfield, who has been working with Charter Springs Hospital, has three specific scenarios: when a student makes a verbal threat of being outlined.

For the first, after a student has made a clear violent threat, Edenfield said that student will be counseled and possibly be referred to an outside agency — such as Charter Springs — for a violence/homicide assessment. But, he added, they can't force parents to have their child checked out.

“There's a problem with this whole thing,” Edenfield said. “Where are the teeth?”

Edenfield said one possibility is to treat it as if a child consistently came into school with poor physical health.

“I would consider filing a complaint with HRS for neglect,” he added.

problem.

“If we don't bother to ask them, somebody else might deal with it ... and it could start to fester until third period when there's a (blowup),” Halbig said.

In addition to that early screening, Halbig recommended having an emergency management team trained at each school.

The violence committee will meet one more time before the school board meeting to offer firm recommendations on an emergency plan.

Edwin Norris, director of the Center for Distance Learning at St. Leo College, said a key for enforceability will be common sense and not prosecute a child for accidentally

August 5, 1998 "District pens plan to stamp out violence in schools." - plans in other districts are expected to be based on Wolfgang's plan. LINK

August 9, 1998:

<http://www.scps.k12.fl.us/PORTALS/53/assets/pdf/1998meetings/81198/prins.PDF> HALBIG, WOLFGANG W. - OMBUDSMAN/SECURITY, DISTRICT SECURITY CHIEF TEMPORARY DUTY TO ATTEND THE UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION FEDERAL SAFE SCHOOLS GRANT REVIEW IN WASHINGTON, D.C., LEAVE DATE 08/09/98 RETURN FROM LEAVE DATE 08/14/98 (EXPENSES TO BE PAID BY UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION)

October 11, 1998 - In an article about school violence, Project Excel is mentioned as an alternative school for troubled students. It is noted that "Almost 92 percent of the students who pass through Project Excel go back into the traditional school system and are successful," according to Wolfgang Halbig. LINK

2012 Wolf says:

1 A The superintendent at Hagerty asked me to open up
2 an alternative school, start a brand new alternative school
3 for kids who have been expelled called Project Excel. It
4 was a partnership between the Private Industry Council and 5 the school board looking for kids with felony arrest records
6 who had been kicked out of the school system.

While at Excel, according to Halbig's 2012 deposition, he sustained an injury (and destroyed part of the school) while attempting to restrain a student. This resulted in a worker's comp claim.

12 A went together through the wall.
13 Q Literally?
14 A Literally to the next classroom.
15 Q okay. And was it a regular wall or a --
16 A Drywall.
17 Q I mean, this was a serious fight?
18 A It wasn't a fight as I was breaking up a fight; so 19 when I grabbed him, you know, he was trying to go back and 20 fight and the momentum of our -- so it wasn't that he was 21 attacking me. It was just I was trying to break the fight
22 up.

October 29, 1998 <http://www.scps.k12.fl.us/PORTALS/53/assets/pdf/1999meetings/2999/bigbook.PDF>

ALTERNATIVE EDUCATION – Contact: Jim Dawson Regional Summit on Safe and Secure Schools – The Department of Education conducted regional summits on Safe and Secure Schools during the first semester of the 1998-99 school year. Personnel from Seminole County attended the summit on October 29, 1998 which was held in Orlando. The members of the Seminole Team included, Darvin Boothe, Judy Wiant, Hortense Evans, Wolfgang Halbig, and Jim Dawson. Each team member attend break out session that were scheduled throughout the day and all felt that the information was valuable. A follow-up meeting of the Seminole Team was held on November 23, 1998. The purpose of this meeting was to discuss the various activities and session the team members attended at the Summit and also to develop any strategies for implementation of programs that may benefit Seminole County. Listed below are the main topics discussed.

November 18, 1998: HALBIG, WOLFGANG W. - OMBUDSMAN/SECURITY, DISTRICT SECURITY CHIEF TEMPORARY DUTY TO ATTEND AND PRESENT AT THE 44TH ANNUAL NATIONAL EDUCATION LAW ASSOCIATION "LEGAL RIGHTS IN EDUCATION" CONFERENCE IN CHARLESTON, SOUTH CAROLINA, LEAVE DATE 11/18/98 RETURN FROM LEAVE DATE 11/21/98

August 30, 1998: Students In Trouble Dig Out With A Boost From Excel - Gubernatorial candidate Jeb Bush visits Project Excel. Halbig would later claim that Jeb made promises to him during a visit to Excel, regarding what he would do about school safety appointments if he was elected. [\[LINK\]](#)

December 2, 1998 <http://www.scps.k12.fl.us/PORTALS/53/assets/pdf/1998meetings/111798/bigbook.PDF>

*The total security program of Seminole County Schools is being noticed at all levels. Last week, the Heathrow Chamber of Commerce presented Wolfgang Halbig, the District Security Chief, with an award recognizing his passion for the safety of students. On December 2 at the State School Board Association Meeting in Tampa, Wolf will be the co-keynote speaker and lead two break out sessions. On a national level, Wolf was one of three district security leaders interviewed for an upcoming article in the national School Board Journal. In November, he will be making a presentation for the Educational Law Association in South Carolina.

Dec 15 1998 - Budget appropriation for 11 School Resource Officers and 2 D.A.R.E. officers is submitted by Richard C. Wells (Exec. Director of Support Services) and Wolfgang W. Halbig (District Security Chief) and approved by the Seminole County school board.

<http://www.scps.k12.fl.us/PORTALS/53/assets/pdf/1998meetings/121598/bigbook.PDF>

1999

Jan 27 1999: Miami-Dade Plan Expands Officer Jurisdiction - Education Weekly covers a tentative plan in Miami-Dade County to "expand the jurisdiction of its school police force to areas near its schools."

And whatever the positive impact for the community, the schools could suffer, he said. "If officers are dealing with other issues, who's taking care of the school?" Mr. Blauvelt said.

Wolfgang Halbig, the director of school security in Seminole County, Fla., agreed. "There are a lot of ramifications" for a program like this, said Mr. Halbig, who manages 37 officers in his 60,000-student district.

"[Dade] is such a big school district--just to go another step could create other problems for themselves," he said. "The officers could lose sight of what their role truly is."

February 16, 1999: 6. HALBIG, WOLFGANG - OMBUDSMAN/SECURITY, DISTRICT SECURITY CHIEF TEMPORARY DUTY TO ATTEND THE UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION SCHOOL SECURITY OFFICIALS MEETING IN LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA, LEAVE DATE 02/16/99 RETURN FROM LEAVE DATE 02/19/99 (EXPENSES WILL BE PAID BY THE UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION)

February 21, 1999: Spring Break Camp Offers Entertainment, Enrichment - The Orlando Sentinel records an education "camp" hosted by Wolfgang Halbig. [\[LINK\]](#)

THE ALTAMONTE Elementary PTA will host two meetings with Wolfgang Halbig, director of security for Seminole County Public Schools.

Halbig will address parents' concerns at 7 p.m. Monday and 9 a.m. Thursday at the school, 525 Pineview St., Altamonte Springs. Halbig will discuss issues ranging from school safety to School Board accountability. Because of the adult subject matter, the PTA is asking that children not attend.

April 20, 1999: Columbine High School shooting. Throughout the years going forward, Wolfgang would attempt to imply that he was involved in some capacity with the investigation into this event. Investigators can find no evidence of any official Halbig involvement whatsoever.

April 23 1999 After Massacre in Littleton, Schools Are Expected to Tighten Security [\[LINK\]](#)

Wolfgang Halbig, director of security for Florida's Seminole County school district, says before it started using surveillance cameras and undercover agents in 1993, 19 guns were confiscated in a year. Since the measures were put in place, gun confiscations have dwindled to zero this year.

April 25 1999 - "Before the Danger, There are Signs" - a post-Columbine article in the Orlando Sentinel quotes Wolfgang, who warns that shootings "can happen any time, anywhere." :[\[LINK\]](#)

A deadly school shooting "can happen any time, anywhere," said Wolfgang Halbig, security director for Seminole County public schools. Ron Pinnell, director of secondary education, agreed. "Crime and violence have come boldly walking through the front gates of our schools," he said.

May 11, 1999: Wolfgang is among those recommended for re-hire for the next school year in Seminole County. <http://www.scps.k12.fl.us/PORTALS/53/assets/pdf/1999meetings/51199/reap99.PDF>

May 12, 1999: Police To Get School Floor Plans - Wolfgang is noted as having recognized opportunities for procedural changes after Columbine. He pushes for a mysterious "private company" to produce "floor plans" of every school. [\[LINK\]](#)

Blueprints, which provide much more detail about a building, aren't necessary unless an incident occurs at a school.

With that in mind, Halbig said, the district has promised to make available blueprints of any building it owns within an hour of any crisis.

A private company has offered to produce the floor plans at no cost, Halbig said.

He declined to identify the company, but he added that the owner has children who attend county schools.

May 18 1999: “Marcum looking for collaborative approach to safety in school system” - news story profiles the “first safe schools supervisor for the Marion County Public School System” - a position apparently based on Halbig’s role in Seminole County. Brian Marcum, the first appointee to this position, met Halbig through their delivering of safety presentations. [\[LINK\]](#)

Marcum looking for collaborative approach to safety in school system

By EARLE KIMEL
STAFF WRITER

OCALA — Brian Marcum’s first goal when he becomes the first safe schools supervisor for the Marion County Public School System is to foster a sense of community.

“If I can bring nothing else here, I want to bring the idea of ownership,” said Marcum, 41, who will start in Marion County June 1, after finishing this year as the manager of transportation safety for the Seminole County Public Schools. “If you have people that subscribe to that theory in the school system, you’re going to be successful.”

“But it can’t just be me, it can’t be just the administrators, it can’t be just the teachers,” he continued. “It has to be all those, it has to be custodial, it has to be cafeteria workers, it has to be bus drivers and last, but not least, it has to be the students.

Marcum views school safety as a team effort, with teachers standing in doorways during class changes to get an extra pair of eyes in the traffic areas. It also involves a free exchange of information with the students.

He said the Save-A-Friend Hotline — (877) 7-FRIEND — can be a crucial tool in

PLEASE SEE MARCUM ON 6A

DOUG ENGLESTAR-BAND

Brian Marcum will be the first safe schools supervisor, wants more eyes on the students

CONTINUED FROM 1A

keeping schools safe.

The Marion County School Board created Marcum’s position in January, following the recommendation of a safe schools task force that met last summer. The position was modeled heavily after the duties of Wolfgang Halbig, director of security for Seminole County’s school system.

“We were looking for somebody who had experience both in law enforcement, criminology and schools,” said Harrell Harrison, director of student services for Marion County schools.

That makes Marcum a bridge between the school system and local law enforcement agencies.

One feature he’d like to bring to Marion from Seminole County is the use of security officers in the middle and high schools to help the school resource officers.

“What it does, it’s almost invaluable because it lends an extra set of eyes and ears on campuses, and it frees up administrators to concentrate on some other duties that they might not have an opportunity to do,” Marcum said. “They establish rapport with the kids, the kids get to know them. And basically they’re like a non-sworn SRO.”

There’s no money in the district budget for security officers now, Harrison said, but administrators are trying to find some.

“We’re writing a grant as we speak trying to get that in place,” Harrison said. “We’ve got other needs, like we’re trying to put nurses in the schools, too.”

In this profile, it is further noted that:

Marion County created this job opening following the recommendations of a safe schools task force that met last summer.”

“Marcum has also worked with Halbig as a presenter on safety training for teachers at various conferences.”

“The two men met when Halbig was an assistant principal at Lake Mary High School in Seminole County. Marcum was the school resource officer there.”

Question #10 Wolfgang MUST answer: What was the nature of your professional relationship with Mr. Marcum? Because according to this MAINSTREAM NEWS article, the similarities are striking between Wolfgang Halbig and Brian Marcum:

1. both worked at Lake Mary High School
2. both attended Customs Inspector Training Academy around the same time and tout it as a “bridge between the school system and local law enforcement agencies”
3. both push school boards to hire private security contractors, and turn to grants when there is not enough funds
4. both are noted for their “surprise inspections” that lead to “safety workshops” after “weak points” have been identified at their own high school.
5. both have conducted “safety seminars” at conferences - sometimes as a team!
6. the contractors, once hired, conduct the exact same inspections as the “school safety officer”

So were you guys just really good friends? Who like to make money the same way?

May 30, 1999: Surprise Inspections - Ron Davis responds, apparently to letter to the editor from a concerned citizen, citing Wolfgang’s performance as a “security director.” The same Ron Davis would go into business with Wolfgang just months later.

http://articles.orlandosentinel.com/1999-05-30/news/9905280276_1_school-board-members-school-security-talk-to-teachers

IN REPLY to Harry Buffkin's letter about school security, as one who has only been in the education arena for 10 months and coming from a 25-year career in law enforcement, I would like to answer some of his questions.

I have witnessed security director Wolfgang Halbig make eight unannounced security inspections at elementary, middle and high schools.

I have witnessed more than 11 different meetings and workshops he has conducted to improve security in Seminole County public schools.

Ron Davis SANFORD

June 15, 1999 - Wolfgang conducts a “School Safety Presentation” which is listed in the appendix of the Safe Schools Task Force in October 1999:

*Organizational Meeting-Senate Task Force on School Safety Tuesday, June 15, 1999
Lake Mary, Florida School Safety Presentation
Mr. Wolfgang Halbig, Director of Security
Seminole County Schools District

June 16, 1999 - How To Stem Student Violence - Wolfgang is quoted in another article on school safety, and expresses doubt that teachers would “know how to break up a fight.” He cites this as a reason for setting up “six regional training sites.” [\[LINK\]](#)

Wolfgang Halbig, security director for Seminole County schools, recommended several ways to make schools more secure. Each school district needs a security director, Halbig said, and data about crime and violence at schools must be maintained for all grades.

Also, Halbig said, the Legislature should fund a Florida safe-schools training center to prepare school personnel to deal with school safety and security issues.

“Metal detectors at every door are not going to stop a school shooting on campus,” he said.

He suggested setting up six regional training sites that would operate under the guidance of the state education commissioner. “Teachers don’t know how to break up a fight,” Halbig said, “but if they walk away, they’re negligent.”

June 25 1999 Kathleen Halbig is listed as “a single person.”

http://70.159.28.10/NV_Records/details.asp?doc_id=2024757&file_num=1999-401206&doc_status=V

July 22 1999 - fulfillment of mortgage

http://70.159.28.10/NV_Records/details.asp?doc_id=2033470&file_num=1999-409856&doc_status=V

July 23, 1999 - a person named Denise defaults on debt to Wolfgang.

http://www.seminoleclerk.org/CivilDocket/case_detail.jsp?CaseNo=1999SC001445

August 13 1999 - Wolfgang starts NATIONAL SAFE SCHOOL INSTITUTE, INC.

September 14, 1999 - Wolfgang retires from Seminole County Public Schools

ADMINISTRATIVE TERMINATIONS AND RESIGNATIONS for 1999-00 1. Davis, Ronald Edward - Educational Support Center, Ombudsman/security, Professional Stnd Investigator, Reason: Resig for employ outside educa, Termination Effective Date 9/08/1999 2. Halbig, Wolfgang W - Educational Support Center, Ombudsman/security, District Security Chief, Reason: Retired, Termination Effective Date 12/01/1999

His associates Ron Davis and Richard Wells leave with him:

THE SCHOOL BOARD OF SEMINOLE COUNTY

ACTION ITEM: REORGANIZATION III.D.
Item Number

1. Superintendent’s Recommendation:

That the School Board of Seminole County approve the reorganization of the School Security and Secondary Education Departments.

2. Background/Analysis:

Due to the departure of Richard Wells, Wolfgang Halbig and Ron Davis we are taking this opportunity to reorganize the areas of school safety and student conduct.

September 8, 1999 - 3 Founders Center Their Company On Campus And Corporate Safety - An article about the departures of Halbig, Wells, and Davis, and their plans to start a private company (NISWS) providing school safety services. [\[LINK\]](#)

Lazy days on the golf course, in a fishing boat or in front of the TV aren't on Wolfgang Halbig's horizon. Days after retiring as security director for Seminole County schools, he is immersed in his new job, one that still revolves around the safety of students and teachers.

Halbig, administrator Richard Wells and professional-standards investigator Ron Davis recently left their jobs with the school district to form the National Institute for School and Workplace Safety, a business that will have headquarters in the Lake Mary-Heathrow area.

"It's going to be tough to walk away because I love public schools. I love what I do," Halbig said.

At the same time, he said, he eagerly anticipated the challenge of the new venture.

Halbig, Davis and Wells boast years of experience in campus security, police work and school administration. They plan to put that experience to work training school and business employees about safety, security and aggressive-behavior management. An investment company in the Tampa Bay area is providing the financial backing for the institute, Halbig said.

[...]

Halbig, who serves on state and federal safe-school task forces, said the business didn't spring from April's fatal school shootings at Columbine High School in Littleton, Colo. Still, said Davis, a former Florida Highway Patrol trooper, the three have commiserated many times about the string of violent school tragedies in recent years.

[...]

The new company already has three contracts lined up, in Dade County, Indiana and Nebraska, Halbig said.

The institute will teach strategies that Halbig said he helped implement as the district's security chief. Those measures include developing emergency-management plans, forming safe-school teams, adding security cameras where needed on campuses and setting up hotlines so students can anonymously report peers who make threats or bring weapons to school.

November 26, 1999:
Some teachers say self-defense should be required - Article in the Sarasota Herald-Tribune quotes Wolfgang on school safety, who again suggests he has expertise in "how to restrain a child professionally." [\[LINK\]](#) thune-Cookman seminar with Flesch.

"The teachers have been misled to believe that they legally can't touch or can't defend themselves," she said. "That's not true."

Many school safety experts believe self-defense lessons should be required for every teacher across the country.

"You hope you never ever have to put your hands on a child, but when a child acts out and they become so aggressive, you need to know how to restrain a child professionally," said Wolfgang Halbig, former director of safety and security at Seminole County schools. He is now a private safety consultant.

Schools can be held liable if their staff isn't trained properly to intervene in a dangerous situation.

"There's a legal obligation for them to protect the children that are put in their care," said Flesch, watch commander at the Osceola County

2000

March 2000 issue of American School Board Journal: Halbig's article, "Breaking the Code of Silence" is published. By now, Halbig's carefully constructed resume is firmly in place.

I have been an assistant principal, a teacher and coach, a state police officer, and a director of school district security. In all these roles, I saw how and why a code of silence is so deeply ingrained in youth culture. Historically, students have been loath to "tattle," "rat," or "narc" on their peers -- especially in secondary grades when social acceptance often overrides the urge to do the right thing. Added to that reluctance is a fear of violent retribution for turning someone in that is probably more real today than ever before.

June 23 2000 - "Security Equipment Not Answer To School Safety" - Article about Wolf's appearance at a conference in Nebraska. At the conference, Halbig shares an anecdote about drugs being found on a student during a visit from Governor Jeb Bush, the same story he related in his "Break the Code of Silence" article the previous month. [\[ARCHIVE\]](#)

Lincoln -- A Florida State Trooper turned school teacher and administrator believes metal detectors and video cameras aren't the answer to school safety - cooperation and respect are.

"It's about people. It's about us being out there and greeting the kids," said Wolfgang Halbig, president and CEO of the National Institute for School and Workplace Safety.

*[...] A stumbling block to this approach, Halbig acknowledges, is that with the coming new-teacher shortage and massive retirements of experienced educators, it'll be tough to find any teachers at all - much less deeply caring ones who want to get involved in their students' lives. Combine that with a 23 percent spike in the number of kids aged 14-17 by 2005, and there are challenges ahead. Halbig said the entire community needs to recognize that children will do illegal things, and come together to take preventive measures. An example: Around six months ago, Florida Gov. Jeb Bush was to visit a high school campus. The morning of his visit school officials got a call from a student warning them that another student would be selling marijuana in the parking lot. Officials caught the student with 28 bags of marijuana, but the principal didn't want Gov. Bush - and the hordes of reporters following him - to know about the bust. That frustrated Halbig, who thought it would have made a good learning opportunity about the value of working together to promote safety and lawful behavior in school. "Now Jeb Bush left that day thinking there's not a problem. We have to share the good as well as the bad and not be afraid of it," Halbig said.

In the same article, Nebraska governor Mike Johanns expresses concern about bringing in costly security consultants like Halbig:

*According to Johanns spokesman Chris Peterson, the governor has two main concerns. First, suppose a school district has an outside party review its school safety plan, and the reviewer recommends the school take some action to improve safety. Further suppose the school doesn't take that action, and something untoward happens that would have been prevented if it had taken that action. What kind of additional, potential legal liability does that place on the school? Second, the governor is unsure whether the wording of the rule would require a safety review simply by a neighboring school district's superintendent, or by a $200 an hour security consultant. The former option is free, and the latter option is an unfunded mandate.

August 23 2000: NISWS's Ron Davis emails Governor Jeb Bush, begging to expand their Seminole County system to all of Florida (note: formatting from source doc has been edited for readability.)

-----Original Message-----

From: rondavis@nisws.com [mailto:rondavis@nisws.com]

Sent: Wednesday, August 23, 2000 11:46 AM

To: fl_governor@eog.state.fl.us

Subject: School Safety and Security

*NAME: Ron Davis
ADDRESS: 249 Kettle Court
Casselberry, FL 32707
Governor Bush:*

We met several times during both campaign's in Orlando, as well as in Seminole County School District, where at that time School Security Director WOLFGANG HALBIG and I had the honor of spending time with you on how we had made National News on making this school district so much safer and aware of special training to all employees, which we designed and directed.

You requested us to get back with you after the ELECTION, to discuss further the need for all School Districts in Florida to at least see and evaluate what we have to offer. Since, we too have moved on. We retired and started a National Company in School Safety and Security along with a Retired School Superintendent. See our web site www.nisws.com

I am a retired State Law Enforcement officer from FLORIDA. 17 yrs as a State Trooper and 8 yrs with Lawson Lamar, State Attorney Office-Investigator. I was honored to be State Trooper of the Year in 1987 and received by Gov. Martinez and Cabinet. We are still trying to get to see you, per your request. We can truly help more districts, if given the chance. With respect and love to family.

RON DAVIS and Family

Davis receives a one-sentence reply from Bush's office. He responds, apparently frustrated that he promised meeting between NISWS and Governor Bush has still not materialized..

*From: Ron Davis <rondavis@nisws.com>
To: Florida Governor
Date: 8/29/2000 2:21:01 PM
Subject: RE: School Safety and Security*

Dear Ms. Murray

Thank you for your response, we will be in Talla. on Sept. 8th meeting with F.D.L.E. Comm Tim Moore and staff reference our track record in helping school districts and law enforcement working together, per our training and software package that Attorney General Janet Reno praised when we met her in Wash. D.C.

*Last night in Lake Mary, Fl. we met with Attorney General Butterworth, who also asked us to come see him, as his interest for our kids and school staff remains a priority. We are still needing to see the Gov. or Lt. Gov, hopefully on the 8th or 9th, as they requested during their swing through Seminole County School District many months ago, and saw what all we have done and are doing for other counties and now other States. As the Gov. of Nebraska told us "Jeb Bush should be very happy to have you guys in his State assisting him in the school safety and security program" see per our web site www.nisws.com, because press was present I did not have the heart to tell him, we have yet been able to see him, even though he asked us to meet with him months ago. Can you assist us please, let it show true that the little people can still be heard and seen.

Thank You So Much
Ron Davis

September 28, 2000 The National "Break The Code of Silence" Foundation established, with Wolfgang as one of its Directors. Another director of the foundation, Wayne Blanton, is also director of the Florida School Boards Association.

October 2, 2000: School Security Experts Bring Message to Region - article in the Southern Illinoisan from Carbondale, Illinois covers a school safety conference, including a presentation by Wolfgang Halbig. [\[LINK\]](#)

Never let somebody else tell you how to do your job, Halbig, a retired school administrator and police officer, said. "Never let another teacher tell you about a kid, no matter what the kid looks like," he said. Halbig instructed his clerical staff that if a caller appeared to be going in the direction of a bomb threat, abruptly ask if they can hold for a moment. Count to five then pick up the line again. While on hold, the caller's telephone number pops up on caller ID. Also, chances are the caller will hang up while on hold if it's a prank. "If they're still there, they're serious as a heartbeat," he said. He also tells his staff not to hang up the telephone when bomb threats are called in, even if the caller hangs up. This makes it easier to trace the calls.

[...] Halbig puts more stock in adequate staff supervision than security cameras. Luanne Brown, security director at Carbondale Community High School, took issue with this, in part. She said cameras are not as effective as in-person supervision. But she said they do work as a deterrent. She was struck by a comment by Halbig, that teachers often make the mistake of "assuming students respect them." This mistake, he said, can be painful or even deadly when teachers, instead of seeking help, try to handle a violent or weapons-related situation on their own and students prove them wrong. Teachers often don't know how to break up fights. Proper training can help prevent a teachers' student restraint efforts from becoming negligence or from hurting or killing a student, as has happened.

[...] This is just the lull before the storm, Halbig said several times, referring to how the growing lack of respect students and their parents have for teachers and school staff likely will lead to more violence. Federal statistics say school deaths are down, Halbig said, but he said these statistics do not keep track of the non-fatal shootings and stabbings. "These people in Washington, think tanks, don't like it when I say this, but have they driven a school bus lately?" he said.

[...] Halbig had an element of alarm in his presentation. Oral sex, he said, is the No. 1 issue in middle schools nationwide. He talked about kids beating kids to death in bathrooms and students shooting or striking teachers and other students.

October 13 2000: - Wolf is confirmed for the Partnership for School Safety and Security.

[\[LINK\]](#)

More docs showing appointment:

[\[LINK\]](#)

[\[LINK\]](#)

[\[LINK\]](#)

[\[LINK\]](#)

Partnership For School Safety and Security
Appointees:	Adams, Valerie S., Tampa	10/12/2004
	Anderson, Barbara Jean, Port Charlotte	10/12/2002
	Coughlin, Timothy S., Tallahassee	10/12/2004
	Gallucci, E. Jane, Clearwater	10/12/2003
	Gonzalez, Elisha, Orlando	10/12/2003
	Gray-Williams, Juliet, Ft. Lauderdale	10/12/2003
	Halbig, Wolfgang W., Lake Mary	10/12/2002
	Hernandez, Anna M., Hialeah	12/12/2002
	Jones, Lois, Miami	10/12/2002
	Norcum, Beverly A., Largo	10/12/2004

October 16, 2000: Wolfgang Halbig emails Florida Governor Jeb Bush. Written under the all-caps subject line A PROMISE IS A PROMISE, Wolfgang's expresses support for Jeb as well as President George W Bush, before once again requesting that the governor follow through on his supposed promise to help NISWS. The home address Wolfgang provides is an apartment.

*From: Wolfgang Halbig
To: fl_governor@myflorida.com
Date: 10/6/2000 5:26:10 PM
Subject: A PROMISE IS A PROMISE*

GOVERNOR BUSH:

My name is WOLFGANG W. HALBIG, I am the former director of PROJECT EXCEL an alternative school for students who have been expelled from public schools in Seminole County. You were our guest twice with parents and all of our students appreciative of your visit. We provided excellent media coverage for your visit. You extended your hand to me, and promised that if you were elected governor of our state that you would extend an invitation in discussing school safety and alternative education.

I believe in you and your brother in providing new vision and leadership for America. I am a naturalized citizen of this country who earned the privilege. I taught American Government in High Schools hoping to share my passion about government and on how we can make a difference. I just gave the keynote speech for SAFE SCHOOLS in the state of NEBRASKA, invited by the Commissioner of Education and the Governor of the state of Nebraska. I am currently training over 1500 school resource officers and school administrators through the Federal Cops program across the United States, one of those national programs is slated for Tampa Florida in August.

If you know anyone in a company called FAMILY FIRST out of Tampa Florida, they evaluated our program and would be an excellent reference. AS YOU CAN SEE I AM TRYING.... I have no political clout except for my passion for our children and teachers in public schools. All I can do is ask for your consideration, you have children as does your brother, teaching character education is vital, I have always been taught that a promise is a promise. I am only asking because I believe in what we are trying to accomplish.

THANKS FOR YOUR CONSIDERATION.

WOLF

WOLFGANG W. HALBIG

2561 GRASSY POINT DRIVE a 201

LAKE MARY, FLORIDA. 32746

407-804-8310

407-496-5551 cell

p.s. I saw you at the Charlotte, N.C. Airport and you asked me to E-Mail You.

December 16, 2000: A person writes to Governor Bush, claiming to be an acquaintance of Wolfgang Halbig and seeking placement on the school safety committee.

—Original Message—From: MJones4072@aol.com [mailto:MJones4072@aol.com]
Sent: Wednesday, December 13, 2000 4:13 PM
To: jeb@jeb.org
Subject: Safety Committee for Florida

Hello Governor Bush,

My name is Dr. Peggy Jones, and I am the principal of Sebastian River High School in Sebastian, Florida. I am very proud to say we are one of the 10 original New Millennium High Schools in the state of Florida. Our county teacher of the year for Indian River County, Susan Lovelace, was with you not too long ago, and she enjoyed the roundtable discussion with you. She invited you to come to our school. I am writing to invite you again to our wonderful school—we really do come "out of the box" at Sebastian.

I would also love to make a request. Wolfgang Halbig, a consultant for our district for school safety, told me he was asked to be one of 10 people on a safety committee for the state. He has been with our district a couple of times and we have invited him back to be at SRHS all day with us on February 7th. I asked him if there were any high school principals on this committee. He did not believe so. Do you have room for one more? I attended a state safety conference about three years ago in Orlando—Lt. Governor Brogan was there, and I really enjoyed it.

Governor Bush responds:

From: Jeb Bush
To: 'MJones4072@aol.com'
BCC: Brown Brewser (E-mail)
Brown Brewser (EOG) (E-mail)
Date: 12/16/2000 4:38:17 PM

Subject: RE: Safety Committee for Florida

Thank you for writing. I will check on the status of the school safety committee. Either myself or Brewser Brown will be back to you.

Jeb Bush

Chapter 8: Axis of Evil

2001

Jan 18 2001: Wolfgang again emails Governor Bush. He attaches two articles from the Atlanta Journal-Constitution, which are not included in the state's email archives, but probably had to do with tip lines given the context of the email:

*From: Wolfgang Halbig
To: Jeb Bush
1/18/2001 9:20:31 PM
The Atlanta Journal-Constitution.htm
The Atlanta Journal-Constitution.htm*

Governor Bush:

I am forwarding this article to you for your review. We in Florida need to take a serious look at this issue. I conduct safety and security assessments across this country, it allows me the opportunity to interview students from Florida to California. It is amazing what you learn when you LISTEN to our students. I hope this article will open discussion between you and our Department of Education. Students are bored and getting into trouble.

Thanks

Wolfgang W. Halbig

February 16, 2001 - Halbig writes a letter to the editor of the Philadelphia Inquirer newspaper, in response to an article about "tip lines." Wolf's critique is to push the "hotlines" he sells as a better product, citing his credentials as a school safety expert. [\[LINK\]](#)

'What's my line?'

School districts in your area have been sold a bill of goods with "tiplines" (article, Feb. 8). It will not be a long-term effective program students buy into.

Students must be taught to break the code of silence. By calling this hot line (called something like "Save-a-Friend," not a "tipline"), they can save a friend in trouble. They must know they are doing the right thing by picking up the phone or even telling a teacher, parent or counselor.

The common denominator in every tragic school shooting or incidents that have been prevented was someone having the courage to do the right thing.

WOLFGANG HALBIG

National Institute for School and Workplace Safety

Orlando, Fla.

March 5 2001: Wolfgang Halbig's son Erik Halbig cited for driving with a suspended license, as well as failure to obey a traffic control device (stoplight, etc.) [\[LINK\]](#)

24	Q	I thought I saw somewhere in my file, and I could
25		be completely wrong, that on one occasion you had been
1		stopped and cited for driving on a suspended or an expired
2		license.
3	A	That's my son.

Question #11 Wolfgang MUST answer: Aren't you a former driver's education teacher and Florida state trooper? Why didn't you instill in him any respect for safe driving, given the horrors you supposedly witnessed on Florida's roadways? Why did you allow your son to violate the law like this?

March 14, 2001: Aspen Realty Associates, Inc. is registered as a Domestic Profit corporation in the state of New Mexico. Kathleen S. Halbig serves as its secretary and treasurer.

March 23, 2001: LA Times article about school shooting threats online, Halbig is quoted <http://articles.latimes.com/2001/mar/23/news/mn-41698>

"This is just the beginning," said Halbig, of the National Institute for School and Workplace Safety. "The Internet grows by leaps and bounds," he said. "And we better have the procedures in place to deal with it."

May 3, 2001: Wolfgang Halbig's son Erik Halbig is arrested, apparently while drunk (underage) and in possession of marijuana. Again, he is found to be driving with a suspended license [\[LINK\]](#)

Detailed Information for Case 592001CF001631A
Case Number:	592001CF001631A	Judge:	ALVA, MARLENE M
Defendant Name:	ERIK HALBIG
DOB:	05/1980
0	NO TAG LIGHT
0	UNLAWFUL USE D/L
1	UNAUTH POSS DL/ID
2	POSS L 20 G CANNABIS
3	DRVG W/LIC SUSP/REVO
4	PO. ALCOHOL U/21 AGE

RIGHT: Wolfgang Halbig in 2015, perhaps reflecting on this time in his fatherhood

Wolfgang Halbig added 6 new photos.

3 hrs · 🌐

CHILDREN AS YOU KNOW ARE VERY UNPREDICABLE AS THEY GROW UP:

Just remember the 20 children who supposedly died at Sandy Hook and the 26 children from the Sandy Hook Choir who sang at the Super Bowl they all will have to grow up and they will.

Some will get in trouble with, alcohol, drugs, sex, violence, domestic violence and many of them will need money because Obama is NO longer there to Baby sit them.

They will bargain their stories for large sums of money and a get out of jail free card. They knew what they were doing.

The truth will come out, but the good news we will get them before all those children grow up to spill the beans for money.

Look at their pictures and picture them at age 25-35 without a job and miserable still living at home.

May 17 2001: “Workshop will focus on school safety report” - An article published in the Gainesville Sun observes the National Institute for School and Workplace Safety in middle of transitioning to the second step of Wolfgang’s emerging school safety strategy:

In Alachua County, NISWS conducted a “safety audit,” and sure enough found abundant security lapses. Now, after the inspection’s “safety report” has identified deficiencies/opportunities at the county’s schools, the “workshop” pitches costly solutions offered by Wolfgang and/or his associates. [\[LINK\]](#)

May 30, 2001: The Gainesville Sun reports: “School Safety Study Finds District Lacking” - In a follow-up from the Gainesville Sun, Halbig is now Ron Davis’s “consultant” with the National Institute for School and Workplace Safety. Davis/Halbig find serious safety concern at six campuses, for which they recommend extensive safety training for teams of teachers. Also, name tags. [\[LINK\]](#)

Less than a month ago, a consultant for the National Institute for School and Workplace Safety walked through the front doors of Lincoln Middle School two hours before the first bell rang at 8:55am, easily making his way through unlocked classrooms, hallways, the front office, cafeteria, kitchen, and restrooms.

No one but cafeteria employees questions his presence at the school.

“We try to come through a wooded area and make it all the way to the bathroom unchallenged, because that’s the profile that pedophiles follow,” consultant Ron Davis said during a three-hour work-shop Tuesday at the Alachua County School Board.

Citing a serious lack of adult supervision on at least six Alachua County school campuses, the consultants recommended that School Board members consider issuing photo identification cards for teachers, assembling “safe

...and Halbig and Davis they drove up to the security trailer at Lincoln Middle School, where a school resource officer lives.

“We blinked our lights and made a general nuisance of ourselves, and we never saw anyone come out of the trailer,” Halbig said.

Other recommendations included maintaining partnerships with school resource officers and law enforcement agencies, and marketing a break-the-silence campaign to encourage students to turn in threatening students.

“I take this red flag everywhere I go, because they are there,” said Halbig, snatching a 2-by-2-foot piece of red felt from his back pocket. “Two kids brought 95 explosives onto the campus at Columbine over a period of time.

teams" of a dozen teachers and administrators on each campus to be experts on safety procedures, and providing intensive training to help teachers and administrators face increasingly violent schoolyard settings.

September 6, 2001 - Wolfgang attends a conference "Voices from the Field"

September 11, 2001: 9/11 Terrorist Attacks. In his 2012 deposition, Wolfgang would claim that the shift in national focus after this event led to money for school safety companies becoming scarce.

13	Q	What kind of business was that?
14	A	Again, school safety, workplace safety. What
15		happened, I think ever since Columbine -- correction -- ever
16		since the Trade Towers coming down, school safety and the
17		money really dried up really quick and schools weren't
18		interested in doing things like that.

September 16, 2001: Security Experts Weigh Changes - Wolfgang is quoted in an Orlando Sun article about the changes to workplace safety and security after 9/11. [\[TEXT\]](#)

Americans are used to coming and going freely at their offices and government buildings, confronting generally modest, if any, security measures. But anxiety since the attack has reminded everyone just how different things could be.

"I think we're very lax," said Wolfgang Halbig, who heads a security consulting company in Lake Mary that specializes in school and workplace safety. "No matter where I go, I am never challenged. If I dress professionally, I can go wherever I want."

Basic security measures, such as ID badges and visitor sign-in sheets, are often fraught with potential security lapses, Halbig said. For example, a visitor at Orange County School District headquarters must sign in and get a badge. But then he has free rein of the nine-story building, Halbig said. [...]

But Halbig said heightened security does not have to be intrusive or expensive. Companies can train all employees to be vigilant about security risks, he said. It may mean not letting the person behind you slip into the building without a badge, or looking for jittery behavior in a visitor, he said. "It doesn't cost a lot of money. It's raising the level of awareness," he said.

September 17 2001: (RIGHT) Wolfgang registers the domestic profit corporation "NATIONAL INSTITUTE FOR SCHOOL AND WORKPLACE SAFETY INC."

Ron Davis also serves as president of this corporation.

October 31, 2001: Workplace Safety must be everybody's job - [\[LINK\]](#)

Wolfgang W. Halbig, executive director of the Heathrow, Fla.-based National Institute for School and Workplace Safety (nisws.com), says employers:

- Should not assume security technology, such as closed-circuit cameras, is adequate. "Cameras can establish a false sense of security," Halbig said.

- Should be especially vigilant at the front desk or lobby.

- Should train all employees--not just guards--in all aspects of safety.

- Should emphasize respect for diversity while providing a safe way for employees to report concerns.

"We can prevent a lot of stuff from happening if we just open up our eyes and look around us," Halbig said.

November, 2001 - Oregon presentation:

Florida Profit Corporation

NATIONAL INSTITUTE FOR SCHOOL AND WORKPLACE SAFETY INC.

Filing Information

Document Number	P01000090928
FEI/EIN Number	N/A
Date Filed	09/17/2001
State	FL
Status	INACTIVE
Last Event	VOLUNTARY DISSOLUTION
Event Date Filed	01/29/2003
Event Effective Date	NONE

Principal Address

120 INTERNATIONAL PARKWAY
SUITE 220
HEATHROW, FL 32746

Mailing Address

120 INTERNATIONAL PARKWAY

"PREPARING FOR SAFE SCHOOLS" SEMINAR by Corporal Richard D. Riffle

The Benton County Sheriff's Office, School Resource Unit is pleased to host a "Preparing for Safe Schools" workshop. Safety and security is one of the biggest concerns facing our school systems throughout the country today. We are committed to providing the tools and materials necessary to develop and implement safe school strategies throughout the county and assist other agencies throughout the state of Oregon. In an effort to meet these commitments, we are sponsoring this seminar provided by the National Institute for School and Workplace Safety (NISWS) based in Florida. NISWS has developed a program that teaches school districts and law enforcement officials ways to conduct school assessments that target the issue of safety with a proactive approach.

This workshop will be held in December at the CH2M Hill Alumni Center on the campus of Oregon State University. Along with law enforcement, school officials will also be attending.

Topics covered will include implementing a "safe school plan," the use of hotlines, managing classroom disruptions, misuse and abuse of technology, and other safety topics.

We would like to express our thanks to the following businesses and agencies for their generous contributions which made this workshop possible.

SONITROL, Hewlett-Packard, Holiday Inn Express, Kinko's, Benton County Commission on Children and Families, Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention, Department of Human Services Office of Alcohol and Drug Abuse Programs, and Samaritan Health Services.

November 13, 2001 : Wolfgang attends the "Voices from the Field: Working Together for Safe and Secure Schools" Summit on School Safety in Jacksonville, FL (so does Ron Davis)
<http://files.eric.ed.gov/fulltext/ED471877.pdf>

November 14 2001: registers "The Real Hero Foundation, Inc"

Filing Information
Document Number
N01000008147

November 27, 2001 : a PR release from NISWS
[\[LINK\]](#)

Parent Negligence Endangers School Children, Says National Institute for School and Workplace Safety.

HEATHROW, Fla. – Parents are endangering their children's safety and compromising school district security by dropping children off at school early or picking them up too late.

Nationwide school safety and security assessments performed by Wolfgang W. Halbig, Executive Director of the National Institute for School and Workplace Safety, reveal children being dropped off on school campuses up to seventy minutes before the start of classes.

Halbig cited the October 15, 2001 sexual assault of a 13-year-old Tucson, AZ, middle school student whose mother dropped the child off at 7:00 AM to complete her homework. Students are not allowed into campus buildings until 8:25 AM. The girl was sexually assaulted in a school bathroom.

Calling it a national safety and security crisis, Halbig noted the incident is not isolated. He said while school districts are trying to keep security risks as low as possible, parents contribute to school safety problems when children are on-campus before or after school hours. He added that threats to children during those hours include child custody abductions, bullying and harassment.

"This safety alert is to get parents to be more responsible by not placing school districts at risk," Halbig said. "Parents need to be true partners with their school systems in protecting their children."

Halbig is a nationally recognized expert on school safety and security issues. NISWS provides school districts with preventive measures to protect school districts against possible litigation.

About National Institute for School and Workplace Safety: NISWS (<http://www.nisws.com/>) offers one-on-one consulting, seminars, hotlines, and criminal database programs for schools, businesses, corporations and law enforcement agencies that are prevention driven, not incident driven.

November 30 2001 : Another press release from NISWS shows Wolfgang struggling to adjust to the post-9/11 shifts in their industry, as he tries to connect school safety to the terrorist attacks. He also admonishes parents to keep their firearms secured, perhaps thinking back to when his own firearm was stolen by a minor and brought to a school. [\[LINK\]](#)

The undersigned incorporator, for the purpose of forming a Florida not-for-profit corporation, hereby adopts the following Articles of Incorporation:

Article I

The name of the corporation is:

THE REAL HERO FOUNDATION II, INC.

Article II

The principal place of business address:

1962 CRYSTAL DOWNS COURT
OVIEDO, FL. 32765

The mailing address of the corporation is:

1962 CRYSTAL DOWNS COURT
OVIEDO, FL. 32765

Article III

The specific purpose for which this corporation is organized is:

TO PROVIDE SAFETY AND SECURITY MEASURES AND GUIDELINES TO SCHOOLS AND/OR WORKPLACES THAT CAN NOT AFFORD TO DO SO AND/OR DO NOT HAVE THE RESOURCES AVAILABLE TO DELIVER THESE MEASURES TO THEIR POPULATION.

Threat of Guns in Schools Escalates Since 9-11 Warns National Institute for School and Workplace Safety

HEATHROW, Fla., Nov. 30 /PRNewswire/ – Escalating gun sales since The September 11th terrorist attacks threaten the safety and security of schools across the United States, according to Wolfgang W. Halbig, Executive Director of the National Institute for School and Workplace Safety.

An NISWS survey of law enforcement officials and gun shops in five states shows sales up from fifty percent to two hundred percent in many areas since the September 11th terrorist attacks in New York and Washington, D.C. Many of these weapons are going to first-time gun owners who lack training about proper use and storage.

[...] Now more than ever, in light of these alarming statistics, parents and everyone in the community should make certain that guns are properly stored and that gun locks are used on all weapons, said Halbig. He also encouraged the use of school safety hotlines by parents and students to report threats or suspicious activity. "Student silence is our worst enemy," Halbig said, "when less than half of students say they would tell an adult if they heard a student talking about shooting someone at school."

Halbig, a former law enforcement officer and educator, is a nationally recognized expert on school safety and security issues.

About National Institute for School and Workplace Safety: NISWS (www.nisws.com) provides school districts with proven solutions to protect students, faculty, and staff and prevent litigation. NISWS offers one-on-one consulting, seminars, hotlines, and criminal database programs for schools, businesses, corporations and law enforcement agencies that are prevention-driven, not incident-driven.

2002

January 27, 2002: Forum stresses safety in schools - Wolfgang Halbig delivers a school safety presentation in Springfield, Massachusetts.

<http://www.masslive.com/news/parchives/ae627vio.html>

Presenter Wolfgang W. Halbig, executive director of the National Institute for School and Workplace Safety in Orlando, Fla., was brought to the group by Sonitrol Corp.

Employees from area school districts whose buildings are protected by Sonitrol equipment were invited. Participants included administrators, counselors, police officers and custodians from Springfield, Chicopee, Holyoke, West Springfield, Westfield, Ludlow, Greenfield and several northern Connecticut towns.

Halbig peppered his talk with real stories, such as the walkout and the fight, and urged districts to make sure every employee — and every student — is involved in keeping schools safe. "Kids are ready to step up and take ownership. They only need to be invited," he said. Halbig, a former Florida state trooper and school administrator, advised them to produce a safety plan that will apply to every school in their district, and update it yearly. And every office worker must know how to stop the ringing of the bells that alert students to change classes. If there is a danger in the halls, officials will want the students to stay in their classes.

April 24, 2002: Wolfgang files a lien against Allen and Judy Flood, in the amount of $270,000 for the property Towers Ten Condominiums unit 2201 (see Nov 2002 for outcome.)

(RIGHT: Towers Ten Condominiums, 3425 S Atlantic Ave Daytona Beach Shores, FL 32118)

June 27, 2002: "Forum Stresses Safety In Schools"
<http://www.masslive.com/news/archives/ae627vio.htm>

SPRINGFIELD — It's near the end of first lunch in the school cafeteria and students are riled enough over their new schedules to storm out of the building in protest, all 600 of them.

How does the assistant principal respond?

The school custodian turns a hallway corner to stumble onto a fierce fight involving several students and a few dozen young witnesses.

What's the right thing to do?

Those questions were met with silence yesterday at a daylong seminar at Central High School, where 200 women and men from 15 school districts got together to learn a few things about school safety and security.

*Presenter Wolfgang W. Halbig, executive director of the National Institute for School and Workplace Safety in Orlando, Fla., was brought to the group by Sonitrol Corp.

Employees from area school districts whose buildings are protected by Sonitrol equipment were invited. Participants included administrators, counselors, police officers and custodians from Springfield, Chicopee, Holyoke, West Springfield, Westfield, Ludlow, Greenfield and several northern Connecticut towns

July 2, 2002 - Erik Halbig is once again cited for driving without a valid license.
http://www.seminoleclerk.org/CriminalDocket/case_detail.jsp?CaseNo=592002MM006348A

Detailed Information for Case 592002MM006348A
Case Number:	592002MM006348A	Judge:	NO JUDGE
Defendant Name:	ERIK HALBIG
DOB:	05/1980
1	NO VALID D/L

November 8, 2002: a hearing is scheduled for the lien Halbig filed against the Floods.

In The Circuit Court of the Seventh Judicial Circuit In And For Volusia County, Florida
Flood State/Plaintiff/Petitioner (s) Vs Wolfgang Defendant/Respondent (s)	Case No. 2002-32286 CFI Date: 11-8-02 Subject: OTSC Charge: _____ _____ Arresting Agency: _____

November 22, 2002: Wolfgang Halbig's lien against the Floods for the Towers Ten condominium is found to be "invalid, void and of no legal effect."

11:55 atty begins argument shows court a release of lien

Court grants cancelling lien
3:56 pm Mr. Wolfgang - present
Howling

~~at adj.~~
Court grants cancelling lien
4:02 pm Court adj. atty wells to prepare order

IT IS ADJUDGED that:

- The lien filed on or about April 24, 2002, against Allen and Judy Flood, by Defendant Wolfgang Halbig on behalf of Wolfgang Halbig and the Children's Safety Network, Inc. d/b/a National Institute for School and Workplace Safety, Inc., in the amount of $270,000.00 in official record books 4858 at page 233 in the public records of Volusia County against the following real property:

2201 Towers Ten Condominiums per OR 4781, page 3582

is hereby vacated and void.

ORDERED this 22nd day of November, 2002.

December 15, 2002: Wolfgang's son Erik Halbig is arrested for obstructing police, resisting arrest. http://www.seminoleclerk.org/CriminalDocket/case_detail.jsp?CaseNo=592012CF003702A

December 21, 2002: Wolfgang once again emails Governor Jeb Bush, begging for a job. It's not clear why he wants "the responsibility of teaching and mentoring the most difficult students" when his success in this respect (when raising his own child, no less) was evident in arrest records less than a week before:

*From: Wolfgang Halbig
To: fl_governor@myflorida.com
Date: 12/21/2002 4:01:26 AM
Subject: Safe Schools Information Sharing Technology Program*

Governor Bush:

I served as the school principal at an alternative high school called Project Excel In Seminole County, Florida. This is a second chance school for students who were expelled. As a naturalized citizen from another country who couldn't speak a word of English, and still has a hard time sometimes. I wanted the responsibility of teaching and mentoring the most difficult students that others labeled as losers. I was an at-risk child in the United States, I never knew who my father was. Please consider allowing me to work with your administration, whether helping Mr. Regier or on your educational staff. My passion and honesty is crystal clear. Mr. Charlie Crist the former commissioner of Education, Mr. Jim King President of the Florida Senate has seen a part of my presentations. I would also recommend former Senate President Toni Jennings as someone who would support my hopes in your consideration. As a former Florida State Trooper who was the first college graduate to enter the academy in Tallahassee, and leave as the class president not too bad being an at-risk child, no father as a role model and always destroying the English language. Please give me a chance, just as someone once had faith in you. You will not be disappointed in my work ethics and the passion for children and education.

Happy Holidays to you and your family.

2003

February 26, 2003 - Domestic violence can reach beyond the home front - Wolfgang is quoted in an article on the effect of spousal abuse on workplace safety. He recommends more hotlines. [\[LINK\]](#)

Wolfgang Halbig, executive director of the National Institute for School and Workplace Safety, believes that most employers are behind the curve. In his view: "If you were to ask most companies to see their safety plan—meaning a comprehensive safety and security plan—they wouldn't have it. Corporate America doesn't want to spend the money on training until there's litigation. Instead, it's 'Let's put a guard outside with a gun.' So employees haven't been trained to see the red flags that could prevent incidents."

For example, says Halbig, a small step such as requiring visitors to print, not sign, their names before gaining access to offices can head off trouble. Someone in an agitated or angry state of mind will likely resist having to slow down long enough to print his name, at which point his entry can be delayed (or denied) so that more questions can be asked.

He also suggests having an employee hot line for workers to report potential dangers and encouraging employees to share personal problems if they are having a hard time dealing with them. Wells says putting up posters referring employees to outside resources that help victims of domestic violence is another small measure firms can take.

March 6, 2003: Crime-stat Discrepancies At Schools Concern Parents - [\[LINK\]](#)

"Somebody needs to make sure everybody in the state is on the same page," said Wolfgang Halbig, executive director of the Orlando-based National Institute for School and Workplace Safety.

"Legislators need good valid data when they're looking at how to change laws that relate to discipline."

March 15, 2003: Wolfgang delivers a "training seminar" at a Catholic church in Orlando.

Halbig jokes that "when you raise your right hand, to take the oath of office... don't you take oath of poverty? We are never, ever going to get rich in this profession!"

Wolfgang pushes hard for bringing police to school campuses, and pitches the NISWS "hotline" system. Near the end the archived footage of this event, a "detective" starts endorsing an audio surveillance package, exactly the technology that Sonitrol markets, with Wolfgang's endorsement.

Selected quotes

"I'm always truthful."

"I did grow up in Avon Park, Florida. But I also want you to know this today: when you look at me - and I'm mad as can be to this day - [inaudible] I never knew who my father was. And I'm angry."

"The number one problem, that we've got to get ahold of, is the lack of respect that the young people have towards adults."

"Parents don't think they need to sign it at schools. They just walk right in. They leave nasty messages on our phone. I'll tell you what, my wife is a middle school teacher, she is ready to quit. I will tell you. Teacher of the year! She is ready to walk away."

"You might be that one teacher who could save my son. My son got in trouble for drugs. If it weren't for the teacher and school counselor who save my kid, he'd be dead."

"This state trooper says: let me show you how we do it in Miami, Florida. The biggest mistake I ever made, I will never ever let anybody else tell me how to do my job."

At one point Wolf says, gesturing to someone in the back of the room, "and I also wanna thank Sonitrol's Bill Ford for sponsoring this workshop." Bill Ford then shown standing at the back wall. (RIGHT)

August 22, 2003: Petition drive seeks to teach lawmakers a school lesson

An AP Report out of Orlando reveals that Wolfgang is part of a group collecting signatures to introduce a constitutional amendment that would "force Florida lawmakers to work three days a year as a substitute teacher and one as a bus monitor." LINK

Wolfgang Halbig says he does not expect his idea to get a good reception in Tallahassee. He plans to enlist the help of teachers unions, parent organizations and other groups to get the nearly half million signatures needed to get the measure on the fall 2004 ballot. Under the plan, lawmakers would spend one day each in an elementary, middle and high school. A fourth day would be spent riding school buses.

The effort is noted to have been initiated by the "Real Hero Foundation," out of Apopka.

August 23 2003: Sign Here to make FL Nuttier - A St. Petersburg-Times editorial makes note of the various proposals vying for a spot on the upcoming election ballot. In a curious moment, Halbig suggests that part of the benefit of his proposed program would be that it would require all lawmakers to be fingerprinted and tested for illegal drugs: LINK

One might wonder exactly what lawmakers would teach our children. Maybe the art of holding out a tin cup and begging money from every passerby or filing bills that benefit their biggest campaign donors.

*But Wolfgang Halbig, an Apopka man who formed the Real Hero Foundation to back the teaching amendment, sees another benefit: Lawmakers would have to be fingerprinted and drug-tested to be substitutes.

"If they could see teachers on a daily basis and watch what they have to do from the time the kids show up, it's almost a babysitting service instead of teaching," says Halbig, a former teacher, principal and nationally recognized expert on school safety.

He hopes to recruit help from teacher unions, parents and others as he sets out to collect the 488,722 signatures he needs to get the measure on the ballot. Halbig says he got the idea from U.S. Sen. Bob Graham's work days.

April 25, 2003: Can we make our schools more secure

<http://www.aimpress.com/trumparticles.htm>

*Rather than rely solely on electronic hardware and gadgets, school officials should be watching students for a change in behavior, said Wolfgang Halbig, president of the National Institute for School and Workplace Safety in Maitland, Fla.

Halbig, who conducted a workshop for Harrisburg School District 1 1/2 years ago on ways to get students to speak up about violence, encourages the creation of 24-hour anonymous tip lines, so students can report threats without fearing retribution.

August 24, 2003: Proposed Amendment Aims To Teach Legislators

A Lesson - more coverage of the Real Hero Foundation's proposed amendment to require lawmakers to substitute teach. [\[LINK\]](#)

*"I want them to see how disrespectful so many kids are to their teachers. They're going to have kids who tell them where to go. You're going to see legislators ask if it's safe," said security consultant Wolfgang Halbig, who launched the initiative.

"You're going to see every one of them [legislators] say it's a bad idea," he added.

Bad company

Best intentions aside, a new amendment initiative proposed by a group called the Real Hero Foundation of Apopka would only further trivialize Florida's constitution. The proposed amendment would require Florida legislators to work for four days a year in the public schools — one day as a school bus monitor and three days as a substitute teacher.

"I want them to see how disrespectful so many kids are to their teachers," Wolfgang Halbig, organizer of the drive, told reporters recently. "They're going to have kids who tell them where to go. You're going to see legislators ask if it's safe (in schools)."

But while it may very well benefit state legislators to be brought into close contact with actual school kids, we're not sure it's fair to force children to rub elbows with actual politicians. ("Hey kid, is that your milk money, or do you wanna' make a campaign donation?")

September 2, 2003: Bad company - a short editorial dismisses the Real Hero Foundation's amendment as one that "would only further trivialize Florida's constitution." [\[LINK\]](#)

October 27, 2003: Save-A-Friend Hotline Program Signs Big Maryland School District. PR Release from NISWS announces they have received a "commitment" from the Anne Arundel (Maryland) school district for a hotline. It is the first documented relationship between Anne Arundel Schools and NISWS, a relationship that would soon grow more significant. [\[LINK\]](#)

The National Institute for School and Workplace Safety (OTC Pink Sheets:NIFW) has received a commitment from Anne Arundel School District to implement NISWS' Save-A-Friend Hotline program. This will be the largest school district to adopt this innovative hotline program that focuses on saving children, not drugs, weapons, and crimes like its many competitors. In Florida, the SAF hotline in one small county receives over 150 calls a year, 40 more than the statewide BE BRAVE hotline that operates in 39 counties and costs hundreds of thousands of dollars more to operate.

Wolfgang Halbig, executive director of NISWS, and a former state trooper and school safety director says: "We should not be judged on how many children we put into jail, but how many lives we save." As the driving force behind the hotline, he wants schools to focus on helping children through the difficult school years by having an anonymous place they can call and get help on suicide, abuse, threats, intimidation and bullying. "This is a live voice service whose job it is to ask 'How can I help your friend' not how can we put more kids in jail," adds Mr. Halbig.

It is NISWS' goal to add 100 new school districts a year to its Save-A-Friend hotline services, one school district at a time. Currently there are over 16,000 school districts in the U.S.

November 10, 2003: National Institute for School and Workplace Safety: The Safe School Initiative Funds Begin to Flow. Another press release from NISWS, seemingly seeking to encourage investors that the school safety contracting cash drought is over. [\[LINK\]](#)

HEATHROW, Fla.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Nov. 10, 2003

The state and federal funds targeted to school districts for the purpose of providing a safer academic environment for all students have reached over $2.5 billion in 2003. With funding coming from the No Child Left Behind Act, Homeland Security, Department of Justice and the Department of Education, educators are now able to proactively examine and improve their safety and security programs without stressing the local budgets.

In a recent presentation to 300 School Resource Officers and Principals put on by the Justice Department's COPS program, Wolfgang Halbig, Executive Director of NISWS, asked the audience: "How do you know how or what to spend the money on if you don't first determine what your problems are? Accountability and getting the best bang for the buck are the keys to a well executed Safe School Plan, and reducing the negligence liability of the school district."

NISWS has received over 20 calls from recently funded school districts (average grant over $500,000) and been invited to speak at numerous conferences as the educators determine how to spend these targeted funds in their schools. The highest demand is for the NISWS School Safety Plan and Emergency Management Plan that are an essential first step in implementing a viable safety or security program. NISWS also conducts independent safety assessments and is often asked to train local school staff in the proper method to conduct a school safety audit.

December 19, 2003: Wolfgang is granted power of attorney status for his mother.

<http://records.hcclerk.org/OnCoreWeb/showdetails.aspx?id=521156&m=23&pi=1&ref=search>

2004

January 2004: Security Magazine, a trade publication, references Wolfgang Halbig, The Diocese of Orlando, and Sonitrol in its "best practices" column, describing the presentation Wolfgang delivered.. <http://www.securitymagazine.com/articles/76854>

The Diocese of Orlando (Fla.) is one of many educational organizations throughout the country that has participated in school safety workshops aimed at reducing risk, which are sponsored by Alexandria, Va.-based Sonitrol, part of the Tyco Fire & Security family. Sonitrol conducted two different workshops for the diocese: one for principals and assistant principals of the organization's 35 Catholic schools, and a second for the 900 diocesan school employees. The outcome: a safe-school committee, which drafted an emergency-management plan with a quick-reference guide for each of the classrooms within the school district. "The key to making schools safe is to reduce risk on a daily basis," says Wolfgang Halbig, executive director at the National Institute for School and Workplace Safety.

February 6, 2004: Are Schools Safe Places? [\[LINK\]](#)

Wolfgang Halbig, head of the Orlando-based National Institute for School and Workplace Safety, said schools don't need to lock bathrooms. Just check them.

"That's where the kids go to harass, bully and threaten," he said. "All you have to do is walk in and do a cursory look. What's it got to take for someone to pay attention? You must provide adequate supervision at all times."

March 16 2004: PR from National Institute for School and Workplace Safety announces that a more lucrative Anne Arundel deal has been signed, suggesting an imminent financial windfall.

<http://www.thefreelibrary.com/NISWS+Lands+Important+Contract.-a0131525678>

NISWS Lands Important Contract.

*"The National Institute for School and Workplace Safety, Inc. (OTC Pink Sheets: NIFW), a Heathrow-based publicly traded company specializing in school safety and security issues, just received a $395,000 one-year contract to assess 122 schools and provide training for bus drivers, administrators, teachers, and staff in Anne Arundel County, Maryland. NISWS was selected over 15 national security companies that had bid on the project. The company is also providing the County with the "Save-A-Friend" Hotline Service and a character education program called "Break the Code of Silence."

According to Executive Director Wolfgang Halbig: "Taking on a project of this magnitude is a big step for the company. NISWS has struggled for five years to prove itself as a leading provider of school safety and security programs. Our successful bid in such a large school district substantiates our position as an industry leader. Very few companies have the experience in the market that we have pulled together, it is nice to be recognized for our accomplishments."

This one contract will double the revenues generated by the company in its best year of operation in a market misunderstood by many security companies. "Schools must trust you to let you in to help them," says Halbig, the former Security Director for Seminole County Schools. "This is a face-to-face business that has taken us five years to break into the larger school districts. We have worked very hard to build our reputation in over 30 states and 100 of the 17,006 school districts over the last five years; this is our year to shine."

Chapter 9: the Long Way Down

Bid #04SC-72, Multi-Hazard Threat Safety and Security Assessments and Consulting Services

Proposal Results and Award

Contractor	Price	Technical Score (70%)	Pricing Score (30%)	Total Evaluated Score = 100%
(NISWS) National Institute for School and Workplace Safety	$395,915.00	69.30	18.00	87.30
Systech Group	$238,188.20	50.96	30.00	80.96
Design Atlantic	$484,620.00	60.06	14.70	74.76
Howard Services	$1,099,510.00	50.12	6.30	56.42

April 7 2004: Bid Review Flawed, Schools Chief Says - A Washington Post article shows that the NISWS deal with Anne Arundel has come under scrutiny. The contract had apparently not been reviewed by the school board before it was awarded, and cronyism is suspected when it is found that two people on the bid selection committee were related.

One of these two, a "school system security chief" named J. Mark Black, was then found to have an existing relationship with Wolfgang Halbig that apparently had not been disclosed. LINK

One of the bidders now says he complained about that issue in mid-August, before the solicitation was ended, and again in an Aug. 30 letter. "It just didn't pass the public integrity smell test," the bidder, Kenneth S. Trump of the firm National School Safety and Security Services in Ohio, said in an interview.

[...] That contract, $175,000 of which will be paid from a federal grant the schools received in September, was not reviewed by the board before the staff awarded it to the National Institute for School and Workplace Safety of Florida. District policies are not explicit on when board review must occur, Smith has said.

The director of the Florida company, Wolfgang W. Halbig, said in interviews that he met J. Mark Black at a conference in Washington before the school system asked for proposals last summer. The two also spent a day together in Florida discussing a hotline program that Halbig's firm markets, he said. But Halbig said his firm did not gain any edge in the bidding process as a result.

[...] The Florida company's proposal made it the second-lowest bidder, after the Reston-based Systech Group's $238,000 bid. Documents show that the selection panel relied heavily on technical judgments rather than cost, and Halbig's firm won on the strength of its experience and specific proposal.

April 7, 2004: School official uneasy over contract awards

http://articles.baltimoresun.com/2004-04-07/news/0404070391_1_school-safety-mcnelly-contracts

April 8, 2004 Arundel school board to review rule on contracts after questions are raised http://articles.baltimoresun.com/2004-04-08/news/0404080444_1_arundel-school-mcnelly-school-board

The Anne Arundel County Board of Education decided yesterday to review a local policy that gives the superintendent authority to grant certain contracts, regardless of size, without consulting the board.

This week, board member Michael McNelly questioned the school system's granting of a $395,000 contract to the Florida-based National Institute for School and Workplace Safety for a safety assessment of the county's 117 schools. School officials said they did not seek board approval because it wasn't required.

"There have been a lot of concerns from the community on this issue," McNelly said at yesterday's school board meeting. "I think we are obligated to ask questions."

McNelly questioned why the institute won the contract when it was only the second-lowest bidder, and he expressed doubts about the firm's experience with large jobs.

9 on at the time. You know, we were trying to do a national L0 company. We just got a half-a-million-dollar contract in L1 Anne Arundel County, Maryland, where Dr. Eric Smith, who L2 used to be the Winter Park principal, is now the L3 superintendent, he gave us a half-million-dollar contract to L4 evaluate all of his schools.

April 15, 2004: Washington Post article: Anne Arundel Pact To Be Scrutinized. Halbig mentions a "friend in Charlotte" that knew Eric Smith - investigators have not yet determined if this refers to J. Mark Black or another "friend." [\[LINK\]](#)

The parents group, which has popularized its cause on a Web site, is questioning Smith, whose national reputation as an education reformer -- and $300,000 annual salary -- made a splash in Anne Arundel when he was hired two years ago from Charlotte.

"Is Smith earning his $300,000 salary/benefit package?" asked a recent posting on the group's Web site. "Where are the improvements? Taxpayers will be asking hard questions."

The skirmish over the safety contract was fueled, in part, by Smith's history as a principal and school administrator in Florida two decades ago. Smith worked in the Orlando area's Orange County. One of the founders of the Florida firm, Wolfgang W. Halbig, worked in neighboring Seminole County.

Smith and Halbig said yesterday that they had not met or spoken until after the contract was awarded. But parent Tracey Hess, whose husband, Curt, administers the Web site, said she and others have drawn their own conclusions. "I think it's an outrage," she said. "Why does it cost that much? Why does [Smith] hire his buddy from Florida?"

Smith said that, in a district with a $360 million budget, he had "absolutely no involvement in the selection of this company" and did not even know about the contract until after it was awarded. Halbig, who said the contract is the largest in the company's five-year history, marveled at the degree to which some parents have seemed to align against him. "I can't believe a group of parents can have that much influence," he said yesterday.

Halbig said he does have a friend who knows Smith from Charlotte, but he said the mutual friend had no involvement in the bidding for the contract.

May 15, 2004: Crash near BWI kills cargo pilot - In perhaps a fitting metaphor for the whole scenario that brought him there, Wolfgang Halbig is witness to a plane crash in Maryland. Halbig takes particular note of the fact that the pilot of the plane opted not to harm innocent people on his way to ruin.

http://articles.baltimoresun.com/2004-05-15/news/0405150139_1_crash-plane-cargo

Shortly after 7 a.m., Wolfgang W. Halbig, a school security consultant, was standing near the parking lot at North County High School in Ferndale, watching parents drop off their children and students step off school buses.

Classes began at 7:17 a.m. About 7:22 a.m., Halbig saw what he described as an unbelievable sight. "Off by the tree line, I see an airplane flying very low. ... It came right over the parent drop-off area," he said. "It was directly over them. ... I mean, I could see the underbelly."

The plane's path took it between the high school and nearby Hilltop Elementary School, whose pupils arrived an hour later. It buzzed over athletic fields and the parking area, headed toward a red-checkered tower on the western edge of the school's property and banked sharply to the left, Halbig said.

The plane then veered to the right before jerking back to the left again, and then suddenly dived toward the ground. Halbig lost sight of it but then saw a cloud of black smoke rise into the sky. He and his two employees drove over to the scene, where emergency crews had already arrived.

"He [the pilot] had to see all those kids and parents," Halbig said. "And if he knew, then he did a great job. He went straight down; he didn't hurt other people."

September 23, 2004: Halbig once again injures himself tackling a student. [\[LINK\]](#)

DESCRIBE JOB/WORK RESPONSIBILITIES: Assistant Principal
PLEASE DESCRIBE ACCIDENT: Major fight between students getting off buses on campus, observed policeman dragging student to vehicle and then saw another fight teacher restraining a student with difficulty-Claimant helped and took student.
PART(S) OF BODY INJURED: cartilage damage to right knee

Question #12 Wolfgang MUST answer: why do you keep hurting yourself on the job? Aren't you a "national expert" on school and workplace safety? Your workplace is a school, and you can't seem to keep even yourself safe there.

2 Q During the time that you worked at Sanford Middle 3 school as an assistant principal, were you ever injured on 4 the job?
 5 A Yes, I was.
 6 Q What happened?
 7 A Teacher was getting beat up, school administrators
 8 and security officers were having a problem. I intervened.
 9 I took the kid to the ground and it was a concrete ground
 10 and I injured my right knee 'cause I went down with my right
 11 knee. And I had a -- what do you call it? --
 12 arthroscopic -- cartilage.

December 29, 2004: Wolf and Kathleen re-marry in Las Vegas. According to Wolf's 2010 deposition, they co-habitate again after this point

File Date:	1/3/2005 1:25 PM
Number of Pages:	1
Book Type:	MAR
Document Type:	(MC) MARRIAGE CERTIFICATE
Party 1	HALBIG, WOLFGANG WALTER
Party 2	HALBIG, KATHLEEN SMITH
Acknowledgement Date:	12/29/2004
Marriage Date:	12/29/2004
Marriage Certificate #:	D762556
Previous Related Docs:	D762556

2005

February 8, 2005: Central Florida School Resource Officers Still Armed With Tasers - Quote from Halbig in article about tasers. No mention is made of Halbig's prior experience with "stun guns" at school (see November 5, 1992.) It is noted that Ha <http://www.wftv.com/news/news/central-florida-school-resource-officers-still-arm/nJh5R/>

She's one of a dozen students hit by tasers from Orange County school resource officers. Officers in Seminole and Brevard county schools are carrying the weapons, too. Sheriff deputies say tasers are a good option for helping subdue students, when it's necessary. They believe the weapons are safe and effective.

But the man running Seminole County School's safety program does not. Wolfgang Halbig isn't allowed to speak on camera, but he said this on the radio: "It is a matter of time before a kid is killed."

Some doctors say huge electrical jolts can damage young hearts, although just what qualifies as young is up for debate.

Question #13 Wolfgang MUST answer: What exactly is your job right at this point? Why are you bizarrely referred to as "the man running the safety program" but who "isn't allowed to speak on camera?" Why aren't you allowed to appear on television now? It was okay in 1996, what happened? And what radio show were you on?

February 14, 2005: A commentary on bullying is posted to Education Weekly forums, by "Wolfgang W. Halbig Assistant Principal" [\[LINK\]](#)

Posted by: Wolfgang W. Halbig Assistant Principal | February 14, 2005 4:51 PM

The Federal Department of Education under the Safe and Drug Free School program has considered bullying as a rite of passage for the past decade. Now with all the violence, threats, intimidation and harassment across the country in our public and private schools they are now seeking solutions.

Now they want schools to fix this huge problem which causes over 16,000 students every not to come to school because of fear.

You cannot fix this enormous problem until every teacher, school staff member and school administration knows the four types of bullies that exist on our school campuses. They must know the RED FLAG warning signs in order to intervene and clearly understand on how to help the victims.

We need to quit using the word bully as an excuse, whoever allowed bullying as a rite of passage needs to be trained on the serious effects that our children have to live with every day. The Center for Disease Control (CDC) has placed all family Doctors on notice in observing signs of threats, intimidation and harassment that children might encounter in our schools. The four types of bullies are:

1. Physical
2. Verbal
3. Social
4. High-Tech

Which of the four occurred at Columbine which caused us to change how we deal with major Emergencies?

Training and knowledge will help prevent incident from unfolding. But, someone has to have the courage to make it happen.

March 24 2005: - Erik Halbig is arrested for drunk driving, running a red light, and speeding.
http://www.seminoleclerk.org/CriminalDocket/case_detail.jsp?CaseNo=592005MM003220A

Detailed Information for Case 592005MM003220A
Case Number:	592005MM003220A	Judge:	WOODARD III, JOHN
Defendant Name:	ERIK HALBIG
DOB:	05/1980
<hr/>
<input type="checkbox"/>	RAN RED LIGHT
<input type="checkbox"/>	RECK DRIVE ALCOHOL
<input type="checkbox"/>	UNLAWFUL SPEED
<hr/>

March 28, 2005: A commentary arguing for increased school funding for counselors is posted to Education Weekly forums, by “Wolfgang W. Halbig/ School Administrator.” Wolfgang works in several of his favorite catchphrases, such as “break the code of silence” and “red flags.” [\[LINK\]](#)

Apr 4 2005 - Erik Halbig’s reign of terror continues: Wolfgang Halbig’s dangerously violent son is arrested yet again, this time for aggravated assault with a deadly weapon, battery, and felony battery.
http://www.seminoleclerk.org/CriminalDocket/case_detail.jsp?CaseNo=592005CF001470A

Detailed Information for Case 592005CF001470A
Case Number:	592005CF001470A	Judge:	NELSON, DEBRA S
Defendant Name:	ERIK HALBIG
DOB:	05/1980
<hr/>
<input type="checkbox"/>	AGG ASSLT W/DEAD WPN
<input type="checkbox"/>	BATTERY
<input type="checkbox"/>	FELONY BATTERY
<hr/>

April 26, 2005 Halbig is listed under “PERSONNEL RECOMMENDATIONS FOR REAPPOINTMENT FOR 2005-06” as Assistant Principal at Sanford Middle School.
<http://www.scps.k12.fl.us/PORTALS/53/assets/pdf/2005meetings/42605/Adm1.pdf>

April 2005 (approximate) - Wolfgang Halbig has an affair, lasting two weeks and in some way requiring or resulting in a Cialis prescription:

2 Q Okay. when would that have been?

3 A I had an affair with someone from school. That

4 would have been prior -- would have been prior to the

5 accident, I had a -- I had a relationship. My wife found

6 out. She's knowledgeable of it. And I did ask the doctor

7 for -- what do you call it? whatever -- Cialis.

8 Q Okay.

9 A Yeah. But --

10 Q And that was a result of the relationship you were 11 having with this lady?

12 A Yes. But it was only for two weeks. It was a

13 mistake. It was during the time my mother was dying and it

14 caused me to go back to the hometown where I grew up in and 15 I made a bad mistake. And the doctor -- so I just want you

16 to know I did get a prescription for it so it's on the 17 record so -- and my wife does know about it.

18 Q And the lady's name?

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR HIGHLANDS COUNTY, FLORIDA
PROBATE DIVISION
FILE NO. PC 05-462

IN RE: ESTATE OF GERTRUDE HALBIG
a.k.a. GERTRUDE A. HALBIG Deceased.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS

The administration of the estate of GER-TRUDE HALBIG a.k.a. GERTRUDE A. HALBIG, deceased, whose date of death was April 30,
2005, and whose Social Security Number is [REDACTED], is pending in the Circuit Court

April 30, 2005 - Wolfgang's mother dies [\[LINK\]](#)

June 14 2005: Wolf sues his mother's insurance company.
(Orange County Courts UCN:482005CA005080A001OX)

2005-CA-005080-O :
ESTATE OF GERTRUDE HALBIG, vs.
METROPOLITAN PROPERTY AND CASUALTY INSURANCE COMPANY

June 23, 2005 Halbig resigns from Sanford Middle School.
[\[LINK\]](#)

ADMINISTRATIVE TERMINATION AND RESIGNATION for 2004-05
1. Halbig, Wolfgang W - Sanford Middle School, Assistant Principal Middle 11, Reason: Resig for employ in Educ in FI, Termination Effective Date 6/23/2005

In the same document, Kathleen S. Halbig also resigns: 19. Halbig, Kathleen S - Rock Lake Middle School, Teacher, Reason: Resig for employ in Educ in FI, Termination Effective Date 6/02/2005

Question #14 Wolfgang MUST answer: What exactly is going on here? Why did you both quit your jobs? Did your wife's new position with Lake County turn out to be a more effective avenue into the county's tax coffers than yours had been?

2012 Wolfgang says:

1 Then in 2005 you leave Sanford Middle School. And why do
2 you leave Sanford Middle School?
3 A Because my wife took a job at Lake County as the 4 technology manager and for the first time, I get to follow
5 her. She's always had to follow me, being the coach and 6 teacher, so --
7 Q Where was she working before she went over to Lake
8 County?
9 A Seminole County.
10 Q And what position do you take in Lake County?
11 A Director of risk management.

July 12, 2005 Halbig is noted as having moved, and his private information is found in a box full of documents at his old apartment complex, completely unprotected. [\[LINK\]](#)

*Halbig moved from the Colonial Village Apartments in Lake Mary several years ago, but his personal information stayed behind. It's tough for Halbig to believe, since he works in risk management.

"I am very adamant about identity theft. I mean, it's the biggest crime that's happening across the world, across the country, and it's happening in my back yard, it's happening to me," Halbig said.

*Halbig's paperwork was among other files found in the laundry room of the apartment complex. A person living there called Channel 9 after he saw the five boxes of files just sitting on top of a table in the public laundry room. On the paperwork were private accounts, driver's license numbers and social security numbers.

"You can pull up my credit report. I mean, you can find everything about me, who I shop with. I mean, that is negligence," Halbig said.

Question #15 Wolfgang Halbig MUST answer: How is it that you were in charge of school safety when you let a student get your gun, AND you were in risk management when BOXES of your vital documents were left out for anyone to find? Is this a joke?

July 19, 2005: Report: School personnel failed to act on abuse - a Seminole County teacher is found by an internal investigation to have been "abusing autistic students in her classes." Halbig is not involved in this event, but his later actions suggest he may have followed news coverage about it (see "Children's Safety Institute" events of 2013) [\[LINK\]](#)

August 19, 2005: An Education Weekly blog comment is posted by "Wolfgang W. Halbig Administrator" http://blogs.edweek.org/talkback/2005/08/humdrum_high.html

Without a doubt teachers are ready and prepared to teach on a daily basis. The student who is coming to school today is not the same student who came to school 25 years ago. Today, these kids think that they have a sense of entitlement for easy grades and less work. Overall they are lazy, and it starts at the Elementary schools which now have parents doing their projects and assignments. Man this is great I will get an A.

Poor work ethics. Having to pay your kids to get good grades, electives all over the place so if they fail they will take it over. If teachers today truly held students accountable for their grades, the failure rate would be enormous. We have open book test's now, we allow them to take their test at home, we give them extra assignments for extra credit, block schedule so they now do their homework in class. Their lazy and we allow it. They know it or they would get to work.

October 19, 2005: Wolf emails Jeb Bush (note: text has been edited to correct formatting errors in source)

*From: Halbiga Wolfgang <HalbigW@lake.k12.fl.us>
To: Governor Jeb Bush
Date: 10/19/2005 6:42:38 PM
Subject: Emergency Management Recommendation*

Governor Bush;

In the United Air Force I was trained in Disaster Preparedness in light of the fact that our base served as a B-52 Bomber base with nuclear weapons. The number one issue that confronted the base and the community on a daily bases was what if a B-52 Bomber crashed and an accident occurred triggering an explosion. How would we handle such a scenario?

Hurricane Katrina again showed us that we are vulnerable when a plan is not executed and all of our resources not utilized. We in Florida have been very fortunate in our response. But I would like for you to urgently consider adopting a new concept that requires Amtrak to become a front line provider in evacuating senior citizens out of the area. Our job would be to transport them to the train station for evacuation. The sleeper cars would be ideal in providing some comfort instead of lying on a tarmac, airport lounge, cargo area ,or left in a wheel chair to die. The compartments would allow nursing help as needed; the dinning cars would provide food services that are fully serviced before arriving. Homeland Security can sent those resources to an area that needs to have to most vulnerable evacuated.

The United States Government already subsidizes this expensive system, and I believe that with your help that states that need to get people out of the area who cannot afford it can use the trains and our busses. Large numbers can be evacuated quickly and safely to designated points for pickup and sheltering.

Amtrak is one of our greatest resources for the elderly. Please, Please, Please get someone to incorporate this most valuable resource into our response program in order to save those in need. You are our leader in time of emergencies; please share this concept with others.

Thanks
Wolfgang W. Halbig

November 8, 2005: the law firm of Morgan & Morgan, on behalf of Wolfgang Halbig, files a Petition for Benefits with the State of Florida, Division of Administrative Hearings, Office of the Judges of Compensation Claims. This is for benefits applying to the Sept 23rd on-the-job injury.

TELEPHONE:	Boulevard Sanford, FL 32773-7127 TELEPHONE: (407) 320-0241	Lake Mary, FL 32795-3967 TELEPHONE: (321) 832-1400
OJCC NUMBER:	ACCIDENT DATE: 9/23/2004 (IMPORTANT: Only one accident date per PFS form will be processed.)	ACCIDENT CITY: Sanford COUNTY: Seminole STATE: FL
CLAIMANT'S NAME: _____ ADDRESS: _____ TELEPHONE: (____) _____	(if different from Employee)	EMPLOYEE'S AVERAGE WEEKLY WAGE: $ _____
EMPLOYEE/CLAIMANT ATTORNEY: Basil A. Valdivia ADDRESS: Morgan & Morgan, P.A.	EMPLOYER/CARRIER ATTORNEY: Michael Peterson ADDRESS: Post Office Box 536636

Q And it looks like the total settlement was $11,750, of which out of that I assume you had to pay your attorney?

A Yes.

Q What kind of problems were you having with your right knee back in that time?

A Well, at the time I was running and chasing. I mean, I had no problems, I mean, until after the injury, and I went right back to having to deal with swelling, deal with pain, putting weight on the foot, and, again, a lot of -- a lot of medication, pain medication.

Q That would have been back in the 2004, 2005 time frame?

A Right. It's 2004, 2005.

The form includes this entry: "The injured employee seeks Authorization and payment of evaluation and treatment with a psychiatrist as recommended by Dr. Rosen; see Attached; Authorization and payment of Aquatic Therapy Program 3x/week for 2-3 months; see attached" - However, Wolfgang in 2012 would deny that he followed this recommendation for psychiatric treatment from Dr. Rosen.

Medical care under the supervision of Dr(s): _____ . The employee has previously requested the treatment, but the employer/carrier has failed, refused, or neglected to provide such treatment within a reasonable time.

xx The injured employee seeks Authorization and payment of evaluation and treatment with a psychiatrist as recommended by Dr. Rosen; see attached; Authorization and payment of Aquatic Therapy Program 3x/week for 2-3 months; see attached _____ (type of medical treatment).

The treatment is needed because _____ .
Medically necessary (professional/nonprofessional) attendant care as per the direction of a physician. The employee has previously specifically requested the attendant care, but the employer/carrier has failed, refused, or neglected to provide the care within a reasonable time. The injured employee seeks attendant care because _____ . Physician who prescribed care: Dr. _____ .
Reimbursement of mileage to and from medical care providers in the amount of $ _____ (mileage _____)

November 14 2005 - Wolf and Kathleen take out a mortgage

[Space Above This Line For Recording Data] _____ LOAN # 3303389880

MORTGAGE

DEFINITIONS

Words used in multiple sections of this document are defined below and other words are defined in Sections 3, 11, 13, 18, 20 and 21. Certain rules regarding the usage of words used in this document are also provided in Section 16.

(A) "Security Instrument" means this document, which is dated NOVEMBER 14, 2005 , together with all Riders to this document.

(B) "Borrower" is KATHLEEN S. HALBIG, A MARRIED PERSON, JOINED BY WOLFGANG HALBIG HER SPOUSE, WHOSE MAILING ADDRESS IS 1821 CRANBERRY ISLES WAY, APOPKA, FL 32712

2006

January 14, 2006: Prevention, training are keys to school safety, experts say - [\[LINK\]](#)

January 21 2006: Metal detectors not cure-all, schools say - essentially a rehashing of the previous week's article (note that Wolf is described as "a consultant in risk management with WK and Associates" - WK is Wolfgang, so he is a consultant with himself.) [\[LINK\]](#)

Walk-through and wand-style detectors can be found in hundreds of Florida schools, including some in Orange County, but national changes in school-safety philosophy have refocused the attention of schools on other strategies.

"I think what they've learned is that metal detectors are not as effective as other programs that are available," said Wolfgang Halbig, a consultant with WK and Associates, an Apopka-based security company that has worked with local school districts. "We've learned the school-safety package has to be more complete than that."

March 21 2006 "The School Board approved the settlement of the workers' compensation claim of Wolfgang Halbig as recommended by Michael Peterson, Esq."

<http://www.scps.k12.fl.us/PORTALS/53/assets/pdf/2006meetings/32106/32106.PDF>

<http://www.scps.k12.fl.us/PORTALS/53/assets/pdf/2006meetings/32106/bigbook.pdf>

1. Superintendent's Recommendation: That the School Board of Seminole County approve the settlement of the workers' compensation claim of Wolfgang Halbig as recommended by Michael Peterson, Esq. 2. Background/Analysis: Mr. Halbig was employed by the Seminole County School Board, as an assistant principal at the time of his injuries. He sustained compensable injuries on September 23, 2004 and thereafter. [...] Fiscal Impact: A one time charge of $11,750.00 against the district's self-insurance fund.

April 6, 2006: Sonitrol Corporation buys its Orlando franchise owned by Bill Ford - Wolfgang's partner.

<http://www.spirecapital.com/media-room/press-releases/sonitrol-acquires-orlando-franchise>

May 29, 2006: - Wolfgang donates $400 to the Democratic party in Florida

<http://www.city-data.com/elec2/elec-APOPKA-FL.html>

Wolfgang Halbig (Wk&associates/Safety And Security C), (Zip code: 32712) $400 to DEMOCRATIC EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF FLORIDA on 05/29/06

June 24, 2006 - Schools scramble to get insurance - Halbig is quoted as showing frustration with the budgeting process for insurance policies and severe weather. He is a "risk manager for Lake County Schools." [\[LINK\]](#)

But the schools have a lot of real estate. Some of it, such as Seabreeze High in Daytona Beach with its otherwise-enviable ocean view, is at high risk from hurricanes.

"How are we supposed to protect the taxpayers' investment in the schools if the insurance companies are refusing to write policies that will cover them?" said Wolfgang Halbig, risk manager for Lake County schools.

This year, Seminole had $200 million in insurance coverage and paid $1.3 million for it. The premium for the coming year will be $3.4 million for the $25 million coverage that includes a higher deductible.

July 20, 2006: A forum post at edweekly is submitted by "Wolfgang W. Halbig Administrator" [\[LINK\]](#)

CELLPHONES..... As a school administrator I beleive that every must be required to carry a cell phone in the event that the school administration, school guidance counselor, teacher or school clinic can find the parent when needed during the school day. I find it amazing that we can never get ahold of the parent when we need them in the event of a discipline issue or when a child is injured. Yet, the parents are telling us the school that there child is going to have a cell phone. When parents take responsibilty of their child then only then should we consider the use by students in after school hours use to reach the parent. As a school administrator I have never denied a student from calling his parent or the use of our pay phone. This is getting totally out of control especiall now with the picture phones being used in the showers or bathrooms and posting the image on the Internet. We are the school, we do not tell parents how to raise their children. Therefore let us do what is right in establishing a school climate for learning not cell phone, picture or messaging use throughout the school day.

This is common sense.....

August 29, 2006: Wolfgang posts a comment to Education Weekly. In it, he once again argues for a law or amendment that would force lawmakers to work at public schools. He also demonstrates an awareness of the Gates Foundation providing grants to schools. His wife, Kathleen, would go on to be a director of resources from a Gates grant, in the same school district that employs both of them at this point in time (Lake County). http://blogs.edweek.org/talkback/2006/08/money_momentum.html

Posted by: Wolfgang W. Halbig Administrator | August 29, 2006 2:41 PM

Bill and Melinda Gates are on a noble mission which is to help schools achieve. Those changes will never ever take place until state legislators are required to substitute teach four days a year. One day in the Elementary School, one day in the middle school, one day in the high school and finally on the fourth day they must ride a school bus to and from school.

This would be a giant step in improving the quality of public schools. I believe it is time for all voters to adopt a constitutional amendment that will require them to be held accountable by becoming an active community worker/substitute and not as a legislator. There is a famous chinese saying that I used as a school administrator and as a teacher in the classroom 1. If they only hear it they will forget. 2. If they see it then they will remember. 3. If they do it then they will understand. This is just common sense, why would you not want to be part of our educational system by becoming a substitute for only four school days. This will allow you to see and remember as you are funding and writing new legislation that will hinder school districts from doing their job such as the NO CHILD LEFT BEHIND LEGISLATION.

If you are reading this message, please get others involved in order to make this happen.

2007

Posted by: Wolfgang W. Halbig Administrator | March 28, 2007 2:59 PM

On day one of school every student has an A, what parents need to learn and be told is how his or her child lost that A. We should not have to explain how the child earned a C and get totally blasted by the parents. This grade inflation is a serious issue in every private, parochial and public school in the country. If you out there think it is not a problem, you need a serious reality check. Do I give the student a D or F, If I give them a F I may have him or her again next year, I don't want to have to deal with those parents again. So we give a D and move the problem on to the next teacher. Multiply that by the thousands and you have a serious problem. Do I give a student a B or A knowing that the parents are going to jump into your face by giving him or her a B. So we give them an A. Problem solved. We have school administrators looking at the grade distribution by teachers, if too many fail for not doing their work they get hammered on their evaluation. We have school administrators looking at the demographic grade distribution and if too many whites pass versus african americans or mexicans they get hammered. Those of you in the trenches know that we are giving away the store in order to make the system happy. Forget the cheating aspects of grade inflation. We see it and fail to deal it with because of having to deal with the parents and their lawyers. This is a serious very serious issue that I am glad someone is least bringing it to the forefront in discussing the issue.
wolf

Posted by: Wolfgang W. Halbig Administrator | April 18, 2007 1:38 PM

Red Flags everywhere and we again fail to see the warning signs. From his dorm room to his classes to his writing. When you take the content of his writing plus behavior you have a red flag.

I just completed training over 5000 school police officers and school administrators on rules of engagement. I am hoping that the first police officer on the scene engaged the shooter to neutralize the shooter and save lives. The first incident with two fatalities probably caused all the campus police officer to respond to that dorm, it is a natural reaction by police. There is a shift change from midnight to dayshift and what most parents and the community do not know that the school police department does not have the manpower or the resources to handle these fatalities in a very effective time frame, they must wait for the juristication in charge to take over which would probably be the State Police in this case. Valuable time lost, and now there is another shooting across campus, who is charge. Columbine showed this country that failure to communicate and failure to engage caused students to die and get seriously injured. Rules of engagement must be crystal clear as you can see at VT. What parents do not know is that college police departments losse jurisdiction when fatalities unfold on school campuses. I cannot believe on how many police officers were hiding behind trees and police cars while shots are being fired while students and school staff are being killed and injured. This can happen anywhere at anytime.

April 16, 2007: Aquasplash Pools, LLC is registered by Erik Halbig.

Florida Limited Liability Company
AQUASPLASH POOLS, LLC
Filing Information
Document Number	L07000040539
FEI/EIN Number	20-8877706
Date Filed	04/16/2007
State	FL
Status	INACTIVE
Last Event	ADMIN DISSOLUTION FOR ANNUAL REPORT
Event Date Filed	09/27/2013
Event Effective Date	NONE
Principal Address
25526 HAWKS RUN LN SORRENTO, FL 32776
Changed: 04/14/2012
Mailing Address
25526 HAWKS RUN LN SORRENTO, FL 32776
Changed: 04/14/2012
Registered Agent Name & Address
HALBIG, ERIK W 25526 HAWKS RUN LN SORRENTO, FL FL

July 19, 2007: Board considers school safety audit - Ocala-Star Banner article describes how Brian Marcum (Wolfgang's associate) is pushing the Marion County school board to hire an unnamed "safety consultant" <http://www.ocala.com/article/20070719/NEWS/70719008?p=1&tc=pg>

OCALA - Marion County School Board members say the School District is doing a good job at protecting students but more security measures must be taken to ensure that safety record continues.

At a workshop today, School Board members debated whether to spend about $200,000 to hire a security consultant to examine the county's 50 schools, looking for risks and potential threats. "We've been lucky," School Board Chairman Ron Crawford said of the few serious instances that have occurred on school campuses. "The world is becoming more dangerous."

[...] [Brian] Marcum said during the meeting that security needs to be beefed up it because the terrorist group al Qaeda has announced more Americans must be targeted and that "4 million adults and 1 million children must die," he said.

July 22 2007: Halbig gives a presentation

http://www.fasa.net/upload_documents/agenda5-8-07.pdf

November 28, 2007: Wolfgang Halbig contributes to Hillary Clinton's presidential campaign. She is opposing Barack Obama. <http://www.city-data.com/elec2/08/elec-APOPKA-FL-08.html>

December 31 2007: "Architects Must Participate in School Safety and Security Audits" - an article written by Wolfgang Halbig is published in Campus Safety Magazine. It is a very revealing document as to his professional ambitions and employment status at this time. [\[LINK\]](#)

From the time students are dismissed in the afternoon until well into the evening, demands are made on a wide variety of school facilities to support an extensive array of student programs and activities. Band and chorus rooms, the stage and auditorium, the gymnasium, locker rooms, athletic fields, the media center, computer labs, multi-purpose rooms and the school cafeteria all receive intense utilization throughout the school year. The challenge confronting architects is to design a building in such a fashion that students and the public can simultaneously use it safely, and custodial personnel can clean, maintain and secure vacant parts of the campus.

It is because of these challenges that WK & Associates recommends assessments be conducted annually on the campus of every school in America and that school design architects participate with safety and security experts, administrators, and other appropriate persons in the conduct of such audits.

Districts Shouldn't Just Leave It All Up to the Principals

Every architect today uses safety and security as their No.1 priority when presenting their design to school board members. The problem is that they design it, build it and walk away. School administrators then are confronted with the poor traffic flow for parents and school buses, as well as a lack of parking spaces for school staff, visitors and students where applicable.

Architects and engineers engaged in building new schools or renovating old ones must provide administrators with the locations in their design of the safest areas to evacuate students and staff in the event of severe weather/tomados or even in the event of a shelter-in-place event. We cannot place this awesome responsibility solely on a school principal.

Remember, school and workplace safety is everyone's responsibility!

Wolfgang Halbig is currently the director of risk management for the Lake County (Fla.) Public Schools. He was formerly the executive director and national school safety consultant for the National Institute for School and Workplace Safety. He can be reached at wolfgangh@cfl.rr.com

2008

January 3, 2008 - Wolfgang is ticketed for speeding.

Parties
Full Name	AKA	Party Type	Sex	Race	Date of Birth
HALBIG, WOLFGANG W		Defendant	M	W	8/10/1946
WHITE, OFFICER G		Witness

Charges
Offense Date	Citation #	Count	Statute #	Description	Offense Level	Plea	Plea Date	Disposition
1/3/2008	5643FLR	0	316.183(2)	Unlawful speed	IN	Not Guilty	6/13/2008	Adjudicated Guilty

March/April 2008: Halbig writes a retrospective “one year later” article about Virginia Tech in Campus Safety Magazine. He also makes note of the lack of success he had in convincing school boards to purchase tiplines: <http://regents.ohio.gov/safetyandsecurity/resources/CS3VAtech.pdf>

“We have to get away from these custodians having to walk around and unlock or lock the doors,” says Wolfgang Halbig, director of risk management for the Lake County (Fla.) Public Schools. And some campuses do have the ability to automatically lock buildings by campus dispatchers. Many others are looking to adopt more sophisticated access control systems that involve card access. That said, it’s doubtful anytime soon we’ll see most campus public safety departments being able to just flip a switch to secure every building.

[...]

Also, bullying and harassment are troubling issues that remain in schools. “It’s amazing that they refuse to invest in a simple hotline program, which allows parents and children to call about bullying, harassment and drugs,” says Halbig. “It’s the best investment you can make, but they won’t do it.”

April 17, 2008 A blog post is submitted by “Wolfgang W. Halbig Administrator” that shows frustration at the failure of the Real Hero Foundation’s amendment effort, and summons the United States presidential candidates to its aid. [\[LINK\]](#)

The solution of fixing the public school system is crystal clear for all of the presidential candidates. The problem is that they do not have the guts or courage to stand up in directing ever congressman and women to substitute teach four school days a year in their state. You cannot fix something that is broke if you do not see it. The presidential candidates must require them to work those four days or they would loose federal funding for there states, this idea can transition down to all of the state legislators in which there counties or districts would loose funding if not completed. A national program to fix public education by those who make the laws and funded and are screwing it up big time because they do not see or understand in what is truly happening on a daily basis in our schools. How simple can it be; They would spent one day in the high School as a Substitute teacher, one day in the Middle School, one day in the elementary school and finally one day riding a school bus to and from school. You will learn.

We all know the ancient chinese saying which states" That if I hear it I forget, If I see it I remember and If I do it I will understand". Well if the Chinese can figure this out then I don't understand why our presidential candidates can't.

Florida United States Senator gace up one day per month and dedicated it as a work day, picking oranges in the groves, digging ditches, cutting grass on the highways etc. He had the balls to step up and stop hearing about all the problems, he went to see it and do it so he could understand when writing legislation effectiving the lives of children and adults. This is common sense and one day the people will make it happen even if the presidential candidates fail in have the courage to stand up for our children and school staff.

June 24, 2008: Wolfgang is among those from the Lake County School Board who attend a Purchasing Department meeting at the Howey Education Center. There, proposals are heard from four insurance providers for district employee health coverage. School Board member Larry Metz is also in attendance.

 LAKE COUNTY SCHOOLS	Superintendent: Anna P. Cowin	School Board Members: District 1 Larry Metz District 2 Scott Strong District 3 Cynthia Barrow District 4 Jimmy Conner District 5 Kyeleen Fischer
<hr/> Leading our Children to Success <hr/>
Purchasing Department 29529 CR 561 - Tavares - FL 32778 (352) 253-6759 - Fax: (352) 742-8516 - www.lake.k12.fl.us
May 21, 2008	Revision of Presentation Date and Location
AON Consulting, Inc. Eric G. Scott 605 Crescent Executive Court Suite 144 Lake Mary, Fl. 32746 Eric_Scott@aon.com	Gehring Group Kurt Gehring 11505 Fairchild Gardensd Avenue Suite 202 Palm Beach Gardens, Fl 33410 kurt@gehringgroup.com
Brown & Brown Insurance 900 N. 14th Street Leesburg, Florida 34748 Scott Hindman Scott.Hindman@bbleesburg.com	Willis of Florida Lester J. Morales 3000 Bayport Drive Suite 300 Tampa, Fl. 33607 Lester.Morales@willis.com
As a result of the evaluation of your proposals on Friday, May 16, 2008 your firms have been shortlisted and will be required to be present on June 24, 2008 to further discuss

During this series of proposals, Halbig takes special notice of interactions between Larry Metz and vendor Brown & Brown Insurance.

August 31, 2008 - Wolfgang contributes to John McCain's presidential campaign, opposing Barack Obama <http://www.city-data.com/elec2/08/elec-APOPKA-FL-08.html>

September 25 2008 - Wolfgang is listed on the "Preferred Government Insurance Trust Risk Advisory Board" for the "The Crossings at Fleming Island" community development in Orange Park. Interestingly, liability insurance for the development is handled by Brown & Brown, an organization that Wolfgang will soon come into conflict with. [\[LINK\]](#)

November 10, 2008: Lake County School Board meeting notes that a bid from Brown & Brown is awaiting approval, and Larry Metz is moving the process forward.

24 2. Update on Negotiations with Brown and Brown: Acting Superintendent Powers provided an agenda memorandum from 25 Carol MacLeod, Chief Financial Officer. (See Minute Supplement File) The memorandum stated that negotiations were 26 completed and contract was forwarded to the school board attorney and Brown & Brown's attorney for review and will be
27 placed on the next available board agenda for approval. Mr. Conner requested that this item be placed on the board watch
28 list. Chairman Metz stated that he would comply.

November 2008: Dr. Susan Moxley becomes Superintendent of Lake County Schools, replacing Anna P. Cowin. She begins making personnel changes for her new administration.[\[LINK\]](#)

Sometime in the next month or two, Wolfgang feels depressed over "harassment" toward him under Moxley's administration. He sees a psychiatrist, and begins taking anti-depressants.

1 you filed an EEOC complaint, yes?
2 A Yes.
3 Q And at that point in time, that is when you were 4 first given some type of antidepressant drug?
5 A It was when she first came on board. It's not at 6 the end. It's when she came on board and --
7 Q when would that have been?
8 A She was hired six months earlier. She would have 9 been on July 2009.
10 Q And up until July 2009, you say you were a happy
11 person and not having any type of depression or anxiety or 12 anything of that nature; fair statement?
13 A Fair statement.

2009

January 15, 2009 - "Wolfgang W. Halbig" Wolf leaves this comment, with the subject line "Good Friend", on an article about a coach entering a hall of fame: <http://mobile.newssun.com/0111-rewis-hall>

As a former Red Devil Baseball Player you make me truly proud. I also hoped that one day you would have a a chance to coach the Red Devils because it is in your Blood. I am just glad that the Firemans Association of Sebring doesn't tell you how to coach. Congratulations to you, Judy and family. I will always remember your help. wolf

February 15, 2009: Erik Halbig trespasses somewhere, and is apparently intoxicated at the time.

Date Filed: 2/15/2009	Location: Orlando - CR	ERIK W HALBIG	5/5/1980	Defendant
UCN: 482009MM004567000AOX	Judge: Deb S Blechman	STATE OF FLORIDA		Plaintiff
Status: Closed	Citation Number:
Appear By Date:

Charge Details
Offense Date	Charge	Plea	Arrest	Disposition
2/15/2009	1. TRESPASS-OTHER THAN STR/COV. (REF. LEAVE) Statute: 810.09(2)(A) First Degree - Misd
2/15/2009	2. CR-DISORDERLY

March 13, 2009 - Divorce filed for Erik Halbig:
2009-DR-004209-O : SPANGLER HALBIG, JACQUELYN KELLEY vs. HALBIG, ERIK WOLFGANG

Case Header
Case Type:	Dissolution of Marriage with Children
Date Filed:	3/19/2009
Location:	Div 29
UCN:	482009DR004209A0010X
Judge:	Mike Murphy
Status:	Re-Closed
Citation Number:
Appear By Date:

Name
[REDACTED] HALBIG
ERIK WOLFGANG HALBIG

March 31, 2009: a comment posted by “Wolfgang W. Halbig” to Education Weekly praises the German school system over USA’s. LINK

I attended the German Public School system in 1952-1958 and learned discipline and respect for my teachers and grandparents. I never knew my father or my mother until I was 14 years old.

April 16, 2009: Erik Halbig is charged with trespassing and disorderly intoxication, for the February incident.
2009-MM-004567-A-O : STATE OF FLORIDA VS. HALBIG, ERIK W

June 15, 2009: Wolfgang attends an agenda meeting regarding health insurance for school employees. The purpose of this meeting is to decide whether or not to approve the benefits proposal put together by Scott Hindeman, the broker for the district. Apparently, Wolfgang proposes that they reject the proposal, and in some way the cost of the plan drops “in three minutes” by “a million dollars.” Wolfgang claims that he found this suspicious, and was encouraged by his boss (likely CFO) to dig deeper.

September 24, 2009: Wolfgang and his son Erik register the corporation "Bullies Beware Inc"

09/23/2009 17:23 FAX LEGALZ00M2444 003/004

H0900021425 FILED

2009 SEP 24 P 12:41

SECRETARY OF STATE
TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA

ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION
In Compliance with Chapter 617, F.S., (Not for Profit)

ARTICLE I NAME
The name of the corporation shall be:
Bullies-Beware Inc.

ARTICLE II PRINCIPAL OFFICE
The principal place of business and mailing address of this corporation shall be:
1821 Cranberry Isle Way, Apopka, Florida 32712

ARTICLE III PURPOSE
The purpose for which the corporation is organized is:
Please see attached

ARTICLE IV MANNER OF ELECTION
The manner in which the directors are elected or appointed:
The method by which the directors of the corporation are elected or appointed will be stated in the bylaws.

ARTICLE V INITIAL DIRECTORS AND/OR OFFICERS
List name(s), address(es) and specific title(s):

Wolfgang Halbig, President	1821 Cranberry Isle Way, Apopka, Florida 32712
Lewis Perez, Secretary	1821 Cranberry Isle Way, Apopka, Florida 32712
Erik Halbig, Treasurer	1821 Cranberry Isle Way, Apopka, Florida 32712

2010

January 21st, 2010: Halbig sends an email to to Lake County School Board members, titled "For the Record." (Apparently, he is protesting his termination six months before.) This is after Halbig, according to Metz, met with Metz and expressed concern over the Brown & Brown price quote for insurance:

"We used to pay Brown and Brown $6,158,000 million dollars for the entire package one year and on the average since 2005-2006 we paid over $5,350,000 million dollars and would be paying the over $6,158,000 million dollar price tag had it not been for Larry Metz questioning Scott Hindman on the high premium we are paying since our claims history has now a .99 experience mod.

Just a simple challenge by Larry Metz in suggesting that we may switch to another program caused Scott Hindman to drop our premium insurance over $1,000,000 million dollars in three minutes. No other school board member raised any concerns and I have always wondered why?

If he dropped our premium by over a $1,000,000 million dollars in three minutes does that mean he could have done that in 2005-2006, 2006-2007 maybe I guess we will never find out since no other board member held the company accountable."

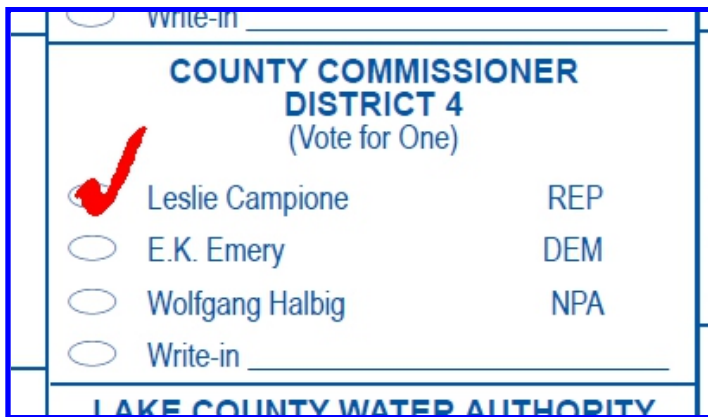

January 26, 2010: Wolf falls on the sidewalk while jogging near his home. He and Kathleen would sue the city of Apopka the following year in 2011-CA-010228-O : HALBIG, WOLFGANG et al.vs.CITY OF APOPKA

16 Q Looking here in your answers to interrogatories,
17 answer to interrogatory number 11, you state, in part, "This 18 incident has made my life with my wife a very difficult
19 situation. Our relationship has never been the same. She 20 looks at me every day as an old whiner, and since she is 10
21 years younger, that does not understand my daily constant
22 aggravating pain. It has affected our sex life because it
23 now does not exist."

24 Is that still an issue?

25 A Absolutely.

Chapter 10: A Man of the People

April 17 2010: Wolfgang Halbig attends the "South Lake Chamber of Commerce 2010 Hob Nob," where an early poll is conducted to gauge support for the County Commissioner candidates. Wolfgang is a candidate. He earns 2.2% of the vote from attendees of the "hob-nob." [\[LINK\]](#) [\[LINK\]](#) [\[LINK\]](#)

COUNTY COMMISSIONER - DISTRICT 4
Buddy Atkins (REP)	53	14.6%
Leslie Campione (REP)	183	50.6%
Linda Stewart (REP)	84	23.2%
Paul Williams (REP)	8	2.2%
E.K. Emery (DEM)	25	6.9%
Wolfgang Halbig (NPA)	8	2.2%
Write-in	1	0.3%
Total Votes	362	100.0%

June 30 2010: Halbig is featured in "The Right Side of the Lake" newsletter, as "An Alternative" candidate in the race for County Commissioner. The article notes the date of Halbig's termination, and he is apparently interviewed for the piece. <http://lakecountygov.info/2010/06/30/an-alternative/>

In the interview, Wolfgang explains how his firing from Lake County Schools was all the result of conspiracy, much like his previous firings.

Wolfgang started out by saying, "My wife, Kathy, found out I was running for county commission when some colleagues at the school board asked her why I was running for county commission. She wasn't too happy with me."

Wolfgang Halbig was the Risk Manager for the Lake County School District until June 30, 2009, when he was terminated by Superintendent Susan Moxley. This 63 year old, very affable, education security expert believes he saw firsthand the underbelly of Lake County's political cronyism and intimidation machine. Based on his experience, where he saw political leaders put their interests above the people, he decided to run for District 4 Lake County Commission seat.

Halbig believes his termination from the Lake County School District was politically motivated by current County Commissioner Jimmy Conner who twisted arms to get his friend insurance work at the district. Halbig tells a story that, if true, needs a much brighter light shined upon it.

According to Halbig, the school district formed a committee of department heads to review the insurance programs for the district. After thorough investigations of the current plans, the committee determined that long-time insurance provider, Brown and Brown, was not offering the best program.

According to Halbig, Brown and Brown representative, Scott Hindman, was very emphatic that the school district would not change plans despite the more expensive costs and reduced district advantages. Halbig said that Hindman told him, "It ain't gonna happen – I've already got three votes." Halbig contends that Hindman contacted Jimmy Conner at his home, as well as other school board members, to promote his plan, and despite the third place ranking of the Brown and Brown plan, Jimmy Conner at the board meeting strong-armed the district to retain the program. He believes it was a sham orchestrated by Conner in conjunction with other school board members.

According to Halbig, the final nail came in his work coffin when he found out the district was being grossly overcharged by Brown and Brown on worker compensation premiums. He contends Scott Hindman with Brown and Brown was going to charge the district $3.4 million to remain in the program, and after Hindman found out they were bidding the program out, he immediately dropped it by $1 million.

The most troubling aspect was his meeting with School Board Member Larry Metz. Halbig contends that he told Metz of the overcharges and provided him information supporting it. Halbig said Carol MacLeod, CFO of the Lake County School District, warned him that if he pursued this change to save money he would be fired; Halbig relayed his concern to Metz. Halbig said, "Metz did not have enough courage to stand up against the insurance company and other board members, and there was a cowardliness in his voice." After the battle regarding the workers compensation program, and despite being offered a tentative contract extension in April, Halbig was terminated in June. Halbig claims his record with over 30 years in the education system

HOME · LAKE COUNTY · AN ALTERNATIVE...

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 30TH, 2010 AT 4:28PM

An Alternative...

Posted by admin

District 4 Commission Candidate
Wolfgang Halbig

This Man Believes He Could Be Lake County's Next Commissioner

On the last day of qualifying for candidacy for District 4 Lake County Co is spotless with positive reviews, and that he had never been terminated before. On several occasions during our meeting, Halbig expressed concern that his wife, Kathy, who is Manager of Technology at the school district, is worried about retaliation from the school district because of his candidacy.

11 Q And what happened to your claim with the Equal 12 Employment Opportunity Commission or -- 13 A I actually dropped it.
14 Q why?
15 A Because my wife was gonna -- she told me to drop 16 it.
17 Q Did that create some marital discord between you
18 and your wife, the fact that you had filed a complaint with 19 the EEOC?
20 A For a week.

June 18, 2010: Registration closes for Lake County Commission election. Halbig is listed as registering to run for seat 4. [\[LINK\]](#)

June 30, 2010: A commenter Bill Tucker on Wolfgang's profile "An Alternative" claims to have known Halbig through playing racquetball in Ocala in the 1980s. He vouches for Wolfgang.

Name Bill Tucker

June 30, 2010 at 5:16 pm

In Ocala the 1980's Wolfgang and I were part of a group that regularly met on the racquetball court. An affable, bright, good-guy; Wolf will be a formidable candidate for the county commission.

July 6, 2010: A commenter on Wolfgang's profile "An Alternative" simply pastes the text of the "Letter to the Editor" that had expressed alarm about Wolf's spending on quadro trackers, fifteen years prior:

Name

July 6, 2010 at 5:51 pm

Quadro Tracker Is Not As Effective Or As Cheap As Dog

OPINION – Letters to the Editor

May 14, 1995

REGARDING "SOME swear by device, others scoff" in the May 7 Seminole Extra, Seminole County school security director Wolfgang Halbig wants to buy 50 "drug-sniffing" electronic Quadro Trackers. My calculations say he would spend at least $19,750 of Seminole County taxpayers' money for a device that the maker is afraid to patent and that uses "voodoo" to find contraband with a method the maker can't clearly explain. The U.S. Customs Service even tested it: The Quadro Tracker doesn't work.

*Mr. Halbig: Don't buy the Quadro Tracker and engage in fraud, waste and abuse of taxpayer money. If you want to find drugs in the schools, use dogs.
David A. Grubbs*

The next day, another commenter does the same, adding the remark "Maybe Wolfgang can buy some Quadro Trackers for Lake County."

July 7, 2010: A user claiming to be Wolfgang Halbig responds in the comments section of the "An Alternative?" article/profile on wolf. He responds to another user, who had been calling Wolfgang out about the phony drug scanners from the 90s:

*Name Wolfgang Halbig
July 7, 2010 at 4:07 pm*

The rest of Mr. Grubbs story that he fails to tell that we tested the device for Dateline in making sure that the school district and tax payer did not waste school districts funds.

If you are going to tell a side or story, please tell the whole story as we did on dateline.

The FBI bought 100 of thos trackers, Seminole County bought O and that is why we were featured on Dateline.

Nice try.

July 8, 2010: A commenter refutes Halbig's account of saving the school from wasting money on the Quadro:

Maybe I was wrong, but the article states you were committed to buy one for every school in your District, when you were contacted and "corrected" by a magician..... From your diatribe above I thought you were accustomed to "one sided" stories....

July 25, 2010: Halbig is mentioned as an independent candidate in the Nov 2nd election for Lake County Commissioner Linda Stewart's seat. [\[LINK\]](#)

The primary winner will face off in the Nov. 2 general election against Democrat E.K. Emery, independent Wolfgang Halbig and write-in candidates Vance Yochim and George Romano, whose names will not appear on the ballot. Commissioners must live in a district but are elected and serve countywide, so all Republicans in Lake will be eligible to cast ballots in the primary.

July 29, 2010: Hard to Buy Votes With No Money - Right Side of the Lake blog post takes a look at campaign finance in the Lake County Commissioner election, noting that Halbig had raised $211 USD: <http://lakecountygov.info/2010/07/29/hard-to-buy-votes-with-no-money/>

Lake County Q2 Report County Commission Race
District #4
	Money Raised	Candidate Loans	Total Money	Expenditure	Available Money "War Chest"
Leslie Campione (Rep)	$ 59,940	$ 15,000	$ 74,940	$ 49,720	$ 25,220
Lloyd Atkins (Rep)	$ 11,525	$ 25,000	$ 36,525	$ 21,659	$ 14,866
Paul Williams (Rep)	$ 11,055	$ -	$ 11,055	$ 10,717	$ 338
Linda Stewart (Rep)	$ 10,602	$ 100	$ 10,702	$ 4,860	$ 5,842
E.K. Emery (Dem)	$ 2,405	$ 500	$ 2,905	$ 1,050	$ 1,855
Wolfgang Halbig (NPA)	$ 211	$ 5,000	$ 5,211	$ 3,519	$ 1,692
Vance Jochim (W)	$ -	$ 36,317	$ 36,317	$ 36,195	$ 123
District 2
Sean Parks (Rep)	$ 25,925	$ -	$ 25,925	$ 13,545	$ 12,380

Aug 3 2010: "Denied" - editorial published on The Right Side of the Lake, bashing a realtor association for endorsing Halbig. The article knocks Halbig for only having been a resident of the county for six years:
<http://lakecountygov.info/2010/08/03/denied/>

In a stunning rebuke, the Realtors Association of Lake & Sumter Counties, Inc. (Realtors Association) did not recommend Atkins to the post of District #4 County Commissioner; instead, they've chosen to recommend NPA candidate Wolfgang Halbig. Atkins has spent his life in the realty business, and this recommendation should have been a slam dunk; however, the people who know Atkins the best did not stand up for him. Citizens for Better Government, L.L.C. contacted Bill Deese, Chairman of the Screening Committee to ask specifically why Atkins wasn't recommended. Deese responded by saying, "Being a realtor is not a consideration for the recommendation, and the group felt that Halbig answered our questions the best." Deese wouldn't offer any further comments on Atkins.

Atkins, a lifelong resident of Lake County, has taken very pro-realtor positions such as encouraging incentives to have seniors fill foreclosures and a plan re-establishing Lake County as a retirement destination. Halbig, on the other hand, is a naturalized American citizen from Germany who has lived in Lake County for less than six years. Halbig has not established any public position on housing in Lake County, which is why the Halbig recommendation by the Realtors Association can only be described as a slap in the face to Atkins.

Aug 15 2010: It's a Win for Working People suggests that Wolfgang has no chance at winning the election, and that no one is going to financially back an obvious loser.
<http://lakecountygov.info/2010/08/25/its-a-win-for-working-people/>

Aug 16 2010: Larry Metz responds to another attack by local blog - Lake County School Board member Larry Metz responds to the allegations Wolfgang Halbig made in his "Right Side of the Lake" profile. His response is posted by another local politics blog, Lake County Fiscal Rangers. Metz refutes Halbig's side of the story concerning the circumstances of his dismissal, by quoting the letter Wolfgang sent to the school board on January 21, 2010, "For the Record." He also presents a different recollection of his conversation with Wolfgang after the insurance workshop.
<http://www.fiscalrangers.com/2010/08/candidate-larry-metz-responds-to-another-attack-by-local-blog.html>

Mr. Halbig described what actually happened in his e-mail dated January 21, 2010, sent to Lake County School Board members and, ironically, titled "For the Record." Yes, Mr. Halbig and I met and he informed me of his concern about the Brown & Brown insurance quote. However, contrary to what is reported in The Right Side, I acted upon the information Mr. Halbig provided by challenging Brown & Brown on their insurance quote at a School Board workshop. Mr. Halbig was present and afterwards thanked me for doing so. Mr. Halbig's description of what happened is quoted from his January 21, 2010 email below:

We used to pay Brown and Brown $6,158,000 million dollars for the entire package one year and on the average since 2005-2006 we paid over $5,350,000 million dollars and would be paying the over $6,158,000 million dollar price tag had it not been for Larry Metz questioning Scott Hindman on the high premium we are paying since our claims history has now a .99 experience mod.

Just a simple challenge by Larry Metz in suggesting that we may switch to another program caused Scott Hindman to drop our premium insurance over $1,000,000 million dollars in three minutes.

No other school board member raised any concerns and I have always wondered why?

If he dropped our premium by over a $1,000,000 million dollars in three minutes does that mean he could have done that in 2005-2006, 2006-2007 maybe I guess we will never find out since no other board member held the company accountable.

A scan of Mr. Halbig's entire email of January 21, 2010, with the above quoted language identified in context, is attached.

Mr. Halbig wrote his email months before he became a candidate for office and a financial contributor to my opponent. According to Mr. Halbig's own account, my actions resulted in a savings to the Lake County School District of over $1,000,000. Clearly, the description of the events attributed to Mr. Halbig in the June 30 edition of The Right Side was completely inconsistent with his email. In this instance The Right Side either misrepresented what Mr. Halbig told them, or accepted his account as gospel without checking it out because it fit nicely into their political agenda. The same type of false, negative spin is evident in the August 10 and 16 editions. Readers of The Right Side should not accept its contents lightly, for it is not really a newsletter. The Right Side is merely a tool used to further the political agendas of those who are behind it.

Larry Metz

Political advertisement paid for and approved by Larry Metz, Republican, for State Representative, District 25.

August 25, 2010 - A user claiming to Wolfgang Halbig comments on the "It's a Win for Working People" article from a few weeks ago, apparently responding to the article's assertion that he will have trouble raising campaign funds. He also corrects the blog's description of Halbig as a "former Lake County Safety Officer."

Name Wolfgang Halbig

August 25, 2010 at 11:07 am

Excuse me for being someone who believes that 38 years of public service should count for something.

38 years working to help parents and children through public schools.

Being asked by the school superintendent of Lake County to train every school administrator and school staff when a boy was shot and killed at Tavares Middle School causing panic and major confusion should mean something to every parent and student by designing their Emergency Management Plan. I was not the Lake County School Board Safety Officer, I was hired as the Lake County School Boards Risk Manager in July of 2005 and by June 30, 2009 when I was fired by Susan Moxley for saving this School District over $20,000,000 million tax payer dollars you must be right I have done absolutely nothing to qualify me to run for County Commissioner, Cronysim and the old buddy system took a toll on the day we saved those dollars.

Why does someone spent over $110,000 thousand dollars just to win the primary, is it because she knows that she will be protected by you and your RSOTL information?

An attorney who represent Land Developers with big dollars will represent the affluent not the ordinary citizen that has to pay there bills every month. I did not see those who have children on free and reduced lunch donating at a five hundred dollar clip.

What is she going to do to save tax payer dollars? what is her game plan instead of just saying I am for growth, need jobs, support businesses. protect the enviomment etc. Give us the meat of your campaign. I have NO political consultant at $10,000 dollars a clip to tell them what to say.

I do it from hard work.

Get your facts straight. I have started my campaign and I am hear to win.

Take that to the bank.

wolfgang

Another user responds to Wolfgang's comment just half an hour later, under the username "Taxed."

Name Taxed

August 26, 2010 at 11:38 am

Mr. Halbig, excuse me for being someone who believes we need commissioners who were not on the taxpayer's payroll for 38 years regardless of how well they performed. You are not a taxpayer and therefore cannot identify with those who are. When you pay taxes it is merely a reinvestment into the fund that provides your income to begin with. Your job performance could only be evaluated by yourself and peers rather than by competition in the marketplace. We need someone who understands what Lake County businesses need in order to compete in the marketplace. We don't need someone who worked 38 years for a system built by cronyism and then came out on the short end of the stick from it. Try doing some of your hard work in the private sector while waiving your pension for the next four years and then get back with us about being a commissioner.

August 27, 2010: Wolfgang responds to the comment from "Taxed", repeatedly asserting that the person questioning him has mental health issues. He does not disclose his own psychiatric history or recent prescriptions.

Name Wolfgang Halbig

August 27, 2010 at 12:22 pm

TO;

NAME TAXED;

You must have a very serious mental problem that could have been available for you if Campione did not shut down the LifeStream proposal when they were trying to open a Mental Health Facility in Umatilla. It would have created over 125 jobs, would have had a 3.7 operating budget and a payroll of 6.3 million dollars. Let me see a lawyer who charges by the hour what is it $200.00 per hour or more and lawyers know how to get out of paying taxes. Let me see public servant and I don't pay taxes, you get taxed even if you retire. I am willing to donate have of the commissioners salary so one employee from the county offices can be rehired. Maybe if the other four would to the same we now have four more jobs saved. You are absolutely right the Land Developers need big time business and if I recall those Land Developers who designed those fancy Community Development District and ran with the profits leaving the homeowners and board of directors holding the loans. What was it six huge developments are in serious trouble and you are telling me that I don't understand business. You need mental health and if you are going to attack my 38 years of public service please have the courage to use your name instead of hiding behind NAMED TAXED. This is why Lake County is in trouble.

"Taxed" again responds later that day:

Name Taxed
August 27, 2010 at 5:04 pm

Mr. Halbig, I must say I'm glad that the mental problem was not available to me. As best I can decipher from your comments, you stand for protecting government jobs and social programs at current or higher levels. I feel these areas need reducing in close proportion to what is available to fund them (taxpayer's incomes). That is why I'm against lifelong public service employees holding the positions once again. I'm not out to insult you and I would like to discuss our differences in views if you wish to reply with a number or e-mail address.

September 7 2010: Wolfgang Halbig speaks at the public comment portion of a meeting of the Lake County Board of Commissioners meeting. [\[LINK\]](#)

Mr. Wolfgang Halbig, a resident of Sorrento, stated that he has spent the last several weeks studying the budget that was proposed by the Board, and he expressed concern about the lack of consolidation and the duplication of fire and ambulance services, which he believed could save at least $8 million. He also was concerned that the account for Lake-Sumter EMS contained $3.5 million in reserves.

September 17 2010: a user posting under the name "Wolfgang Halbig" responds to the latest blog post from Right Side of the Lake, which addresses "impact fees." [\[LINK\]](#). Notably, he describes his appearance at the County Commission ten days before, and indicates that he was not well received at the public session.

Name Wolfgang Halbig
September 17, 2010 at 8:53 am

Be careful of what you say because they may find you and sight you with a personal impact fee. This County is unbelievable in how they conduct business, you have County Commissioners using their own e-mail accounts to communicate with Contractors, Land Developers, Insurance Brokers, and on and on.

They should be required by policy to use only the Lake County e-mail accounts and use only cell phones provided by the county for their use for accountability and Transparency to the public when requested. We are paying their high salaries. This is the least they can do.

I recommended just recently at one of the County Commissioners Board meeting that they need to immediately consolidate the Fire and Lake and Sumter Amulance Services which is County subsidized with $8,000,000 million tax dollars. This one move would stop duplication of services and save the Lake County Tax payer over $11,000,000 million dollars. No comment from the Interim County Manager who should be presenting that idead for cost savings measures and show some innovation.]

This County needs to hire a bulldog no non sense County Manager who has and is not afraid to take on the good old boys network realizing that he or she may not last long but it will be a cause worth taking on for the benefit of the people of Lake County.

They are looking to approve a Deputy County Managers position paying a $147,000 thousand dollars when you don't even have a County Manager.

Now what is that about?

Wait till you have a County Manager and then allow him or her to select his Deputy Manager in solving the financial crisis within the Lake County Commission.

NO employee from the Lake County Commissioners offices should have been terminated or placed on taken days off without pay since they can find $11,000,000 million dollars to build an EOC Emergency Operations Center which if you watch closely will have the Lake and Sumter Ambulance Dispatch offices within that building. That tells me that my recommendation will have no merit.

Why have public input at the Lake County Commissioners Meetings? they don't listen, they mock the people who speak and show disrespect to Marylin Bainter who does her homework and is serious as a heart beat in trying to make Lake County a better place to live for the taxpayers.

The Commissioners I believe have forgotten that when the public speaks that they are there boss and not be demeaned by there comments by some of the Commissioners.

Respect must be in place at all times no matter what the issues are.

It is time for people to get involved on behave of your children, grandchildren and great grandchildren future. It is no longer just about us it is about them and what we leave them.

September 21, 2010: at another "citizen question and comment period" session of Lake County Board of Commissioners, Wolfgang Halbig lobbies to consolidate emergency services in the county: [\[LINK\]](#)

CITIZEN QUESTION AND COMMENT PERIOD

Mr. Wolfgang Halbig, after handing out copies of the financial statement and audit of Lake-Sumter Emergency Medical Services (EMS), related that he had come before the Board several weeks ago to recommend that the Board seriously look into consolidation of Fire and Lake-Sumter EMS services, and he was concerned that the Board was thinking of bidding those services instead. He pointed out that the budget book indicated that there was currently $10 million set aside in tax subsidies for the Lake-Sumter EMS ambulance services, and he opined that consolidation of those services would save $11 million. He also suggested that the County hire a new County Manager immediately before hiring a Deputy County Manager and enact a policy that would require all of the County Commissioners to use only the County e-mail system and phones for County business to ensure transparency.

September 30, 2010: Another story is published by "The Right Side of the Lake" newsletter, claiming that Wolfgang Halbig had become "unhinged" and made potentially racist statements at an NAACP Forum. The event was presumably part of the campaign for the upcoming election. [\[LINK\]](#)

The newsletter then shares several other initiatives that Halbig has championed over the years - such as the Quadro Tracker and the "Real Hero" amendment, all of which lead the Right Side of the Lake writer to the conclusion that "Halbig has a history of nutty ideas that really makes him look like one of the tin foil hat wearers":

In August of 2003, Halbig spearheaded an effort through the Real Hero Foundation to get a petition signed to change the Florida Constitution. The proposed amendment would have required all Florida House Members to spend four days per year in a classroom. His attempt to get enough signatures failed miserably, and it would have been ruled unconstitutional anyway because you cannot mandate something like this of elected officials.

“Now, Halbig seeks to add a 5-cent tax on water bottles of just Niagara Bottling to help those children in serious need because of the economy. The notion sounds all warm and fuzzy, but you can’t selectively tax a business like this, and the Lake County Commission doesn’t have the authority to impose a sales tax of this matter. This is yet another nutty idea that Halbig has not thought through.

Halbig’s other bright idea is to take the $300,000 paid to the Orlando EDC and use it to market Lake County’s foreclosed properties to areas which are subjected to natural disasters. What he doesn’t understand is that foreclosed homes are being marketed, but not many people are able to purchase them because they can’t get a loan. His plan does nothing to address the real issue of selling distressed properties; rather, it only alienates the economic development of people who could help us the most. Plus, who’s going to force these people to move from natural disaster areas?”

the RIGHT SIDE OF THE LAKE blog ★ ★ ★ ★  ★ ★ ★ ★

HOME

HOME · LAKE COUNTY · WOLFGANG HALBIG BECOMES UNHINGED AT FORUM

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 30TH, 2010 AT 11:35AM

Wolfgang Halbig Becomes Unhinged at Forum

Posted by admin

Admits Being a Democrat and the Nutty Ideas

During last week’s NAACP forum in Eustis, Lake County District 4 Commissioner no-party-affiliation candidate, Wolfgang Halbig, became unhinged and very aggressive with audience participants. Halbig was loud and overbearing from the onset of the forum, and his ire was raised when a female audience member gave him a timeout signal for being too obnoxious toward candidate, Leslie Campione.

Halbig bellowed at the older lady, “Don’t do that to me! Don’t you tell me what I can say; you are very disrespectful!” Then he told moderator, Paul Williams, “They’ve got to be courteous to me.”

During the entire forum, Halbig appeared to be someone on a mission to get noticed, and his method was to be as over the top and caustic as he could be.

The blog also calls him out about his possible negligence regarding mold inspections, under the sub-heading "Putting Children at Risk":

According to information we obtained from Halbig himself, and his files, he has a history of filing workers compensation claims against his employers at Lake County and Seminole County Schools. When we asked him about this, he claimed there was a tripping incident at Dabney Elementary, and he told us that he was suffering from respiratory issues due to him investigating mold issues at new schools. He said the district was turning off air conditioning chilling units at night, which was causing toxic mold, and he believes he was exposed to it over a four year period.

We asked him if he ever reported the mold to the proper authorities because of the health hazard to children and teachers and he said, "You do not want to hear about the toxic mold because it get parents really upset and the last thing I want to do is create problems that cannot be fixed because the rule makers are the school board members and the school superintendent. The State Department of Education has no say on Indoor Air Quality and Toxic Mold issues in schools or employee work centers."

The above statement by Halbig is horrific because, if true, he's put the health of Lake County's children at risk while he was Director of Security and Safety. He obviously was more concerned about his job at the School District back then. Citizens for Better Government, L.L.C. believes that the Lake County School Board should immediately inquire into the issue of possible toxic molds in our schools. Our concern is how many children have been knowingly exposed to toxic mold because some school bureaucrat decided to save a few pennies at night by turning air conditioners off? This is serious; shame on Halbig for not letting parents and teachers know!

Question #17 Wolfgang Halbig MUST answer: How could you send those children into those filthy schools, knowing about the toxic mold? You call yourself an "expert witness," but if you witness some toxic mold in a school, do you run from it rather than doing your job? Where are the work orders you should have submitted to address this potentially very serious safety issue?

September 30, 2010: A user claiming to be Wolfgang Halbig comments on the article claiming that Wolfgang had become "unhinged" at NAACP event. The user explains that the confrontation at the event occurred when Halbig called out another candidate for having supposedly put up signage in the predominately black community only the night before.

The lengthy rant includes spelling and grammatical errors that will become a Halbig trademark in the coming years, along with the rhetorical distractions that will become familiar, such as claiming that anyone questioning him must be "worried" about his imminent victory:

Name Wolfgang Halbig
September 30, 2010 at 3:16 pm

First of all this was a Tri-City NAACP Forum Meeting in Eustis in which all the Candidates were invited to speak regarding their experience and qualifications for the office they are seeking. Please interview the African American Community Members to get your facts straight. When Campione shows up with her stooges every time their is a Homeowners or meeting such as the Tri-City NAACP they stack the deck. I guess spending $40,000 thousand dollars on a Tallahassee Political Consulting Group makes her not a politician I guess in your eyes.

The female audience member was Alan Hayes wife who stuck out her finger trying to stop my comments about Campione which is true. She has not placed any signage in the Black Community until that night flooding the Community Center with signs and her stooges.

When you are telling the truth they call it obnoxious she just didn't want to hear that she did not put up signs until that night. I stated that you get support from the black community the day you run for office not when you just need their votes.

The question I raised is why is there not a Black County Commissioner or Hispanic Commissioner?

As a High School Head Football and Baseball Coach I have worked very hard in every black and white community in doing what was best for their kids 24 hours a day. I drove them home after games when parents had no cars or did not pick them up or feed them. I don't need to be noticed by the black community. If they check me out they will see that I am what I am.

You are right I blamed the big money donors and Land Developers who have controlled Lake County for too long, they raised over $120,000 dollars for Campione to beat Steward.

Politicians love to have cookouts to get people to come out to hear them speak, please tell me I am wrong.

I blame Land Developers for being Greedy and leaving not one but SIX COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT DISTRICTS IN BANKRUPTCIES with the retirees and family homeowners in those district holding this huge debt set up by the Land Developers.

Don't print rumors because they are an outright lie.

Please check with the National Republican Party and my Donations for their causes, I was appointed by Governor Jeb Bush to the School Safety Commission and approved by the Florida Senate.

If you received unsubstantiated reports why are you writing about it as if where true.

Not know not ever have I received Democratic Support, another huge lie.

11/28/07 I donated money to the Hillary Clinton Campaign because when I vote I vote for the best person and donate to that person at that time whether Republican or Democrat. That is exactly what is wrong with our system today and that is why I am running as a NO PARTY CANDIDATE because I don't want a party telling me what I need to do. I think I am smart enough to do my research and donate to whom I want without the Right Side of the Lake telling me what to do. I hope that others don't follow their advice or Lake County will stay in Financial trouble.

I donated money to the McCain Campaign because I am a Veteran serving in the United States Air Force in 1966-1970 if you want to check that out. I support the courage and honor that McCain showed. He endured torture day after day and the politicians in Lake County will never understand my vote that day as a Republican.

This blog has been played with in distorting the facts as to who really wrote the article. Please provide the hard copy and the source for accuracy.

I don't even know Emery or what he really does. Never had a private meeting or even a phone call, unbelievable lies just to help the Land Developers and your company to get business from the homebuilders, I hope that the people in Lake County are a little smarter than you think!

I never bought 50 Quatro Trackers and you need you apologize for that lie immediately since the the Seminole County Purchasing Department will verify your outright lie.

We were featured on Dateline NBC for exposing the fraud since the FBI bought over 100 of these devices and you are trying to make me look bad to the voters.

I do believe that we will not fix Public Education in Florida until every Florida Legislator substitutes teaches four school days a year which was attached to the class size amendment.

Guess what the Republican Legislators wrote to me; is it safe for me to go to the schools and do that? Another wrote am I qualified to be a substitute? Now just think about those two statements it makes you wonder why are schools failing.

United States Senator Bob Graham gave up one day a month to work in jobs that would allow him to observe, speak with the workers, understand their frustrations, work conditions and he worked no reporters just work. And now you the Right Side tell me it is a stupid idea, well I will share that with the former Florida Governor and U.S Senator since you have all the right solutions in calling people names such as NUTTY. LOOK at yourself first and what are you going to get out of supporting Campione.

The County Commissioners should have placed a .05 cent impact fee on every bottle ever produce by the Niagara Bottling Company because of the plastic and its effects. If you check there are water bottling companies paying a nickel to get the bottle back. Getting pretty desperate.

Please all those who read this site and just believe in rumors you need to buy the National Enquirer it is far better reading from what the Consumer Magazine states.

When you hire a County Manager that is in charge of the entire County Budget and Manages all of the county employees on a daily basis does not have to have lived in Lake County, Florida. Now if you want to be a County Commissioner you must have lived in Lake County all your life so you and your friends can reap the benefits of the old buddy buddy system along with cronism all over the place. They will make their money and move to North Carolina Mountains and leave the Lake County Tax payer holding the bag

It is time for an outsider to shake up the system or are you afraid of what he may find. I was a republican until Jim Greer the Head Of the Florida Republican Party stole all of the money that voters donated. And you worry about me. I take that as a compliment.

Where does Parks live?

I live in the District that I am running for. Come and visit anytime.

The people in Lake County see through your lies and deception, you must be worried about the election or this article would have never been written.

I have said it all along this buddy buddy system is now clearly visible and now we know who the real players are.

“wolfgang halbig” adds a short comment again, the same day:

Name wolfgang halbig
September 30, 2010 at 4:00 pm

Remove the false lies immediately from this web-site.

October 2, 2010: Another user responds to Wolfgang’s latest online outburst, pressing for more information about his job history, and raising several points about possible inconsistencies.

Name

October 2, 2010 at 8:39 am

Wolfgang, I am very distressed by this account. You were very high on my list until these items were pointed out and after research on the internet, some were confirmed.

There are some areas in the original article that you didn’t respond to and I would like you to respond.

What was your job at the school system? The original story lists you as the Director of Security and Safety but when I inquired at the school office, they said that you had nothing to do with security and you were not in that position. They say that you were the Risk Manager and responsible for workers compensation and insurance. Is this correct?

That leads to my next questions, the original story says that you have a history of filing workers compensation claims at two counties that you have worked, the most recent at lake county.

When I called I was forwarded to the risk department. The lady that answered said you were formally the risk manager. When I asked about your claims they would not comment. I have several friends in that work in the tavares office and they said that this is correct and let me know of other actions you have done to make the school administrator look bad since you were let go. I would like to hear you comment about this, especially about communication with the governors office and to the department of environmental protection. Did you claim injuries after you found out that you were going to be let go? Did you get in touch with the state about issues after you were let go? (All this was furnished by asking the same question to two people that work for the schools in different departments in the main office.)

Also what were the circumstances of your leaving the seminole county schools?

The same day, another user (identifying themselves as “John Hendricks”) posts a comment directed at Wolfgang, strongly criticizing him:

Name John Hendricks

October 2, 2010 at 8:56 am

Wolfgang ~ I'm sure you are a good person who is simply disgusted with the direction your adopted country has taken. You are right on many of your issues. The main problem with you and your candidacy is you have way too many issues! For instance, where Parks lives is none of your business. If you bothered to read the law the courts have ruled a person can run for political office such as commissioner, sheriff or whatever without a residency requirement. However, if elected they are required to move into the district! Most cities refuse to accept this court rulling and most candidates for same do not push the matter.

As too your comments concerning the Lake County good ole boys, it has always been that way. Your problem is you think you know everything and don't know crap! For instance who do you think the real players are? You accuse commissioner Jimmy Conner of fraud in the insurance dealings with Brown and Brown at the school board since Conner has been a LCBCC member and as you say to some of the accusations made against you, where is the proof? The fact is here you are, a legend in your own mind. You come to Lake County uninvited after you are dumped over in Seminole county. You bless the Lake county school board with your presence and ultimately cause such desention you are terminated. This apparently is the cause of your mission. I can honestly say the one thing that brings about more laughter concerning you and your ways is the fact that you are actually more arrogant, oboxious and condecending than Jimmy Conner. If in fact Lake County could afford the misfeasance of your services of the BCC along with Conner the taxpayers could tune in to comedy hour and watch you and Conner attack each other for the next two years! However, that is not the case! [...]

October 4, 2010: “Wolfgang Halbig” responds to the two most recent blog comments directed at him:

Name Wolfgang Halbig

October 4, 2010 at 1:47 pm

To Name and John Hendricks;

I invite both of you to look at all of the documents that will validate my statements since John says I don't know crap about what I am talking about. Now to JOhn who is telling you all this since now you seem to know so much about me and my background. Please take the time and visit my home if you are truly interested to see the facts and then Judge for yourself and then rip me apart and I would truly deserve it. 352-729-2559

NAME; Great questions that is exactly what people should be doing in asking questions and challenge the candidate for office. I respect you for your efforts and hoefully you also will take the time to look at the materials and judge for yourself. Someone speaking on the phone in the county office does not have the right information.

Please come and visit or I will take both of you to lunch so you both can judge for yourself. I hope that before you judge someone that you actually look at the person in his eyes and his work experience. I was never the DDirector for School Safety and Security in Lake County and the writer of the article Don MacRuder knows that when he wrote it. Flrst lie.

You are required by law to report any injury on the job and now you want me to violate the law when I have a Certified OHSA Trainer working in my office.

Here we go again break the law.

Every employee in the Lake COunty School system report injuries that includes school Principals, Assistant School Principals, School Superintendents, Bus Drivers, Custodians, Food Service Workers, Assistant School Superintendents and on and on but it is me that you now focus on.

Please request under Public Records my Job Description for July 16, 2005 and you will exactly my duties and most of all my responsibilities while working for the Lake COunty School Board.

Anyone at any time can visit my home and look at the information that I maintain to protect myself from accusations such as in these responses.

Anytime anywhere please call 352-729-2559 if you want the truth then blast me all you want.

wolfgang

Oct 8 2010: Toxic schools: Grand jury laid out mold problem - In an Orlando Sentinel article about mold in Lake County schools, Wolfgang is quoted. He asserts that his dismissal was as a result his reporting of mold problems, a new twist on his story that is immediately refuted by school officials, who maintain that Halbig never once discussed any mold issues, and was dismissed as a result of his contract expiring. [\[LINK\]](#)

October 18, 2010 By Denise-Marie Balona, Orlando Sentinel

And years after the grand jury report, Florida schools continue to battle chronic mold and water-intrusion problems, according to an Orlando Sentinel investigation.

Wolfgang Halbig, a former risk manager for Lake County schools who is now a school-safety consultant, argues that if the Florida Legislature does not make districts fix mold problems, they will get worse.

The situation, he warned, is already being exacerbated by districts' attempts to save money by raising the temperature in schools and shutting off the air conditioning in at least some portable classrooms at night, on weekends and during kids' winter and summer vacations.

In recent years, Central Florida teachers, parents and others have filed thousands of complaints about indoor-air quality in schools — blaming their runny noses, headaches and respiratory distress on mold discovered in classrooms, cafeterias, media centers, locker rooms and even nurses' quarters.

"The state needs to really get a handle on how serious the toxic mold problem is in Florida," said Halbig, a former executive director of the National Institute for School and Workplace Safety who said he was let go from his job in Lake last year, in part because he confronted higher-level administrators about the district's mold problems.

District officials said Halbig was let go simply because his annual contract expired. He never discussed mold issues with schools Superintendent Susan Moxley, said the district's executive director of human resources, Laurie Marshall.

October 20, 2010: Money fuels Lake County commissioner race - Sentinel article quotes Halbig on campaign contributions: [\[LINK\]](#)

Halbig bought $3,300 worth of campaign signs earlier this month. His campaign has raised about $11,000, including a personal loan of $5,000. The former high school athletic coach said he has been careful to ask for donations only from friends.

"When someone gives you $500, there's an expectation that they'll be getting something back," Halbig said. "I didn't want to make any promises to anybody."

He said he didn't mean to insinuate that Campione is beholden to anyone: "She's a class act. She's Lake County. She's home-grown. She's earned her way."

October 20, 2010: Did Wolfgang Halbig seek psychiatric treatment? - A story is published by "The Right Side of the Lake" newsletter, reporting the indications that Halbig may have mental health issues.

The newsletter points out that Halbig was recommended to seek psychiatric treatment with Dr. Rosen after his compensation claim for the fall in Seminole County (which Wolfgang would elsewhere claim not to have followed up on,) however they apparently do not learn of the anti-depressants and anger issues he experienced during and after the period he worked under Dr. Moxley:

<http://lakecountygov.info/2010/10/20/did-wolfgang-halbig-seek-psychiatric-treatment/>

October 23, 2010: With the November election date drawing near, Wolfgang conducts a candidate interview with the Daily Commercial newspaper:

HALBIG

CONTINUED FROM A3

led to an appointment by Governor Jeb Bush to the Florida Safe Schools Commission. I have also been the keynote speaker at several state and national conferences. I hope to put my leadership experience and my lifetime of public service to work for Lake County.

If elected, what would be your top three priorities?

Consolidation, a best practice in the business world, would be one of my top priorities and would save tax-payers' money. By working to consolidate the Lake County Fire and the Lake and Sumter County Ambulance Services, we could achieve a significant annual savings, potentially in the millions of dollars, and eliminate duplication of services.

Another priority is to establish a Lake County Employee Innovation program. This program will establish a means through which those most 'in the know,' the county employees, could offer innovative suggestions for cutting costs and improving efficiency in county operations. If we're going to successfully navigate through the turbulence of these financial times, we must empower our employees to become part of the solution.

A third priority is to explore and develop a good-faith partnership between the county, each of the county's municipalities, and the district School Board to establish Health Care and Wellness Centers for all city, county and school board employees. This joint venture could benefit all public employees while improving efficiency and saving costs to the taxpayer. I strongly believe in forming partnerships so that we can all work smarter and achieve more.

What's the most important issue in this race?

The economy is the most important issue in this race, but it's a complex issue that will require varied and innovative solutions. I am impressed with the incredible pool of human capital in Lake County. Do we really need to pay the Orange County Economic Development Commission $300,000 in hopes of them finding companies to set up shop in Lake County? Why not take advantage of the talent and expertise of the people within our own county to solicit positive growth?

BEYERS Here when you need us.
FUNERAL HOME and CREMATORY
787-4343 Leesburg Lady Lake • Umatilla • Astor

Do you know someone making a difference in their community?
Nominate them for the "Making a difference" award at www.lakesumterfunerals.com

November 3, 2010: Election day. Halbig gets 5.7% of the vote. [\[LINK\]](#)

ELECTION | LAKE COUNTY COMMISSION

NEWCOMERS WIN SEATS 2 AND 4

LARRY ELL | Staff Writer
larryell@dailycommercial.com

Seats 2 and 4 on the Lake County Commission are on their way to earning a reputation for being hot seats. For the second election in a row, newcomers will replace incumbents.

Republicans Leslie Campione and Sean Parks ousted first-term commissioners Linda Stewart and Elaine Renick in the primary, and after the ballots were tallied in Nov. 2's general election, they won seats on the commission. Campione's 61,328 votes,

CAMPIONEPARKS

60.4 percent, easily outdistanced Democrat E.K. Emery's 31,065 votes, 31.6 percent.

"It feels really good," Campione said. "From the very start, everybody got behind me."

Non-Party affiliated Wolfgang Halbig finished third at 5.7 percent with 5,643 votes.

In the District 2 race, Parks faced only write-in opposition. After the final count, he received 95.7 percent of the vote with a total of 77,094.

"I didn't want to take anything for granted," Parks said. "I'm very happy and very honored."

Campione and Parks will officially take their seats at the Nov. 16 commission meeting.

This story ran in the Wednesday, Nov. 3, edition of the Daily Commercial.

December 1, 2010: Article about Kathleen landing a $750,000 federal funding grant for Lake County Schools. <https://lakecountyschools.wordpress.com/2010/12/01/new-technology-transforming-science-classes-at-lake-county-schools/>

The primary focus of the grant was middle school science classes, but our goal was to get as much technology as we could in all of our schools," said Kathy Halbig, Manager of the Innovative Learning Department.

2011

January 7, 2011: Wolfgang is shown to have applied for a job at Sanford Middle School. <http://www.scps.k12.fl.us/PORTALS/53/assets/pdf/2011meetings/12511/AgendaBook.pdf>

INSTRUCTIONAL APPOINTMENTS for 2010-11

1. Achille, Darlene - Seminole High School, Coach Only, (Temporary), Position Start Date 2/05/2011
2. Barody, Ashley Marie - Lake Brantley High School, Teacher - 57%, Position Start Date 1/07/2011
3. Berryhill, Emilee Kristine - Lake Mary Elementary School, Teacher, Position Start Date 1/07/2011
4. Black, Stephanie Mealor - Lake Mary High School, Teacher As-Needed CS, (Temporary), Position Start Date 1/07/2011
5. Conn, Alexis Kristina - Indian Trails Middle School, Teacher, Position Start Date 1/07/2011
6. Copeland, Janine May - Layer Elementary School, Teacher As-Needed CS, (Temporary), Position Start Date 12/24/2010
7. Deditz, Danielle Elizabeth - Winter Springs Elementary School, Teacher As-Needed CS, (Temporary), Position Start Date 1/07/2011
8. DeMarmol, Alberto D - Lake Brantley High School, Coach Only, (Temporary), Position Start Date 12/17/2010
9. Duncan, Nea Yasmin Oriana - South Seminole Middle School, Teacher, Position Start Date 12/20/2010
10. Gibbs, Sara Maria - Milwee Middle School, Teacher, Position Start Date 1/07/2011
- 11. Halbig, Wolfgang W - Sanford Middle School, Executive Director/secondary, Teacher As Needed, (Temporary), Position Start Date 1/07/2011
- 12. Heekin, Kristen L - Bear Lake Elementary School, Teacher, Other - 50%, Position Start Date

March 2011: Sanford Middle school newsletter lists Wolfgang as a Grade Recovery Class teacher:

using the microscopes to look at all manner with the equine. They are beginning to learn to the students. One talked about pollution he also discussed invasive species of plants and the responsibilities we have toward those would love to interact with them; they are becoming in to talk to us in March. sign-up as a dividend so they may partake

- student earned an "F" in any core class in the first semester. Students have the option of remaining in their elective class and instead attend grade recovery class after school from 4:00-6:00 pm on Tuesdays and Thursdays. This must be arranged with Mr. Darcy prior to staying after school and requires a signed parent permission form.

If further clarification is needed regarding the program please contact Mr. Darcy via phone at 407-320-6239 or by email at joseph_darcy@scps.k12.fl.us.

Please note, the Grade Recovery class has recently added two new teachers, Mrs. Gonyea and Mr. Halbig.

Our kids say, "Thanks."

June 2011: Wolf registers twitter account @halbigW. He begins tweeting and retweeting a variety of stories, usually attacking President Obama. <https://twitter.com/halbigW>

 Wolfgang W. Halbig @halbigW · 5 Mar 2012
 @halbigW @foxnewspolitics PLEASE SOMEONE EXPLAIN TO ME WHAT HAPPENED ABOUT THE SOCIAL SECURITY CARD THAT DID NOT BELONG TO OBAMA?
 WOLF

    View conversation

 Wolfgang W. Halbig @halbigW · 5 Mar 2012
 Arizona Sheriff Arpaio Unveils Findings Of Obama Birth Certificate Probe | Fox News foxnews.com/politics/2012/... via @foxnewspolitics

    View summary

 Wolfgang W. Halbig @halbigW · 12 Feb 2012
 The campaign trail is always full of surprises, and one supporter will join @MittRomney for a day on the road shar.es/fRaNa

 Wolfgang W. Halbig @halbigW · 30 Nov 2011
 Herman Cain: 'No Way He's Dropping Out,' Says Campaign Manager abcn.ws/sX5Sis (via @ABC)

 Wolfgang W. Halbig @halbigW · 10 Nov 2011
 Pilot Season Hot Trends: Comedies, Books, Formats, Westerns And Big Commitments via @nikkifinke

 Wolfgang W. Halbig @halbigW · 10 Nov 2011
 Pilot Season Hot Trends: Comedies, Books, Formats, Westerns And Big Commitments deadline.com/2011/11/pilot-... via @nikkifinke

    View summary

October 2011: Halbig is treated by a psychiatrist (he states in his May 2012 deposition that the treatment occurred "seven months ago.")

22	Q	Have you ever been treated by a psychiatrist,
23		psychologist or any type of mental healthcare counselor?
24	A	Psychiatrist.
25	Q	who?

12 Q Is he a psychiatrist or psychologist?
13 A Psychiatrist.
14 Q When was the last time you saw him?
15 A Three months ago.
16 Q Are you scheduled to see him again?
17 A No.
18 Q And what did Dr. Baxley do for you?
19 A Put me on Cymbalta, antidepressants, and 20 wellbutrin.
21 Q Cymbalta is an antidepressant. Why is wellbutrin
22 prescribed for you?
23 A I have no idea.

2 A Correction. That would be correct but -- but what
3 had happened to me on January 26th, though, that 4 antidepressant, my anger was not being able to control, and 5 that's why I went to see Dr. Baxley, because I didn't think
6 it was sufficient. That's why he prescribed Cymbalta
7 instead of Effexor. He stated that, "You need to have 8 wellbutrin and you need to have Cymbalta, which is a more
9 powerful antidepressant, to help you deal with your anger
10 and frustrations."

December 2, 2011: a user "Wolfgang W. Halbig" posts a new thread to Education Weekly's forums, under the title United States Department of Education Safe and Drug Free Schools Failed Promises with Billions $ Waisted. Note that this is a forum on the same site that "Wolfgang Halbig" used to post comments on, but the two systems (comments and forums) appear to be entirely separate.

Since the Wolfgang W. Halbig account has since been banned, the post is gone. This entry is account's first known post, and was in the subforum "Introduce Yourself." The beginning of the post is still available in preview:

Chapter 11: the Scent

2012

2012-current THE TRUTH ACCORDING TO WOLFGANG:
Executive Director for the Children's Safety Institute 2012-current www.childrenssafetyinstitute.com

January 5, 2012: Recording, preliminary autopsy shed new light - Wolfgang is quoted for an article regarding the use of deadly force in schools, after police shoot and kill 17-year-old Jaime Gonzalez Jr. after he is spotted with a gun on the campus of Cummings Middle School. Halbig is critical of the officer's decision to use deadly force.

http://www.brownsvilleherald.com/news/valley/article_3ab22071-3d3a-566c-a5b2-70cf374b4fce.html

Alternatives?

Wolfgang Halbig, executive director of the National Institute for School and Workplace Safety, based in Heathrow, Fla., believes the officers could have found another way to resolve the issue rather than shooting Gonzalez.

"I hate playing Monday morning quarterback," but there could have been another way to handle the situation, Halbig said in a telephone interview.

Halbig, a retired police officer and school safety expert, said from reading media reports it appeared that Gonzalez was the only one in imminent danger. He believes if Gonzalez had planned to hurt any other students, he would have immediately shot them while inside a classroom.

Halbig said he has trained about 3,000 school police officers nationwide about what to do when confronted by a student with a handgun.

“I can’t believe they both fired (at Gonzalez),” Halbig said. “He was not a threat to anyone but himself. The rule for law enforcement, whether you are on the street or on the school campus, is to look at all your options. ... When you shoot a 16-, a 15- or a 14-year-old in the leg, trust me there is pain. But to take a life. ... A headshot is a kill shot. Is that what we are all about?”

January 6, 2012: Wolfgang is interviewed by a local blog regarding the Gonzalez Jr. shooting, and largely walks back most of his claims just a day after he made them. He shows a clear awareness that initial reports and media reports of shootings can be wildly inaccurate. He urges police officers responding to a school shooting to exercise restraint and patience. He also apparently spells his own last name wrong. <http://runrun.blogspot.com/2012/01/was-there-another-way-to-solve-problem.html>

By Wolfgang H. Halbig

I would like to respond and clarify to those who responded to this newspaper article. It was not easy to respond to a school shooting in which a middle school student was shot to death. Yes, I was in the comfort of my home when speaking with the news reporter. I would never respond to an incident in which police officers had to use deadly force unless I walked in their shoes as a former Florida State Trooper working in Miami Florida with gun drawn and having to make a difficult choice.

My comments in this newspaper article were solely based on the information provided to me by the media and law enforcement. At 1st even they get the information wrong when providing information to the public as quickly as possible.

What questions would you be asking if that was your child when you received a call stating that your child was just shot and killed while in school?

My comments are only made because these school shootings by school police officers in such a quick and decisive manner causes me extreme concerns.

The last case that I worked on was when a SWAT team member used a scope rifle and shot and killed a middle school student while he was isolated and contained in the boys bathroom with no threat to anyone else but himself. This issue was resolved within a 35 min. time frame when the gun was 1st reported, it was a pellet gun.

The SWAT team member who shot and killed a young boy stated that he was in fear of his life, how is that possible when you're looking through the scope from behind the wall?

Please remember that this young man had already entered the classroom and hit another student in the face, he did not shoot that student or anyone else in the classroom or while walking on the campus heading to the hallway where he was isolated since all the other students and teachers and staff were locked down in their classrooms with lights out.

I took for granted that the police officers used their handguns, now finding out that they use their rifles causes me even more concern and only hope that those who responded on the comments understand that this is not to criticize but to find other options quickly before taking your life.

February 1, 2012 - Wolfgang Halbig contributes $250 to Republican presidential nominee Mitt Romney's election campaign, ROMNEY FOR PRESIDENT, INC.

Like the previous two recipients of Halbig's donations, this candidate is opposing Barack Obama.

http://docquery.fec.gov/cgi-bin/can_ind/P80003353/3/H/

Image# 12951544013

SCHEDULE A-P ITEMIZED RECEIPTS

Use separate schedule(s) for each category of the Detailed Summary Page

FOR LINE NUMBER:
(check only one)

PAGE 1678 / 5709

16 17a 17b 17c 17d 18
 19a 19b 20a 20b 20c 21

Any information copied from such Reports and Statements may not be sold or used by any person for the purpose of soliciting contributions or for commercial purposes, other than using the name and address of any political committee to solicit contributions from such committee.

NAME OF COMMITTEE (In Full)

ROMNEY FOR PRESIDENT, INC.

A. Full Name (Last, First, Middle Initial)

WOLFGANG HALBIG

Mailing Address 25526 HAWKS RUN LANE

City State Zip Code
SORRENTO FL 32776-7745

FEC ID number of contributing federal political committee.

C

Name of Employer
WOLFGANG HALBIG

Occupation
EDUCATIONAL CONSULTANT

Receipt For: 2012

Primary General
 Other (specify) ▼

Election Cycle-to-Date ▼

260.00

Transaction ID : SA17.658863

Date of Receipt

M M / D D / Y Y Y Y
02 / 01 / 2012

CONTRIBUTION

Amount of Each Receipt this Period

250.00

February 8, 2012: Separate investigations launched into Volusia charter school - Wolfgang is quoted in an article about charter schools in Florida. It is claimed that Wolfgang "opened the first charter school in Florida." NOTE: records suggest the first Florida charter school was Liberty City Charter School, where Halbig was never employed, so Wolfgang's basis for making this claim is unclear. [\[LINK\]](#)

The Imani School was $400,000 in debt. Ardonnis Lumpkin was an advisor for both schools.

Volusia County Public Schools and the state Department of Education are looking into the school.

The school district is not calling this an official investigation, but it did confirm it has been in talks with top leaders from the charter school because of this situation.

Wolfgang Halbig opened the first charter school in Florida. He said there are good charter schools, but state laws make it easy for schools to spend money with little oversight.

"You see it over and over throughout the state. Have one charter school, they close down, and all of a sudden open up and leave the first school with a half million in debt. They change the name, but the players don't change," Halbig said.

February 21, 2012: replies to the thread "Re: Are Teachers Behind in Higher-Order Thinking Skills?" the forum "Ask a Question" on Education Weekly Forums. He's banned, so the post is gone.

February 28, 2012: Why we miss school shooting warning signs - "Wolfgang Halbig" comments on a CNN news story about school shootings. [\[LINK\]](#)

Do you see how every one from the police department to the school superintendent talk about what a great response time they had and how they trained for such an event?

If that was what you call a School Lockdown then this school district has serious concerns for the future.

School Safety or Safety has a definition that all school boards and school superintendents must do. It is what do we do on a daily basis to reduce the safety risks to as low as possible.

*School Security are the tools that school boards and school superintendents adopt in order to keep those safety risks to as low as possible. There is not one school district that can promise a parent that his child will be 100% percent safe from harm. There are NO gurantees.

Someday those who are really interested in looking for school safety solutions will change the way they have been brainwashed by the United States Department of Education Safe and Drug Free Schools.

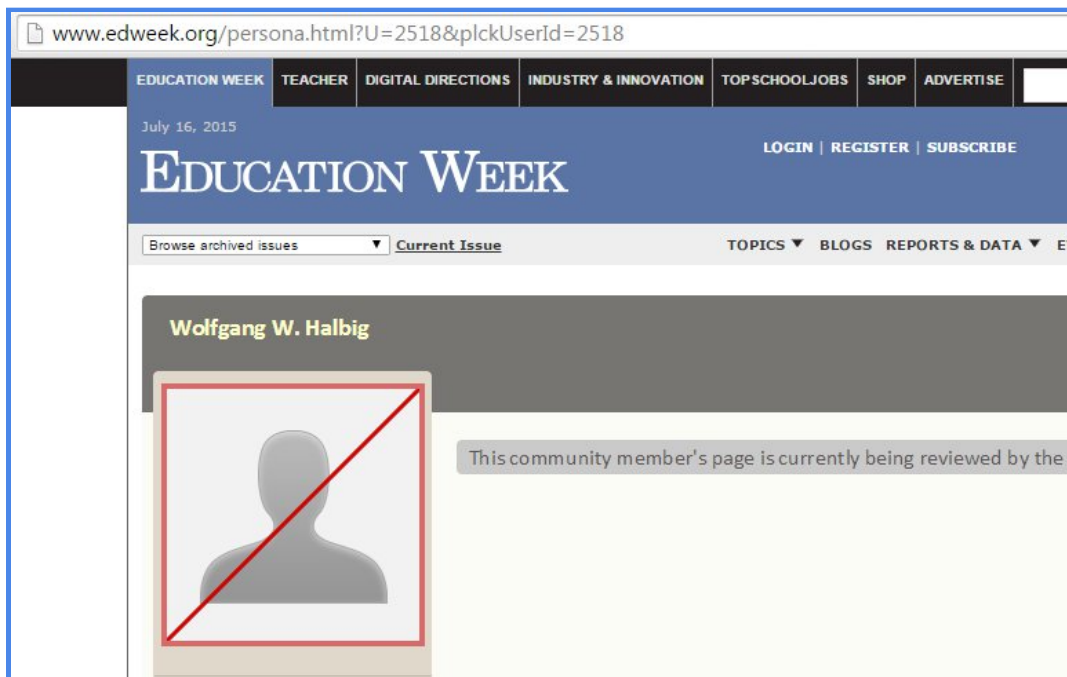

Does anybody not see what is happening that could have or should have been prevented.

Now the experts from colleges who have not worked in our public schools since who knows are going to tell the school district about school shootings.

Please let's start a true discussion about school safety and how to reduce to safety risks on a daily bases so others will not get seriously injured or killed.

March 2 2012: Wolf starts the thread “LGTB BULLYING” to the forum “Ask a Question” on Education Weekly Forums. He’s banned, so the post is gone. There were no replies.

March 15 2012 - Posts to the thread “Education Technology” on Education Weekly. Here, or at some time after here (but not before) his account was banned.

March 27, 2012: Trayvon Martin leaks claim teen attacked first, was suspended for pot - Wolfgang Halbig is quoted in News 13 story about the Trayvon Martin shooting in Sanford (Halbig was an Assistant Principal at Sanford Middle School in 2005, and was a teacher there in 2011, but he is credited in the story simply as a "former Miami state trooper," a job he left well over three decades ago.) [\[LINK\]](#)

Coming to the defense of Sanford police was former Miami state trooper Wolfgang Halbig, who made it a point to remind reporters that an initial Sanford police report shows Zimmerman looked to be arrested for manslaughter.

Somewhere along the line someone at the department decided that Zimmerman was acting in self-defense. "When you see a dead body lying there, especially when it's a child, it affects all of us," Halbig said.

March 28, 2012 Was Zimmerman Nearly Charged On Night Of Shooting? - A news story from WESH Orlando, again covering the shooting of Trayvon Martin by George Zimmerman, quotes Wolfgang, now credited as a "law enforcement expert." His claims are immediately discredited, by actual law enforcement. [\[LINK\]](#)

SANFORD, Fla. —George Zimmerman, the volunteer neighborhood watchman who shot and killed Florida teen Trayvon Martin, was nearly charged with manslaughter the night of February 26.

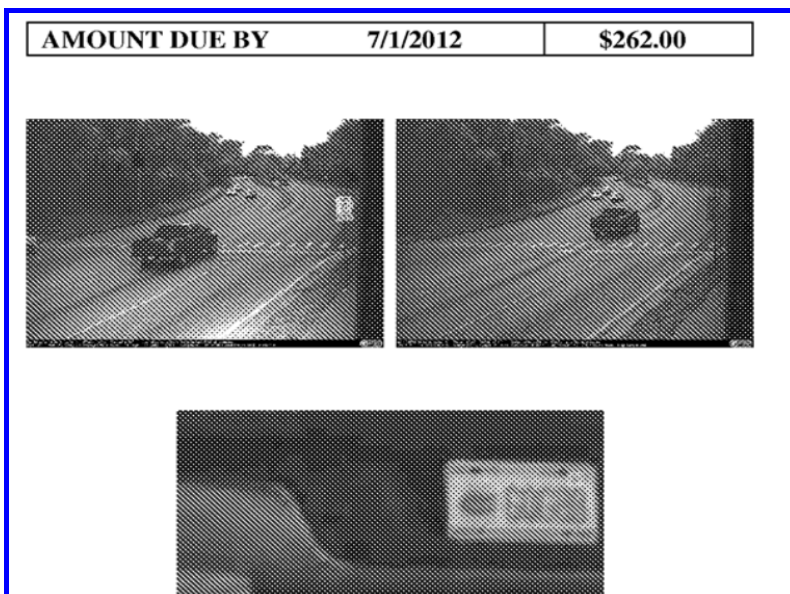

That claim comes from a law enforcement expert, Wolfgang Halbig, who reviewed the Sanford Police Department's report.

Halbig said police officers recommended the manslaughter charge and that it was the State Attorney's Office that decided not to move forward with the charge.

"Whether you are a sheriff or a police chief, the state attorney is the one who decides," Halbig said.

Sanford police officials said they object to Halbig's claim because say the charge was not a recommendation; rather, it was something to be reviewed by the state attorney.

April 13, 2012: At 2:50pm, Wolfgang Halbig runs a red light while driving westbound on Howell Branch Road, at the intersection of Temple Trail in Winter Park, Florida, driving a 2006 Toyota pickup. NOTE: Wolfgang's son drove a truck at this time registered to his father, it's possible that this was Erik driving.

During the deposition, he loses composure at several lines of questioning:

2 A Are you going to discriminate because of my
3 accommodations?

4 Q Just back up for a second. I get to ask the 5 questions, okay?

6 A Well, I'm just saying --

7 MR. PENDLEY: Could you go back and read my 8 last question to him?

9 A I can't believe you'd say that.

10 MR. PENDLEY: Let me move to strike the 11 comment.

12 Q I'm not saying anything. I'm trying to understand
13 why you're applying for jobs you feel you're not physically
14 capable of performing. And now I understand that based upon 15 your past experience, you would be physically capable of 8 Q Any other injuries besides that?

9 A And I'm totally depressed because of this crap.

10 Q And "this crap" being what?

11 A Me having to go to a psychiatrist. That's it, me
12 going to a psychiatrist. I've just never believed in having 13 to go to a psychiatrist. That's what I mean by that. I've 14 never thought the day would come that I would have to resort
15 to seeing a psychiatrist.

16 Q Okay. So the "this crap" you're referring to is 17 having to see a psychiatrist?

18 A Yeah.

19 Q Okay.

20 A It's embarrassing for me.

21 Q All right. What part of your back are you

Wolfgang also falsely claims, under oath, that he was campaigning for Lake County Commissioner in 2011, when in reality the election was in 2010 (Wolfgang attended the April 2010 South Lake Hob Nob less than three months after his supposedly debilitating injury.)

9 Q All right. And how did you do in the general
10 election?
11 A I accomplished my mission. I didn't expect to 12 win. I did it to bring up issues.
13 Q And when did you run for county commissioner?
14 A That was last year, in 2011 -- 2011 -- 2010, 2011.
15 Last year. Let's see.
16 Q So it was after this accident?
17 A It was in 2011, November.
18 Q So you would have been campaigning during the 19 summer of 2011 up until the general election in November?
20 A In November, yeah.

June 29, 2012: Several 7th grade students are suspended after a video of them bullying Karen Klein, a bus monitor in upstate New York, goes viral on Youtube. In the ensuing nationwide dialogue on bullying, an online fundraiser collects over $650,000 for Klein.

July 24, 2012 : Wolfgang Halbig posts a comment to a story about Karen Klein on facebook. He announces a fundraising drive, in which the donors would be paid back "once the company is up and running." This demonstrates his interest in finding a news story to latch onto and collect money off of.

Wolfgang W Halbig · ★ Top Commenter · Abilene Christian University

I need financial help in fighting for children that are Harassed, Threatened, Intimidated, Assaulted, Racially and Now Gender Discriminated against. I am trying to provide to parents technology defender for any student who is having to suffer through this type of fail torture.

We through the proper use of technology as a means will stop these vultures form preying on our most vulnerable.

Please donate and investigate what we can do in saving children from committing suicide.

I need $100,000 thousand dollars and probably pay it back once the company is up and running.

wolfgang
352-729-2559
Reply · Like July 24, 2012 at 6:02am

August 27, 2012 - Wolfgang Halbig is ticketed for speeding. The case is eventually dismissed.

	Case #	35-2012-TR-031233-AXXX-XX	File Date	8/27/2012
	Party Name/Company	HALBIG, WOLFGANG W	Court Type	Traffic Infractions
	Name Suffix		Case Type
	DOB	8/10/1946	Case Status	CLOSED
	Party Type	Defendant	Restitution Balance	0.0000
	Offense Date	8/20/2012

Print Preview

Parties Charges Court Events Dockets Sentences Arrests & Bonds Warrants Linked Cases Fees

Offense Date	Citation #	Count	Statute #	Description	Offense Level	Plea	Plea Date	Disposition
8/20/2012	1497WKN	0	316.187(1)	Unlawful speed	IN	Not Guilty	3/8/2013	Dismissed

September 26, 2012: Florida drivers pay $7 million a year for driver's ed program that doesn't exist - article notes how the taxpayers are still paying the fee for Wolfgang's driver's education law, even though driver's education is no longer mandatory.

<http://www.wftv.com/news/news/florida-drivers-pay-7-million-year-drivers-ed-prog/nSMnY/>

Halbig said the worst part is he believes teens have died in crashes because they didn't take driver's education.

Now, he said, he knows the money was there.

"When a parent grabs you, they know what it is, and it's not good news. And you have to take them to the morgue to show them their child. Come on, we can do better than that," Halbig said.

September 27, 2012: Wolfgang applies for another job with Lake County, apparently for the Affordable Housing Advisory Committee. On the application, under references, Wolfgang lists himself three times:

interests conflict with the interests of this Board or committee, I will not participate in such deliberations. References may be secured from the following individuals:

Name	Address	Phone Number
Wolfgang Halbig	25526 Hawks Run Lane	352 729-2559
Wolfgang Halbig		352 729-2559
Wolfgang Halbig	25526 Hawks Run Lane	352 729-2559
		Wolfgang Halbig
		Signature of Applicant

It is a general application, and under "Position" Halbig enters "Educational Consultant."

cc 4

Watson, Grace

From: Webmaster
Sent: Thursday, September 27, 2012 8:46 AM
To: Watson, Grace
Subject: Application for Advisory Board/Committee

LAKE COUNTY BOARDS/COMMITTEES
GENERAL APPLICATION

Name: Wolfgang Halbig Date: 9/27/2012 8:46:00 AM

Home Mailing Address: 25526 Hawks Run Lane
Sorrento 32776

Physical Address: 25526 Hawks Run Lane
Sorrento 32776

County of Residence: Lake Home Phone: 352 729-2559

Email Address: wolfgang.halbig@comcast.net

Education: Masters in Administration

Business (Name & Type): Wolfgang Halbig

Business Address: 25526 Hawks Run Lane Sorrento 32776

Business Phone: 352 729-2559 Position: Educational Consultant

Training or experience related to activities of boards or committees to which appointment is sought:
35 years in Public Education. Customs Agent, Florida State Trooper, Flordis Senate Appointment to the Florida Safe Schools Commission.

Professional Organizations:
I want to get involved in our community and make sure that all business interest are protected in Sorrento and Mt. Plymouth.

Have you served on a Lake County Board(s)/Committee(s) in the past? No
If yes, please identify those that you have served on.

Please check Board(s)/Committee(s) that interest you.
Affordable Housing Advisory Committee

October 7, 2012: A comment is posted under the name "Wolfgang Halbig" on an ABCnews article about President Obama: [\[LINK\]](#)

wolfgang halbig

OBAM HATES THE JEWS AND DOES NOT EVEN ACKNOWLEDGE THAT JERUSALEM IS THE CAPITAL. HIS DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM REMOVED GOD FROM OUR FOUNDATION AS AMERICANS

Today I am as angry as anyone can get. What is it going to take for the uneducated Americans to get educated and start thinking about how they have responsibilities and not just rights that they throw in our faces everyday.

My father for four years I learned was in a NAZI PRISON in POSEN, POLAND.

Thank God that the Americans found him.

The letters I have now found in GERMANY makes me sick to my stomach as to what Hitler did to the Jewish Race. To this day I cannot believe that someone did not kill him which would have saved 6 million of our people there not just a jewish race they are people just like you and me.

THE UNEDUCATED Just keep watching that Idiot Box all day long because it appears our America is not the America that OUR Baby Boomers protected.

They listened to the RADIO since we had NO Idiot Boxes to watch, we listened to the radio and used our imagination with the voices and sounds we heard.

October 2012: Comments are left under a number of articles, from the username "wolfgang halbig." The text is usually copied from a "birther" website's "Obama timeline" or similar rumor list. [\[LINK\]](#)
He leaves the same comment here: [\[LINK\]](#) another similar comment:[\[LINK\]](#) more: [\[LINK\]](#)
on race: [\[LINK\]](#)
more on African-Americans: [\[LINK\]](#)
Obama "wedding ring" chain email: [\[LINK\]](#)
Hurricane Sandy: [\[LINK\]](#)

November 8 2012: Just days after the 2008 election, a user claiming to be Wolfgang Halbig posts a comment to a CNN article, critical of African-Americans. (see pg3 of this document.)

More mugshots in Seminole County, FL »

Mugshot details

Name: ERIK HALBIG

Booking Date: December 14, 2012

Where booked: Seminole County, FL (Seminole County - Visit this agency)

Gender: N/A

Age: 32

Total Bond: $0 or N/A

Charges:

OBSTRUCT POLICE-DEPRIVE OF MEANS PROTECTION OR COMM (DV)
RESIST OFFICER-OBSTRUCT W/O VIOLENCE

December 14 2012: Sandy Hook Elementary School shooting. "Hoaxerism" begins almost immediately.

Meanwhile, in Florida, Wolfgang's son is arrested on the same day. (ABOVE) [\[LINK\]](#)

2013

January 30, 2013: Ownership of the Cranberry Isles Way property is transferred from Nancy Halbig to both Wolfgang and Kathy Halbig, as joint tenants.

<http://www.ocpaf1.org/Searches/ParcelSearch.aspx/PID/282032114100700>

QUIT CLAIM DEED
12169052-03R
STATE OF FLORIDA COUNTY OF ORANGE Lake ##
THIS INDENTURE made and entered into on this 30 day of January, 2013 , by and between KATHLEEN S. HALBIG, A MARRIED WOMAN, WHO ACQUIRED TITLE AS A SINGLE PERSON, 1821 CRANBERRY ISLES WAY, APOPKA, FL 32712 hereinafter referred to as Grantor(s) and KATHLEEN S. HALBIG AND WOLFGANG W. HALBIG, WIFE AND HUSBAND, AS JOINT TENANTS, 1821 CRANBERRY ISLES WAY, APOPKA, FL 32712, hereinafter referred to as Grantee(s).
WITNESSETH: That the said Grantors, for and in consideration of the sum of ONE and NO/100 ($1.00) DOLLAR, cash in hand paid and other good and valuable consideration, the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, have this day remise, release, quitclaim, grant, sell, and convey to the said Grantee following described real estate located in ORANGE County, FLORIDA:
SEE ATTACHED EXHIBIT "A"
Also known as: 1821 CRANBERRY ISLES WAY, APOPKA, FL 32712 Property Tax ID No.: 32-20-28-1141-00700 SUBJECT TO EASEMENTS AND RESTRICTIONS OF RECORD.
Prior instrument reference: BOOK 5834, PAGE 379, Recorded: 09/07/1999

March 13, 2013 - Wolfgang Halbig delivers a safety presentation for Sonitrol of Southwest Ohio, at the Savannah Center in West Chester:

H. Safety Seminar – Our security company, Sonitrol of SW Ohio, is presenting a school safety seminar on March 13, 2013 in West Chester. There will be presentations from the Cincinnati Police, a national safety expert, Wolfgang Halbig and technology experts. We are sending 3 employees for the training.

http://www.shiversecurityservices.com/images/uploads/School_Safety_Seminar_Registration_Flyer.pdf

Hamilton County Disabilities covering it:

<http://www.hamiltontdds.org/uploads/Board%20Minutes/Minutes%203%2012%2013.pdf>

<http://www.securitysales.com/article/planning-school-safety-training-for-the-education-market>

How did you choose the speakers for the seminar?

We wanted this to be an interactive discussion, and we wanted people to be able to share best practices because each school is unique, so each of their plans is going to be a little bit different. You don't want to put your audience to sleep. You want to make sure the speaker engages the audience, keeps them interested, and presents information relevant to your participants.

We had national safety expert Wolfgang Halbig as one of our speakers. He had attended one of our previous school seminars, and he did a really dynamic presentation that talked about active shooters, bullying and all the different types of crime that can occur within a school environment. We also had speakers from the Cincinnati Police Department District 4 and representatives from the Hamilton County Prosecutors office. Because attendees are going to ask a lot of questions, I highly recommend inviting a police district that has a good rapport with your company.

Shiver, unlike most companies, did more for District 4 than donate money. Employees donated their time at events. On Thanksgiving, District 4 sets up a restaurant-type event for low-income families in their auditorium. Together, Shiver employees and the police officers cooked and served food to more than 150 people. For their annual Toy Drive, Shiver partnered with District 4 and District 5 police to buy toys for Hope Worldwide and children at Cincinnati Children's Hospital Medical Center. Together, they delivered more than three cars full of toys to Cincinnati Children's Hospital.

In March, Shiver/Sonitrol of SW Ohio sponsored a school safety seminar in West Chester to educate people in school administrators and safety directors, church officials, and day-care center owners about proactive safety and security measures. At the seminar, District 4 police officers, Hamilton County Prosecutors, technology experts, and Wolfgang Halbig, who is a nationally recognized school safety expert and consultant, spoke about a wide range of topics. For example, in light of the school shootings in Connecticut, District 4 police informed the audience about a new technique to protect children from armed gunmen called A.L.I.C.E. (Alert, Lock Down, Inform, Counter and Evacuate). The goal is to get everyone talking about safety and to make sure their safety plan is current with the changes of today's society.

Shiver/Sonitrol of SW Ohio currently provides security solutions to more than 60 schools in 20 districts. At the school safety seminar, the company encouraged officials to reevaluate their current systems to ensure that there are no flaws or holes in them. For the schools, day-care providers and churches Shiver/Sonitrol of SW Ohio does not protect, the company reached out in hopes that they will understand the importance of taking a proactive, offensive stance in safety and security.

Because Shiver and the District 4 police had developed such a strong relationship, they will continue to have open communication, and work together to improve the lives of their community members, and ultimately strengthen the community as a whole. Shiver and the District 4 police plan to team up for projects throughout the year.

June 29, 2013: "Wolfgang Halbig" leaves a comment on the website "Special Education Advisor."
<http://www.specialeducationadvisor.com/cameras-in-special-needs-classrooms-not-so-fast/>

Wolfgang Halbig said on June 29, 2013

If I where a Special Education teacher I would want the CCTV camera for my own protection.
I went to college to teach children with special needs and I do not want to loose my job because someone accuses me of mistreatment

  Rating: 0 (from 0 votes)

June 12, 2013: Wolfgang Halbig applies for another position with Lake County, this time working with criminal offenders and/or victims: <http://lakecountyfl.suiteonemedia.com/Web/GenFile.aspx?ad=1535>

Director of a Local Substance Abuse Treatment Program (or a member designated by the Director)

- Jonathan Cherry, President/CEO, LifeStream Behavioral Center – reappointment – originally appointed 7/12/2005

A notice was posted on the Internet and televised on LSCC Ch-13 along with the regularly scheduled airing of County Commission meetings announcing the vacancies of three (3) representatives from County and State Jobs Programs and other Community Groups who work with Offenders and Victims. The following are those who are seeking appointment, and their applications are attached:

- Mike Stone – reappointment – originally appointed 8/16/2005
- Norbert Thomas – reappointment – originally appointed 3/28/2006
- Wolfgang Halbig
- Bernadette McDonald

July 13, 2013: Wolfgang conducts a safety seminar at the David L Lawrence Convention Center in Pittsburgh. The event's description promises sessions on the "EXTRA HANDS" Safety Shield , as well as the "CALMING SOUNDS" headset. The description reads in part: [\[LINK\]](#) [\[LINK\]](#)

Learn new Innovative Teacher Strategies and tools that will reduce the use of restraints in the classroom. Too many children and teacher injuries have received national attention in finding new solutions for restraints. These strategies and tools work for college and professional football, baseball and basketball players as well as music and movie stars, and the question is, Why not for children with special needs?

Learn how "Restraints" must be used only as a last resort to prevent serious injury or death and not for discipline

Presenter: Wolfgang Halbig
Educational Director
Children's Safety Institute (CSI)
I am a very passionate educational presenter with a unique educational and law enforcement background. I am a national presenter for School Board Associations and the United States Department of Justice in creating safe schools.

September 27, 2013: According to emails published by Florida Atlantic University Professor James Tracy, Wolfgang sends the following email to Newtown First Selectman Pat Llodra.

*From: Wolfgang Halbig
Fri, 27 Sep 2013 09:00:43 -0500
To: first.selectman@newtown-ct.gov
Cc: susan.marcinek@newtown-ct.gov
Subject: Mike Kehoe your Police Chief should be immediately fired for Negligence*

Mrs Llodra:

I find this e-mail very difficult to write but as a Former Florida State Trooper and old now find the actions of your Police Chief very disturbing.

I have dedicated my life in public service and to read about your police chief giving Lt. George Sinko only a letter of reprimand for failing to respond to the Sandy Hook Elementary School Shooting on Dec 14, 2012

You should ask yourself as to how a Lt. working an off-duty detail at a construction site and making overtime money can ignore 911 calls and a Newtown police dispatcher requesting help from police officers for shots fired at The Sandy Hook Elementary School.

I cannot imagine any police officer ignoring emergency help requests when children and school staff lives are being threatened. To sit in your car and listen to all those emergency calls go over the airwaves and do nothing is negligence.

For over two hours he sits and does absolutely nothing while children and school staff are being shot and killed.

Your Police Chief states in the newspaper that he is not a first responder. He also states that he was off duty.

I can tell you and so can any other certified law enforcement officer when working an off-duty detail that you are never off-duty especially when lives of children and school staff are at stake.

We in law enforcement are on duty 24/7 always on call.

This Lt is 24 year veteran and if he does not know his responsibilities then he should also be immediately be fired along with the Police Chief.

This is a national embarrassment that clearly demonstrates negligence by both the Police Chief for not calling him to duty that morning and for the Lt not responding to this crisis.

We are all first responders even if you are a Lt.

How embarrassing for the City of Newtown Ct having a Lt. sit for over two hours and not respond and only be given a letter of reprimand.

I know that there is more to the story and I only hope that you use common sense in handling this huge embarrassment for your City.

Wolfgang W Halbig

October 17, 2013: According to emails published by Florida Atlantic University Professor James Tracy, Wolfgang sends the following email to Newtown Schools, cc'ing CBS News. NOTE: Stanley Security purchased Sonitrol in 2008 [\[LINK\]](#)

*From: Wolfgang Halbig
Date: Thu, 17 Oct 2013 14:11:53 -0500
To: Kathy June <junek@newtown.k12.ct.us>
Cc: "60m@cbsnews.com" "brian.ross@abcnews.com"*

Subject: Last try for Freedom of Information Act from your Interim Superintendent

Kathy;

Please tell your Interim School Superintendent that his response is total Horsepoop.

Hiding behind the safety of children and school staff in not releasing my information request is unprofessional if he is an educator.

*I am simply asking for the Vendors name who you the school district or school hired to install the security system at Sandy Hook Elementary School with address and contact numbers
Just like Stanley Security Solutions has installed all of the security tools at the Sandy Hook replacement school.*

*They have donated over $100,000 thousand dollars in front door access control with CCTV CAMERA AND ACCESS BUTTON WITH CMAERA BEING A COLOR CAMERA.
THEY HAVE PROVIDED CARD READERS AT VARIOUS DOORS FOR STAFF USE.
THEY HAVE PROVIDED YOUR SCHOOL WITH A NUMBER OF CCTV COLOR CAMERAS PLACED IN VARIOUS AREAS OF THE SCHOOL WHICH I DON'T WANT TO DISCLOSE SINCE IT MAY PLACE CHILDREN AND SCHOOL STAFF AT RISK.*

What is wrong with your school district and your superintendents? What are they afraid off?

I need the total cost of the project.

I need the date of completion.

I need the breakdown of the total cost as to what did the cameras cost? Are they color or just black and white?

I do not want to know the locations as I do know the placement of the cameras at the Sandy Hook replacement school and I promise not to ever hurt any child or staff in your school district.

Please comply with my FOIA as soon a possible since I have been waiting forever.

Wolfgang W Halbig

October 31, 2013: Wolfgang sends the following email to the FBI, cc'ing CBS news, ABC news, 60 minutes, and Bruce Winner and Ron Davis (according to a January 2014 facebook post from Wolfgang.) Nearly a year after the Sandy Hook shooting, Halbig expresses suspicion that the shooting did not take place, as well as frustration that his Freedom of Information Act requests are not being acted upon:

From: Wolfgang Halbig <wolfgang.halbig@comcast.net>

Date: Thu, 31 Oct 2013 08:17:17 -0500

To: <newhaven@ic.fbi.gov>

Cc: "60m@cbsnews.com" <60m@cbsnews.com>, "brian.ross@abcnews.com" <brian.ross@abcnews.com>, "Winner, Bruce" <Bruce.Winner@sbdinc.com>, "ron@childrenssafetyinstitute.com" <ron@childrenssafetyinstitute.com>

Subject: Some one needs to go to jail/Second request

FBI:

There is no question about what your next step should be in the Sandy Hook Elementary School Shooting on Dec 14, 2012.

Someone needs to go to jail just for the sheer negligence in failing to request the Medevac Trauma Helicopters to respond to the Sandy Hook Elementary School.

In every Active Shooter Training exercise the CT State Police and or local law enforcement always use the Medevac Trauma Helicopters to land at a school site used for practice so educators all understand what will happen when children and school staff are seriously injured.

Now we actually have a shooting but No one requested the trauma helicopters LIFE STAR. I called Life Star and they where as surprised as I was when they where Not requested that morning. Please contact them and use my name.*

Never in my 36 years working as a Florida State Trooper or US Customs Agent or Teacher, Coach, School Administrator have I ever witnessed a school district or law enforcement agency hiding the truth from parents and school districts across this country.

[...] When a US President goes on National Television on the afternoon of the Sandy Hook Elementary School Shooting on Dec 14, 2012 with tears and promises the country that he will use every resource of his office in investigation this heinous crime.

He stated that he personally contacted the Director of the FBI Robert Mueller and even the Gov of CT Malloy and promising them the same resources.

How in the world with all those resources from the FBI, Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms, Secret Service, NSA , Ct State Police and local law enforcement that a school, shooting is 11 month old with NO information?

Is the Presidents words meaningless? Sparks Nevada in which a teacher is shot and killed and the FBI and Homeland Security have been assigned to investigate and you in Newhaven have NO clue or are you intentionally hiding the truth?

I believe that 1 of 2 things occurred on Dec 14th, 2012. 1) The EMTs/First responders were negligent & should be charged with Sec. 53a-56. Manslaughter in the second degree or 2). When the EMT's failed in requesting the Medevac Life Star Trauma Helicopters on Dec 14, 2012 they prevented children and school staff from receiving the best life savings medical services available especially since two children died at the hospital. Why?

The Connecticut State Police were uttering false statements & should be charged with Falsely reporting an incident in the first degree (CONN. GEN. STAT. § 53a-180), receive no less than 1 year, nor more than 5 years' imprisonment; No more than $5,000 fine.

You have a Lt. from the Newtown Police Department working an off-duty detail at a construction site on Dec 14, 2012 which is 1.3 miles from the Sandy Hook Elementary School when the calls goes out that shots are fired at Sandy hook. He chooses not to respond. Why?

The Police Chief of Newtown justified his actions by stating that he is not a first responder. Ask any police officer as to what they would have done if they where working an off-duty detail and heard the call shots fired. If you want the truth.

I called the Newtown Public Schools to find out who they contracted with in sanitizing and decontaminating the Sandy Hook Elementary School since they had serious Bio-Hazard exposure in that crime scene and where considering opening the school again as stated in the Newtown Bee.

They responded by saying what Bio-Hazards are you talking about at the school.

I stated like Blood, Bodily Fluids, Brain Matter on the walls, the floors in the hallway and classrooms, on the school desks and windows because you are looking at 45 to 60 gallons of blood displaced and splattered everywhere.

They would not provide with the name of a company. Why? It has nothing to do with the criminal investigation does it?

21 Ct Freedom of Information Act requests and not one response to just simple questions.
Why?

I am requesting that your office personally respond to my allegations in which I believe a Federal Crime has been committed as soon as possible.

The FBI at Newhaven has ignored a Presidential directive in using every available resource in investigating this heinous crime at the Sandy Hook Elementary School on Dec 14, 2012. Why? All those resources and you after 11 month stay silent which I believe is a crime.

Thanks

Wolfgang W Halbig

November 7, 2013: Wolfgang Halbig files a lawsuit against Errol Estate Property Owners Association Inc. This is the second lawsuit associated with Halbig's slip and fall in January of 2013, the previous target being the city of Apopka (reportedly settled for a sum of approximately $11,000, less fees.)

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT OF THE NINTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT IN AND FOR ORANGE COUNTY, FLORIDA
_____ WOLFGANG HALBIG, Plaintiff,	Case No:
Vs.	COMPLAINT
ERROL ESTATE PROPERTY OWNERS ASSOCIATION, INC., Defendant.
_____ COMPLAINT AND DEMAND FOR JURY TRIAL

NOVEMBER 20, 2013

Smallstorm and Fetzter on Sandy Hook, Fukushima, RF Radiation ¹⁰¹

by James Tracy • Home, Interviews • Tags: Department of Homeland Security, environmentalism, gun control, police state and civil rights, propaganda, public opinion, Sandy Hook Elementary, social engineering

Sofia Smallstorm offers a detailed discussion of her recent video presentation, Unraveling Sandy Hook, on Professor Jim Fetzter's The Real Deal radio program.

The edition aired on Friday November 15 and is also available for listening and comment at The Real Deal's blog here.

November 20, 2013: Smallstorm and Fetzter on Sandy Hook, Fukushima, RF Radiation - Professor James Tracy posts a link to his "Memory Hole" blog. It is for a radio interview conducted by Professor Jim Fetzter, with a person calling herself "Sofia Smallstorm." Smallstorm, Fetzter and Tracy all had prior interactions through the 9/11 truth community. As indicated, the conversation focuses on Sandy Hook.

December 2, 2013: Halbig emails Sally Cox and other Sandy Hook shooting survivors, according to emails published by James Tracey (note that Sally Cox hid in a closet during the shooting.)

From: Wolfgang Halbig
Date: Mon, 02 Dec 2013 08:43:53 -0500
To: Sally Cox <coxs@newtown.k12.ct.us>
Subject: SHS Parent Contact

I am a trainer for the US Justice Department COPS IN SCHOOL PROGRAM.

Are you a registered Nurse?

Why in the closet for four hours?

Why close your eyes when you have seen blood before you are a nurse?

Wolfgang W halbig

December 6, 2013: Facebook post <http://archive.is/H73E7>

Wolfgang W Halbig commented on NBC Connecticut.

December 6, 2013 · 🌐

Help:

You cannot be that stupid?

When you conduct an investigation you start with:

All police recordings by the Newtown Police Department and the CT State Troopers In zone I from 6:00 am to 6:00 pm on Dec 14, 2012. Forget the 911 calls

Request the flight log and passenger manifest from Ct State Trooper One helicopter starting at 8:00 am to 6:00 pm on Dec 14, 2012

Request all video footages shot out of Ct State Trooper One helicopter on Dec 14, 2012 starting at 9:00 am with the appropriate time stamp and date.

Ask the CT State Police and the Newtown Police as to why the national news media was at Tread way park before 8:00 am on Dec 14, 2012 setting up their Satellite Dishes for press conference?

Ask the Ct State Police and the Newtown Police as to why they refused to allow the Paramedics and the EMT'S inside the Sandy Hook Elementary School when first arriving on the scene and even after the school was secured?

Why did they not request the Trauma Helicopters which is an Active Shooter drill requirement but not used on that day Dec 14, 2012? NO

Trauma Helicopters and parents are not furious that the Paramedics and EMT'S were not allowed inside the school to save those seriously injured and those clinging to life.

How many lawsuits have been filed by the parents and school staff loved ones?

Why do they have a picture of four people running away from the Sandy Hook Elementary School holdings hands when you have two people at the front entrance of the school watching them run? Should they not also be running away from the front of the school?

Why have christmas trees stored behind the Volunteer Fire House at Sandy Hook and then only brought the next morning after the shooting? It is amazing to have 26 small christmas trees that next morning. Please don't tell me they were going to have a christmas tree sale when it is already Dec 14, 2012.

Why No Christmas Decorations on the front door of the school on Dec 14, 2012 or in the hallways of the school or on the windows throughout the school?

Why does Adam Lanza smash his computer and hard drive but make his bed before going to school? He knew he was not coming back.

Who was contracted to clean up all the Bio_hazard inside the Sandy Hook Elementary School since they were considering re-opening it just as we did Columbine. I have seen the crime scene at Columbine and have seen it after the clean up.

If you have the balls to find out the answers to these simple 12 questions then you will get a national award on the Sandy Hook School Shooting because NO one yet has had the balls to ask those questions.

Wolfgang W halbig

December 10, 2013: CNN Comment: [\[LINK\]](#)

Wolfgang Halbig

If you think 911 created panic and fear in the US wait till you see what any idiot angry at our government can do now with a drone. Remember Oklahoma City Bombing well this make it so easy to creat havoc all across the US and with a Drone.

Who is going to be Drone police, who is going to shoot them done when they are carrying biological weapons that can destroy farms and cattle, our watre supply and wait till one of these Drones kills people in a football or basbeall stadium then someone is going to say what idiot allwed these drones to fly.

You have got to be kidding, someone is going to make billions of dollars and someone is surley going to die sorry millions are going to die.

But who the hell cares?

December 10, 2013 at 5:36 pm | Reply

Chapter 12: Year of the Wolf

2014

January 17 2014: A facebook comment from Wolfgang Halbig suggests that Sandy Hook has come to occupy the same place in his psyche that his obsession with President Obama had in years previous.

Wolfgang W Halbig
January 17 via YouTube

Great reading and information.

Who do you believe.

How do you go from Barry Soetoro to Barack Hussein Obama?

I love this just like Sandy Hook

Occidental College transcripts provides concrete evidence to annul Obama presidency..avi
Uploaded by tatoott1009

THIS IS MY BLOG <http://tatoott1009.com/TOWERING INFERNO AND STAND BUT 911 TOWERS FALL.avi> <http://tatoott1009.com/2012/05>

January 22, 2014: Wolfgang sends the following email (according to Professor James F. Tracy of Florida Atlantic University) suggesting that Lake County homicide detectives had paid him a visit at some point.

From: Wolfgang Halbig

To: Vance and Kehoe

January 22, 2014

*Subject: Why would one of you send Homicide Detectives to my home and Threaten me with Felony Arrest by CT State Police?

Vance and Kehoe;

I do not know which one of you had the idea that by having the Lake County, Florida Sheriffs Homicide Detectives show up at my house and threatened me with Felony arrest by the CT State Police if I did not stop asking questions about Sandy Hook Shooting.

You want me to stop asking questions in light of the fact that you both have yet to respond to any of my Ct Freedom of Information Act requests for the past 9 months, you both should be arrested for failing to comply with CT State Laws.

I have served honorably in the Military during Vietnam, I served as a Florida State Trooper in Miami, Fl, I worked as United States Customs Inspector at both International Airports and Seaports.*

I graduated at the top of my class at the Florida Highway Patrol Academy and that is why my class elected me as their class president to speak at our graduation.

What you two are doing is just unbelievable and I cannot believe that the law enforcement community across the United States is accepting the Danbury State Attorney report without the FBI Classified Investigative information included.

What in the world needs to be Classified by the FBI?

- You stated that there was just one suspect and he shot himself in the classroom. Is that correct?
- He shot 20 children and six school staff members. Is that correct?
- He fired 153 rounds using both handguns and a .223 Bushmaster rifle as you stated. Is that correct?
- He shot his way through the front glass door. Is that correct?
- He parked his black Honda civic in the front parent drop off area with all four car doors wide open as Barbara Sibley a parent witness observed. Is that correct?
- He left a 12 gauge Ithaca shotgun in the front seat of the black Honda civic. Is that correct?
- He took approximately 11 minutes inside the school to kill 20 children and 6 school staff members. Is that correct?

So what has to be CLASSIFIED BY THE FBI?

THE WHY'S????????????????

- Why NO Life Star Trauma Helicopter on Dec 14, 2012 since you use them in every active shooter drill when the news media covers your stories. WHY?
- Why did you not allow the Paramedics and EMT'S inside the school after 11 minutes?
- Who was the person who declared all 24 children and six school staff members legally dead? Who?
- Why did it take over an hour to transport someone to the hospital?
- Why do you have a 50 to 60 year old women being transported by ambulance as Natalie Hammond when Natalie Hammond is only 40 years old? Why pretend?

- Why have 26 small Christmas trees behind the Sandy Hook Volunteer fire house on Dec 14, 2012 and then decorate them on Dec 15, 2012 after the shooting? Why?
- Why have a Lt. of the Newtown Police Department with 24 years not leave his off duty job where he is controlling traffic at a construction work site until two hours after the shooting started? This is the best one of all. Why?
- Why have a Licensed Registered Nurse who works at Sandy Hook Elementary School that Nancy Lana the mother of Adam Lana is a great and wonderful Kindergarten teacher at her school? Why does she lie on National News?
- Why have a Police Chief State in the Newspaper article that his Lt. is not a first responder? Does anyone believe that for one-second especially when you have two Ct State troopers escorting a prisoner to the Danbury courthouse when hearing the active shooter call and respond to Sandy Hook. Why them and not the Lt.?

We have all these great Police Investigators and NO one questions the actions of Dec 14, 2012.

You both then did a great job and deserve an Oscar at the Oscars in Hollywood.

Do not send anymore Detectives to my home.
Please answer my questions if you can.

Thanks

Wolfgang W Halbig
352-729-2559

January 21 2014: "Bill Ford" (see: Sonitrol, 2003) posts a video titled "Childrens Safety Institute" to Youtube, promoting the same "Calming Sounds" and "Extra Hands" products that Wolfgang was marketing earlier in the year. <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Q2vHmPO7KrU>

CSI Interventions

Extra Hands Safety Tool

Childrens Safety Institute

Bill Ford

January 23rd 2014: Wolfgang falsely claims that it was his “responsibility to learn english” when he came to the United States. Despite this, he consistently admits, when under oath, that he did not learn english properly and could not read, passing thru the public school system thanks only to his ability to play football.

 Wolfgang W Halbig shared a link via Lee Strenth.
January 23

They made me shave my head when at basic training and be clean shaven everyday or face serious consequences.
What is happening to us. It was my responsibility to learn english when I came to this country. Now we must speak their language after they come to our country.
Why?

 DOD Lets U.S. Soldiers Keep Religious Beards, Tattoos, Piercings
www.breitbart.com

The U.S. Department of Defense (DOD) today updated its policy dealing with religious apparel and hair grooming that U.S. service...

January 24th, 2014:

 Wolfgang W Halbig shared Sheep Dog - Impact Assistance's photo.
January 24

This process could have been used for all the children and school staff at Sandy Hook just so the parents could actually touch and see their child or loved one for the last time. How can the parents accept the fact that they were not allowed to see their own child or school staff members loved ones who are adults, they were only shown pictures.

hell would freeze over because I would knock down that medical examiners door to touch my child, kisses my child and to hug my child or loved one.

Showing a picture what is that all about. Bullshit.

I know what it was like to take parents or loved ones as a Florida State Trooper to the morgue or medical examiners offices to identify the body.

The pain that you see is unbeliveable as they touch, hug, kiss and never wanting to leave the room.

The pain and the tears are real.

Would you as a parent just llok at a picture? Or would you want that last touch, hug and kiss to your child or loved one? See More

This is a picture the military has never let anyone see until now.

January 27, 2014: Wolfgang expresses annoyance at “all the racial charges by blacks on a daily basis.”

A screenshot of a Facebook post by Wolfgang W Halbig, dated January 27. The post includes a profile picture of a man in a suit and a globe icon. The text of the post reads: "Did we discriminate against the American Indian? I just can't remember with all the racial charges by blacks on a daily basis. WE wiped out an American race because of sheer creed." Below the text, it says "With Laura Ann Meranda and 24 others." At the bottom of the post, there is a partial view of a photograph showing a person's face wearing a feathered headdress.

February 3, 2014: Wolfgang reflects on the consequences of alcoholism and drug addiction after the death of actor Philip Seymour Hoffman. He also reveals several facts about his upbringing and family:

A screenshot of a Facebook post by Wolfgang W Halbig, dated February 3. The post includes a profile picture of a man in a suit and a globe icon. The text of the post reads: "I liked Philip Seymour. You can be the best actor, have all the money, travel the world and yet never be completely happy because of all the people hanging on to your tail coat. Alcoholics and becoming drug dependent is how so many people deal with it and many times as we see with Philip it ends in death. My grandfather beat the hell out of grandmother because he was an alcoholic and I will never ever forget those days. MY stepfather was an alcoholic and beat my mother to a pulp so many times which I will never forget. If the pain is so terrible for someone who has everything just think about all of those who have that same pain and have nothing. wolf See More" Below the text, there is a small thumbnail image of Philip Seymour Hoffman and a link titled "Philip Seymour Hoffman Dead at 46" with the URL "abcnews.go.com".

The same day:

A screenshot of a Facebook post by Wolfgang W Halbig, dated February 3. The post includes a profile picture of a man in a suit and a globe icon. The text of the post reads: "Please check out www.childrenssafetyinstitute because that is what we are all about and I don't see anybody helping us fight to save them from abuse and misuse. wolf"

February 10, 2014: Wolfgang submits a Freedom of Information Act Request. In it, he identifies himself "the Chief Investigator for the Children's Safety Institute that protects Children with Autism." and indicates that the Sandy Hook shooting is a factor in his professional life.

*From: Wolfgang Halbig [mailto:wolfgang.halbig@comcast.net]
Sent: Monday, February 10, 2014 9:35 AM
To: FOIA OIG
Subject: PLease process as quickly as possible sorry for the urgency.
Importance: High*

Freedom of Information Act Request:

Can you please provide me with the F.E.M.A. Sandy Hook School Shooting NIMS or ICS evaluations.

You had over 8 F.E.M.A evaluators on site during the shooting since you could see their I.D badges with pictures provided by observers from the Catholic Church.

NIMS and ICS is your brainchild which requires every school district to have all staff members trained in the NIMS or ICS Emergency Response protocols.

So I cannot imagine that after millions and millions of tax payer dollars that FEMA would not want to evaluate one of the most heinous and horrendous crimes in US school history.

How did NIMS work or How did the ICS command Center work at Sandy Hook on Dec 14, 2012?

It show clearly show who the stupid person in the command center was that did not request the Trauma Helicopters for children and school staff's urgent medical care.

It should clearly show who the stupid individual was at the command center who did not allow the paramedics or the EMT'S inside the Sandy Hook Elementary School to provide immediate medical care to those clinging to life.

It should show who the stupid individual at the command center was who declared all 25 children and adults legally dead within the first 8 minutes of the school shooting.

It should show pictures of this massive school evacuation of 500 children and school staff. I am sure that the command center would have documented that massive evacuation.

It should show in the evaluations as to why the first police units parked a 1/4 of a mile away from the school when first responding and waiting for backup. That is not the first responder new protocols is it?

It should show why a 24 year veteran of the Newtown police department on an off duty work detail at a construction site not respond to shots fired at an Elementary School until 2 and a half hours after shots are fired. He stayed at the construction site. Is that a new FEMA directive ?

When are parents not allowed to see their dead children at the morgue? Is that a new FEMA directive?

Please provide all of those answers as quickly as possible since I am the Chief Investigator for the Children's Safety Institute that protects Children with Autism and now since this shooting has cast a malicious stigmatizing effect on all children with Autism as potential killers if not supervised properly, this report is vital.

Thank you and please mail your FEMA evaluation to 25526 Hawks Run Lane, Sorrento, Fla 32776

Wolfgang W Halbig
352-729-2559

February 11, 2014: Wolfgang Halbig e-mails American Free Press associated writer Deanna Spingola:

Wolfgang W Halbig commented on a link.
February 11

Deanna;

This is FEMA the key player that NO ones talks about. Why is that?

Freedom of Information Act Request:

Best Illusion ever:

Can you please provide me with the F.E.M.A. Sandy Hook School Shooting NIMS or ICS evaluations.

As you know in 2006 FEMA and Homeland Security mandated that every school district, private or parachoil had to be trained in NIMS or ICS or not receive Federal Funds for school safety from FEMA, Dept of Education Safe Schools, Homeland Security and the US Depat of Justice.

AS you know they call this blackmail. If you do not comply you receive NO federal funds. What choice did they have and how great did it work at Sandy Hook?

You had over 8 F.E.M.A evaluators on site during the shooting since you could see their I.D badges with pictures provided by observers from the Catholic Church.

NIMS and ICS is your brainchild which requires every school district to have all staff members trained in the NIMS or ICS Emergency Response protocols.

So I cannot imagine that after millions and millions of tax payer dollars that FEMA would not want to evaluate one of the most heinous and horrendous crimes in US school history.

He also comments on a facebook link to the show:

Wolfgang W Halbig commented on a link.
February 11

"A thinking person will question what he hears; examine what he sees; and evaluate what others would have him believe."
[Nathan M. Bickel]

 The Spingola Zone
www.blogtalkradio.com

According to Spingola, Halbig contacted her at 6:22am that day, and later called into the show as she was presenting the first part of a critique of a “Sandy Hook Hoax” documentary, which produced by an individual calling herself Sofia Smallstorm:

*On Tuesday, February 11, 2014 Wolfgang Halbig, who had never corresponded with me before, emailed me at 6:22am (CST). See those emails below. Later that day, Halbig called into my radio AFP program which broadcast from 2-4pm (CST). On that program, I presented Part 1 of my critique on Sofia Smallstorm's video: Sofia Smallstorm Unraveling Sandy Hook; Hear the audio of that call. On that same day, Dave Gahary of the AFP uploaded a podcast of an interview that he conducted on 2/4, School Safety Expert Threatened for Questioning Sandy Hook, which went viral throughout the Internet. How did it go viral - the same way the the 27-second video claiming Robbie Parker was an actor went viral. See more here
<http://www.spingola.com/censorshipoperation.html>*

Also on February 11th, 2014: American Free Press writer Dave Gahary interviews Wolfgang. This interview gains traction online, and becomes the avenue through which most early Hoaxers are introduced to Halbig. <http://americanfreepress.net/afp-podcast-school-safety-expert-threatened-for-questioning-sandy-hook/>

Also on February 11th 2014: “Bill Ford” uploads three videos to his Youtube channel, all having to do with Children’s Safety Institute. The first is a demonstration of the “extra hands” product: [\[LINK\]](#)

The second video is a slideshow narrated by Wolfgang: https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=BEsm_OTa_UY

The third is footage of a presentation by Wolfgang, pitching the “Calming Sounds headset” along with “Extra Hands.” <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=hIObdjoCFsY>

February 13, 2014: Wolfgang promotes his interview with Gahary.

 Wolfgang W Halbig
February 13 via YouTube

Please give this radio show presentation a listen

Sandy Hook Wolfgang Halbig
Uploaded by KateSlate11
Wolfgang Halbig discusses the many inconsistencies regarding Sandy Hook Hoax. <http://americanfreepress.net/?p=15503>

February 14, 2014: Wolfgang complains of his “supposed friends” in Florida who are apparently not willing to help him with his quest to get involved with Sandy Hook.

 Wolfgang W Halbig shared a link.
February 14

I want to thank all the people from across this country and from other countries for your support. I only wish that all of my supposed friends would also support my efforts since they live in Florida.

I guess they are just too busy and do not care about the truth?

February 18, 2014: Wolfgang cuts an interview short, claiming that law enforcement have arrived at his home (the third visit overall, and the second in 3 days.) <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=m0ThvL55R9I>

The same day, Wolfgang claims to have emailed Senator Marco Rubio regarding the Sandy Hook investigation. When he receives a dismissive response, he uses profanity on facebook:

 Wolfgang W Halbig shared a link.
February 18

I am a Florida constituent and being blown off by a United States Senator.

I needed immediate and direct help when the FBI told me that the Sandy Hook Criminal Investigation by the New Haven FBI was Classified.

What has to be classified and I asked his office to get that report declassified so we could see the truth.

It did not happen since this is the bullshit they sent you.

I am sorry for the bullshit but enough is enough.

wolfgang

Dear Mr. Halbig,

Thank you for your comments. I will be sure to share them with the Senator. Please direct any future legislative comments via our website; www.rubio.senate.gov to February 19, 2014: Professor James Tracy (of Florida Atlantic University) publishes a story “Wolfgang Halbig’s Quest for Truth”, reprinting several emails Halbig sent over the past year.

<http://memoryholeblog.com/2014/02/19/wolfgang-halbig-s-quest-for-truth/>

FEBRUARY 19, 2014

Wolfgang Halbig’s Quest for Truth 262

by James Tracy • Documents • Tags: government conspiracy, public education, Sandy Hook Elementary, state crime

Requests for public records under the Connecticut Freedom of Information Act can result in threats of arrest under felony harassment charges. This is what former Florida State Trooper and school safety expert Wolfgang Halbig discovered after repeatedly telephoning and sending the series of emails, a February 20, 2014: Halbig claims on facebook that the Lake County Sheriff's Office paid him a visit again, this time in uniform. Wolfgang declares “let the games begin in solving the Sandy Hook Illusion” and announces the Sandy Hook Justice Trust Fund. He starts collecting donations.

Wolfgang W Halbig
5 hours ago

Another visit fro the Lake County Sheriffs office this time they actually wore uniforms yesterday.
They received a call from Newtown Police Department since they must have heard me on American Free Press that I was coming to Newtown.
They the deputy sheriffs stated that the Newtown police department wants to know when I am coming to Newtown and the second question Newtown Police wnatod to know if I owned a handgun.

So now let the games begin in solving the Sandy Hook Illusion.

I have set up a Sandy Hook Justice Trust Fund so we can host a conference in Orlando, Florida for every American who believes that we need to hire attorney's and file Civil Lawsuits.

Give what you can. It will make a difference.

My mailing address is 25526 Hawks Run Lane, Sorrento, Florida 32776.

Please make checks payable to the Sandy Hook Justice Trust Fund.

I know that you do not know me but it is a Trust that you will be able to follow in holding us accountable.

We Are Patriots going to solve this puzzle starting with the 10 top question as you heard on American Free Press.

The Government thinks we are so stupid. Guess what we are coming. Your friend for ever

February 20, 2014: Jim Fetzer, a Florida-based Professor, calls police expressing concern for Wolfgang Halbig after he had “not heard from him in a couple days,” suggesting regular and expected contact between the two at this point:

```

Nature: S17          Case Number:
Addr=              Area: L5    L5
City:              ST:      Zip:      Contact: FETZER, JAMES

Complainant&
Lst:              Fst:              Mid:
DOB:              SSN:              Adr:
Rac:  Sx:  Tel:   Cty:              ST:  Zip:

Offense Codes:          Reported:      Observed: Circumstances:
Rspndg Officers: DOLAN 1135
Rspnsbl Officer: DOLAN 1135      Agency: LCSO      CAD Call ID: 782502
Received By: WAYLAND 884      Last RadLog: 17:52:08 02/20/14  CMPLT
How Received: T Telephone      Clearance: NR NO REPORT
When Reported: 17:13:35 02/20/14  Disposition: INA  Disp Date: 02/20/14
Occurrd between: 17:13:06 02/20/14  Judicial Sts:
and: 17:13:06 02/20/14      Misc Entry:

MO:
Narrative:
Supplement: (See below)

-----

INVOLVEMENTS:
Type Record # Date Description Relationship
CA 782502 02/20/14 17:13 02/20/14 S17 *Initiating Call

LAW Incident Responders Detail
Responding Officers
Seq Name Unit
1 DOLAN 1135 1135

Main Radio Log Table:
Time/Date Typ Unit Code Zone Agnc Description
17:52:08 02/20/14 1 1135 CMPLT L5 LCSO incid#=140029416 1098 disp:INA
17:49:13 02/20/14 1 1135 ARRVD L5 LCSO incid#=140029416 ARRIVED ON SC
17:20:39 02/20/14 1 1135 ENRT L5 LCSO incid#=140029416 ENROUTE TO A

Law Supplemental Narrative:
Seq Name Date Supplemental Narratives
1 BESELER 1967 17:52:08 02/20/14 Narrative
CAD Call info/comments
*****

REQ ATC WOLFGANG HALBIG, ADV HE HAS NOT HEARD FROM HIM IN COULPE OF DAYS

```

February 24, 2014: Snapshot of Halbig’s facebook profile, going back to early January same year: <http://archive.is/ayPVV>

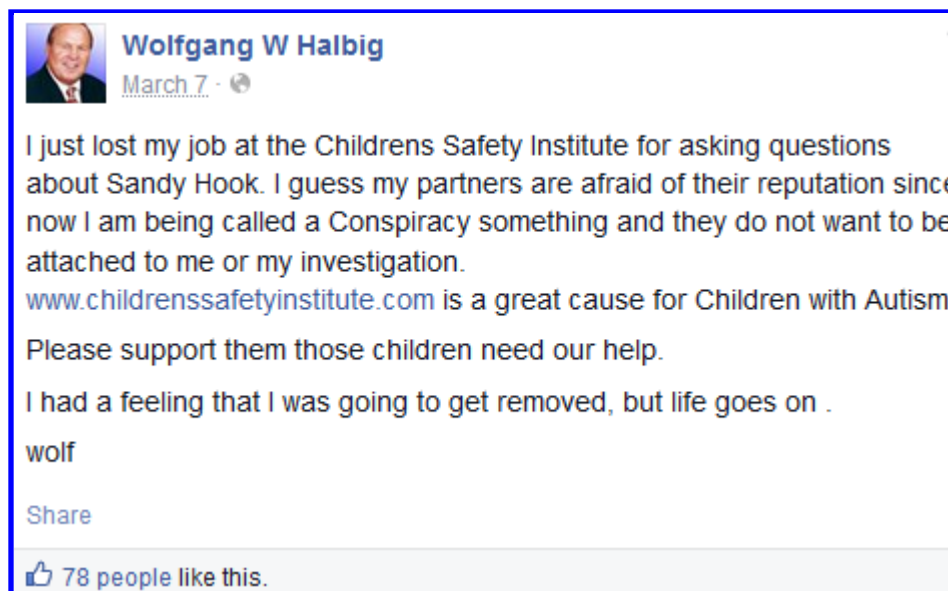

March 1, 2014: Wolfgang makes the impossible claim that he, in his single year as a Florida State Trooper, personally witnessed over 145 autopsies. <http://archive.is/PMoIV>

March 4 2014: American Free Press writer Deanna Spingola describes further interaction with Wolfgang Halbig through her radio show:

On Tuesday, March 4, 2014, I interviewed Wolfgang W. Halbig on my RBN program, MP3; Program Notes On that program I asked him if he was ever a "homicide investigator" but he avoided the question. When he called into my program on 2/11, he claimed to be a "homicide investigator." The one thing that I note, whether it was during the "debates" or on a radio show, those who believe that Sandy Hook was a hoax maintain their views about the issues, even when presented with contradictory evidence or when someone answers their questions. Perhaps these people are not really looking for answers. They just wish to impose their views on the population. People who research regularly change their minds as they discover additional data. Change agents do not do that.

March 7, 2014: Wolfgang posts a message to his facebook profile, claiming that his "best business partner" had "quit his job" with CSI, and that thus the company would cease to be: <http://archive.is/hizyE>

In a 2015 radio interview with Florida Atlantic University Professor James Tracy, Wolfgang says he lost his business "Children's Safety Institute" when he had just finished conducting a "workshop" at "Pittsburgh conference" for children with autism and aspergers. (See: July 2013) [\[Link to interview\]](#)

March 11, 2014: A comment from "Wolfgang Halbig" on an unofficial page for Abilene Christian University suggests her is learning a "new vocabulary": <http://first-thoughts.org/on/Abilene+Christian+University/>

To all you trolls and Shills whatever that means since these are new words in my new vocabulary.please check me out with all those I have worked for you might just learn something new called the truth. Wolfgang W. Halbig 25526 Hawks Run Lane Sorrento, Florida 32776

March 17, 2014: Gofundme temporarily shuts down donations to Sandy Hook Justice, demanding more information from Wolfgang about his activities.

1. Who you are 2. Where you're from 3. Your relationship to those you are helping. 4. Where the money is going (be specific as possible)

Thank you.

Taryn

The fund is restored soon after.

March 19, 2014: Sandy Hook Justice has raised over $10,000.

<https://web.archive.org/web/20140319010647/http://www.gofundme.com/7jb3ww>

Sandy Hook Justice Fund

Raised: $10,961.00 Goal: $100,000.00

Created by Wolfgang W Halbig
2550 Friends
Contact Embed

EMERGENCIES SORRENTO, FL

Wolfgang Halbig has lived a life of serving the public as law enforcement officer, school official, safety expert. Formerly the Executive Director of the National Institute for School a... more gofundme.com/7jb3ww Share

DONATE!

March 26, 2014 Comments left by a username "just wondering" contain alleged specifics about who the deputies were that supposedly threatened Wolfgang in December 2013:

It seems when Wolfgang Halbig started asking questions about SANDY HOOK and making freedom of information requests Lauren Ritchie's friend Sheriff Gary Borders sent a total of four of his Gestapo members to Halbig's home to tell him to stop asking questions of CT officials. Halbig identified the first two Deputies in Dec. 2013 as Clay Watkins and Chris Huskey. He said they told him if he didn't stop investigating SANDY HOOK "bad things were going to happen!" He has not released the names of the last two.

Check out Wolfgang Halbig's efforts to expose the SANDY HOOK HOAX for what it is on his face book page at SANDY HOOK JUSTICE.

Also, the people of Lake County need to realize it was their sheriff Gary Borders who sent his goons out to stop Wolfgang Halbig from seeking the truth about Sandy Hook. Apparently this sheriff is getting his orders straight from Washington.

May 6, 2014: Wolfgang Halbig's visit to the Sandy Hook Volunteer Fire Department's firehouse results in police being called. The police determine that the firefighter who got into a confrontation with Halbig had not committed assault, despite Halbig's claims. Video evidence is key in exposing Halbig's latest hoax attempt:

 NEWTOWN POLICE DEPARTMENT 3 Main Street Newtown, CT 06470 (203) 426-5841	Field Case Report Case Report # 2014-00008522
NARRATIVE (continuation)
Department and drive past two clearly posted no trespassing signs that are erected at the entrance of the parking lot. By passing two clearly posted no trespassing signs Halbig and his group clearly violate 53a-109 (Criminal Trespass 3rd Degree) of the Connecticut General Statutes which states "A person is guilty of criminal trespass in the 3rd degree when, knowing that such person is not licensed or privileged to do so: (1) such person enters or remains in premises which are posted in a manner prescribed by law or reasonably likely to come to the attention of intruders." It has also been determined that by [REDACTED] stating that the chief would be back in an hour a reasonable person could have come to the conclusion that it would be ok to come back in an hour when the chief had returned. Therefore, Halbig's arrival for the second time will not be construed as Criminal Trespass 1st Degree. As for Halbig's complaint that he was assaulted by [REDACTED] The video footage as viewed by Ofc. Chapman shows that [REDACTED] does not push Halbig. Ofc. McCarthy's report states that Halbig was asked if he needed medical attention two times and he responded no that he was not injured. Therefore, Halbig's complaint of assault does not meet the criteria of 53a-61 (Assault in the 3rd degree) of the Connecticut General statutes requiring there to be physical injury. [REDACTED] being an employee of the Sandy Hook Fire House is legally allowed use reasonable physical force upon another person when and to the extent that he reasonably believed such to be necessary to prevent or terminate the commission or attempted commission of criminal trespass by such other person in or upon such premises as defined in Connecticut General Statutes 53a-20 (use of physical force in defense of premises). Halbig was given a no trespass order for the property of the Sandy Hook Fire Department by Ofc. McCarthy No enforcement will be issued in this case. Case Closed.

Also on May 6, 2014: Wolfgang stops by the Newtown Police Department, with his associate Jim Fetzer (as well as Dave Gahary and others.)

Also on May 6, 2014: Newtown school board greets Sandy Hook skeptics with silence - News-Times article reports on Wolfgang Halbig (along with Jim Fetzer) attending a Newtown School Board meeting, and being met with patient contempt from the townspeople:[\[LINK\]](#)

But board members refused to take the bait, remaining silent throughout presentations by Halbig and several of his supporters who followed him to the microphone. The audience, which included First Selectman Pat Llodra and several other town officials who had come to support the board, also stayed silent.

The only public response came from Newtown resident Jim Fitzpatrick, who was the last to speak. Unable to let this group have the last word, he said, "It's a shame to see this circus come to town, and I'm offended by the people who have come, and these conspiracy theories. Newtown has conducted itself wonderfully."

May 28, 2014: Wolfgang receives an email from Len Pozner:

May 31, 2014: Wolfgang Halbig calls police, claiming that Lenny Pozner “tried to come to his house last night” but the security guard “wouldn’t let him through.”

```
COMPL ADVS THT RECEIVING EMAILING, CALLS, AND TEXT FROM A LENNY POZNER WHO IS A PARENT OF CHILD THT PASSED IN THE SANDY HOOK SHOOTING...EMAILS JUST SAY "CALL ME" NO THREATS ARE BEING MADE...TRIED TO COME TO HIS HOUSE LAST NIGHT BUT THE SECURITY GUARD WOULDNT LET HIM THROUGH...COMPL ADVS DOESNT KNW THIS MALE OR ANYTHING ABT HIM UNK HOW HE GOT HIS ADDRESS OR PX...COMPL CONCERNED REF HE DOESNT KNW THIS MALE AND DOESNT KNW HOW HE GOT ANY OF HIS INFORMATION UNK WHAT HE COULD DO NEXT

NATIONAL SCHOOL SAFETY CONSULTANT

IN RED TAIL
18:47:44 05/30/2014 - GILSON 2120 - From: HAUSS 1600
WILL CALL COMPL
19:00:54 05/30/2014 - GILSON 2120
1600 REQ TO PATCH THE COMPL
19:01:00 05/30/2014 - GILSON 2120
PATCHED COMPL TO 1600
19:05:32 05/30/2014 - GILSON 2120
1600 ADV 98 ON THE PATCH... COMPL WAS RECOMMENED TO OBTAIN LEGAL COUNSEL, 1040
GIVEN 98
```

May 31, 2014: Wolfgang once again calls police, making allegations of "harassment" on the part of Newtown parent Lenny Pozner. The responding officer notes that "SUBJ IS S20" - (Signal 20, code for a mentally ill person):

```
10:00:21 05/31/2014 - DEJESUS 2225
1570 ADV TO ADV COMPL OF THE DELAY
10:01:14 05/31/2014 - DEJESUS 2225
1039 COMPL THE DELAY
11:33:38 05/31/2014 - DEJESUS 2225
PER 1570 SUBJ IS S20, SUBJ STATED NUMEROUS TIMES THAT HE IS RETIRED FHP WANTED TO KNOW WHY LSCO WAS HARASSING HIM, REF TO HIS CONNECTICUT FREEDOM INFORMATION ACTS WAS ADV 1570 THAT THE FATHER OF ONE OF THE VICTIMS CAME TO HIS 1042 AND WANTED TO KNOW WHY THE SUBJ WONT BE ARRESTED, ADV 1570 THAT SUBJ WAS NOT THREATENING HIM, COMPL WAS EXTREMELY UPSET THAT SUBJ SHOWED UP AT HIS HOUSE, WAS ADV MULTIPLE TIMES THIS WILL BE A S42 ISSUE ABOUT CONSPIRACY THEORY IN REF
TO SANDY HOOK. SUBJ WAS ADV TO SEEK 1049A AGAINST THE PARENT OF THE VICTIM
CHILD, COMPL THEN ADV THAT LCSO IS NOT WILLING TO HELP HIM AND NO LONGER REQ'D
LCSO ASSISTANCE AND D/C ON 1570
```

June 3rd 2014: Wolfgang again calls police to report "harassment," claiming that he "tried to file a report 2 days" ago, but deputies would not come to his home.

```
=====
COMPL WANTS TO FILE A REPORT REF HARASSMENT.. REQ 1025 IN PERSON.. DID NOT PROVIDE A REFERENCE..
RECEIVED THIS CALL FROM THE ATTORNEY OF THE COMPL WHO STATED THE COMPL ATTEMPTED TO FILE A REPORT 2 DAYS ABOUT BUT DEPUTIES REFUSED TO COME TO HIS 1042 TO TAKE THE REPORT
REF 140081042
15:02:48 06/03/2014 - GROOVER 2090
PX FOR ATTORNEY 775-885-9348
15:16:04 06/03/2014 - BLACKMAN 1756
CALL HX SHOWS THAT THE COMP
16:37:49 06/03/2014 - BLACKMAN 1756 - From: DOLAN 1135
1098 WR
```

Eventually, an officer does come to the Halbig residence to take a statement.

Case Report for Incident 140082624	Page 3 of 4
<hr/>
Narrative
Offense/Class: 365.16 - Harassing Communication (M)
Reporting Officer: M/D M. Dolan (P-1135)
Evidence: None
Crime Scene: Interviewed
Attachments: Sworn Affidavit with intent to prosecute, Victim's Rights receipt, copy of email
Canvass Area: N/A

Wolfgang tells the reporting officer about the email he received, as well as "two telephone calls, which he believes are from Mr. Pozner," though he is not able to provide any phone number from which the calls were coming, and Wolfgang never answers whatever these alleged calls were, and the caller did not leave any message:

Narrative

Offense/Class: 365.16 - Harassing Communication (M)

Reporting Officer: M/D M. Dolan (P-1135)

Evidence: None

Crime Scene: Interviewed

Attachments: Sworn Affidavit with intent to prosecute, Victim's Rights receipt, copy of email

Canvass Area: N/A

Narrative:

On June 3, 2014, at approximately 1503 hrs, I responded to the incident location and met with the Victim, Wolfgang Halbig, in reference to harassing communication.

Mr. Halbig advised that during the end of May he traveled to Newtown, Connecticut, in reference to obtaining answers about the Sandy Hook School massacre investigation. He advised that while still in Connecticut he received an email from a subject identifying himself as the Suspect. Len Pozner, who reportedly lost a child to the shooting. He advised that he did not respond, but returned to Florida on the night of 5/29/2014. He advised that on Friday, 5/30/2014, at approximately 1830 hrs, he received a telephone call from Other one, Kelley Watt, advising that Mr. Pozner was at the community gate wanting to be let in. He advised that Kelley Watt described the entrance as reportedly told to her by the Suspect. He advised that again he did not meet with Mr. Pozner, and has since received two (2) telephone calls, which he believes are from Mr. Pozner. He advised at this time he is unable to locate a phone number that Mr. Pozner called from, and Mr. Pozner does not leave a message.

Mr. Halbig provided a copy of a page from his email, stating it is from the Suspect, Mr. Pozner, and that he wants to speak with the Victim. There is no email or IP address visible on the page.

Mr. Halbig completed a sworn affidavit with intent to prosecute and was issued a Victim's Rights sheet. He was also advised in reference to follow up with the State Attorney's Office and contacting this agency if he has additional information.

Nothing further.

July 3, 2014: Wolfgang remarks in his status that he has “One day left on facebook”

July 30, 2014: An individual identifying themselves as William Brandon Shanley writes a public letter to “Leadership of Senate and House Judiciary Committees Calling for Joint-Hearings”, associating himself with Wolfgang Halbig and Jim Fetzer and desiring to expose the “Sandy Hook Massacre Hoax.” [\[LINK\]](#)

*The Honorable Patrick J. Leahy, Chairman
The Honorable Chuck Grassley, Ranking Member
United States Senate Committee on the Judiciary 224 Dirksen Senate Office Building,
Washington, D.C. 20510-6050*

*re: Cover-Up in Connecticut: The Sandy Hook Massacre Hoax

Dear Sirs—

My name is William Brandon Shanley. I'm a New London-based filmmaker with experience in TV-based pseudo-reality research in presidential elections and an editor of books on quantum physics. I'm also writing on behalf of Wolfgang Halbig, a former Florida State Trooper, school administrator with 36 years of experience (up to Vice Principal and Principal) and a nationally recognized school safety expert, and, James H. Fetzer, a former Marine Corps officer, McKnight Professor Emeritus at the University of Minnesota.*

August 21, 2014: Connecticut's Sandy Hook Advisory Commission receives a letter from a man identifying himself as William Brandon Shanley, and claiming that that he represents Wolfgang Halbig's organization, Sandy Hook Justice, along with team member Jim Fetzer [\[LINK\]](#):

Letter from Sandy Hook Justice to Sandy Hook Advisory Commission August 21, 2014 FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Contact: William Brandon Shanley, New London, 860-857-2042

*From: William Brandon Shanley and Sandy Hook Justice
To: Sandy Hook Advisory Commission
August 21, 2014 via Commission website*

I request that this letter goes to all members of the Sandy Hook Advisory Commission.

I am a member of a team of scholars, journalists and researchers named Sandy Hook Justice:

- * Dr. James H. Fetzer, Professor Emeritus University of Minnesota Duluth and editor and journalist for Veterans Today;*
- * Wolfgang Halbig, former Florida State Police officer, school administrator and national school safety specialist;*
- * William Shanley, a non-fiction filmmaker and author, with news analysis specialty since the 1980 presidential election...*

The letter goes on to list alleged evidence that "Sandy Hook Justice" wishes to present to the commission, which would purportedly establish that the shooting was a "hoax."

September 22, 2014: Sandy Hook Justice has raised over $27,000 (not including donations made via check or money order.)

The image shows a screenshot of a GoFundMe campaign page. At the top, the title "Sandy Hook Justice" is displayed in green. Below the title is a portrait of a middle-aged man with light hair, wearing a dark suit and a white shirt. To the right of the portrait is a progress bar showing the amount raised: "$27,780 of 250k". Below the progress bar, it says "Raised by 576 people in 6 months". There are two orange buttons: "Donate Now" and "SHARE ON FACEBOOK". At the bottom right, the GoFundMe logo is visible. The page also shows a location "SORRENTO, FL" and "EMERGENCIES" in the top right corner.

October 6, 2014: Wolfgang Halbig delivers a lengthy speech to an “Oathkeepers” meeting in Long Island, New York. While in the state of New York for this visit, it is documented that Halbig meets with numerous other individuals involved in the “Sandy Hook Hoax” operation.

During his speech, Wolfgang points out that it is “cruel” to use children and teachers as “props” for an agenda, confirming that he is fully aware of the consequences of his hoax.

“I pray to God that I'm wrong. And if I'm wrong, I'm gonna march right into [a] mental hospital, I'm gonna enroll myself. Because, I'm serious, my wife is ready to divorce me. I've been married 42 years, I've got two beautiful sons, three granddaughters, my wife actually believes 'how dare you question those parents who lost children at Sandy Hook?' and I said 'how do you know they died?'”

- Wolfgang Halbig 10/6/2014

October 9, 2014: Wolfgang Halbig’s Sandy Hook Justice Gofundme account is terminated. Halbig would later claim that the fund had grown in excess of $31,000 USD.

Sandy Hook: GoFundMe deletes Wolfgang Halbig’s donation site, supports obvious fraud

Posted on October 22, 2014 by Jim Fetzer

Veterans Today | Jim Fetzer (with Tom Lapp)

Wolfgang Halbig's GoFundMe account has been suspended for alleged FRAUD based upon complaints it has received.

But there is no fraud associated with Wolf's account, which we have substantiated again and again. We have a good idea of their source, which probably includes some familiar names,

November 19, 2014: Halbig conducts a phone interview with an individual calling themselves “Professor Doom1” (TAV). In it, Halbig complains about his Gofundme account getting shut down, and reveals the Sandy Hook Justice legal strategy: [\[LINK\]](#)

"I had this account Gofundme, and they shut it down. I mean, I'm gonna figure out who did it, because I got a copy of the letter that was written to the president, CEO, and uhh Chief Financial Officer of Gofundme calling me a fraud. I mean let me tell you what, they just butchered me. Okay?"

So, I'm hiring an attorney. As a matter of fact, I got a meeting in the morning, I'm going to file a lawsuit in federal court against Gofundme, and try to get a federal judge to issue a John Doe subpoena, uhh, finding out who all the people are that have filed letters of complaint against me, that are calling me a fraud, and – I mean I want to know who these people are. Then, we're going to turn it around, and we're going to file the lawsuits against the people who are calling me a fraud, and got Gofundme to shut me down."

He goes on to claim that the closure of his Sandy Hook Justice fund has “bothered” his family, adding that “my wife is really upset.”

December 15, 2014: William Brandon Shanley begins filing a bizarre series of lawsuits, nearly incomprehensible in their language and demanding absurd sums (in excess of one trillion dollars) over the Sandy Hook shooting. The lawsuits rely heavily on “Hoaxer” articles written by Professor Jim Fetzer:

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT DISTRICT OF CONNECTICUT

FILED
2014 DEC 15 PM 2 29
U.S. DISTRICT COURT
NEW HAVEN, CT.

MOTION FOR LEAVE TO PROCEED IN FORMA PAUPERIS PURSUANT TO 28 U.S.C. § 1915

William Brandon Shanley
Plaintiff(s).

The Bee Publishing, Inc.
R. Scudder Smith, Publisher
Curtis Clark, editor
Shannon Hicks, ASST. ASSOC. editor
Defendant(s).

Associated Press, Inc.
Hartford Courant, Inc.
The New York Times, publisher
The New York Times, publisher
Subzberger

Case No. 3:14-cv-1881-JAM

I request leave to commence this civil action without prepayment of fees, costs, or security therefor pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1915. In support of my request, I submit Claim I: That the criminal conspiracy that published the fake ^{news} photograph were among the perpetrators of an act of terrorism against me, the People of the United States and the World called “The Sandy Hook Massacre.” Punitive damages $500 billion dollars.

December 25, 2014: William Shanley issues a press release, announcing the flurry of lawsuits to expose the Sandy Hook "hoax." The same document proclaims that Jim Fetzer and Wolfgang Halbig will be called as expert witnesses in the case.

After exhaustive research, the good news is that overwhelming evidence reveals that no children or teachers died at Sandy Hook two years ago. For relief, I have filed lawsuits against the media in US District Court in New Haven for Fraud and Terrorism. Here is an example of our abundant evidence, Exhibit D: The Connecticut State Police dash cams record no evacuation of children from school at critical moments:<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=rqcaaE6aFX8> — Smoking Gun evidence no children died at Sandy Hook."

Attached is a photo staged by the Newtown Bee, a wider view of that action being staged on a different day that the emergency altogether, and a sampling of front pages that terrorized the world with the fake photo.

Mr. Shanley is the producer of The Made-for-TV Election starring Martin Sheen that analyzed media coverage in the tectonic Carter-Reagan election of 1980. He is also the author of books on quantum physics, including Alice and the Quantum Cat (2011).

Dr. James Fetzer, whose 35 articles on Sandy Hook for Veteran's Today qualify him for the highest investigative journalism awards, and School Safety Consultant, Wolfgang Halbig, whose investigative expertise as a former Florida State Police officer, and loving attention as a former principal, makes this case's particulars comprehensible to all, will be called as expert witnesses.

It is their scholarship and bravery that makes these Complaints possible for the sheer breadth and scope and detail of evidence they have assembled. Hundreds of independent researchers have also made this day possible, and Mr. Shanley claims they will be tracked down and rewarded heartily for their bravery and mindfulness of America.

December 29, 2014: In another interview with "Professor Doom1", Halbig confirms that he did indeed have contact with William Shanley, and knew of the planned lawsuits, but had cautioned Shanley and several other persons, one of whom is known to be Professor Jim Fetzer, not to go through with them:

"PROFESSOR DOOM1": [William Shanley] and Jim Fetzer seem to think that they are going to supercede you somehow in, uh, pursuit of a lawsuit, and they were going to be using you for some kind of, uh, professional technical witness or something?"

HALBIG: "I told them personally, each one of 'em, do not file the lawsuit. You're messing everything up that everybody has worked on together. I - I begged them not to file the lawsuit."

Wolfgang Halbig then takes great care to distance himself from William Shanley, while admitting that the two were at one time connected in some way, which in turn involved Jim Fetzer in some way.

"I have never met this person, I do not know this person [Shanley], uh, he was introduced to me by Jim Fetzer. Uh, the guy asked me for a donation one time because he doesn't have any money. So, I didn't take it out of the donations. I actually gave him a personal check out of my account for three hundred dollars. I didn't want to use other people's money to help this guy for whatever reason Fetzer said I should. But, I have disconnected myself from him. I think that -- I don't know what Fetzer and he are up to, I think it's going to ruin everything we have worked for, and I'm very disappointed in their actions."

Halbig goes on to express frustration with Professor Jim Fetzer's implied shift in loyalties:

"I don't know what in the world's happened to Jim Fetzer. You know, I trusted that man, you know... from the very beginning, and then all of a sudden, he's on a whole different tangent. I don't - I don't... I don't know what their game plan is."

Offender Details
Offender Name: WILLIAM SHANLEY	 Sandy Hook Farm.com
Offender ID: 305720
Date of Birth: 03/07/1951
Age: 63
Race:
Gender:
Custody Status: In Custody
Location of Offender: Connecticut Department of Correction
 Hide Photo

The Fall of Wolfgang Halbig

2015

January 2015: William Shanley's trillion-dollar lawsuit is dismissed (though he goes on to file several more, with similar results):

In short, plaintiff's claims are frivolous and furnish no plausible or conceivable grounds for relief. Accordingly, the complaint is DISMISSED pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1915(e)(2)(B).

Plaintiff's motion to proceed in forma pauperis (Doc. #2) and motion to participate in electronic filing (Doc. #5) are DENIED as moot in light of the dismissal of this action.

It is so ordered.

Dated at Bridgeport this 15th day of January 2015.

/s/ Jeffrey Alker Meyer
Jeffrey Alker Meyer
United States District Judge

March 13, 2015: During an appearance on The Richie Allen Show, Wolfgang Halbig announces that he is in possession of a firearm, and has trained to use it. [\[LINK\]](#)

“There are things happening which caused me to go out and buy a handgun. And, I am taking precautions: I went back to the range, I’m qualified. I’m a sharpshooter. So, it’s sad I have to do these things.”

March 14, 2015: Jim Fetzer posts excerpts from an Alex Jones interview with Wolfgang Halbig. <http://www.veteranstoday.com/2015/05/01/sandy-hook-update-wolfgang-halbig-files-lawsuit/>

HALBIG: “Well, you know what? They need to get ready, Alex, I’m coming. If you could be in my office right now today, beyond a reasonable doubt, we have all the evidence. People that anonymously have now come forward from Newtown. We now have documents that will, without a doubt, show that that school did not exist, it was not in operation.

Jones: “Well, You’d better release them as soon as possible or that’d end up, you know what happens to people. They’ll claim you suicided yourself or probably take some of your family out, claim you killed them and demonize you. That’s how they do it now — they kill you and your family.”

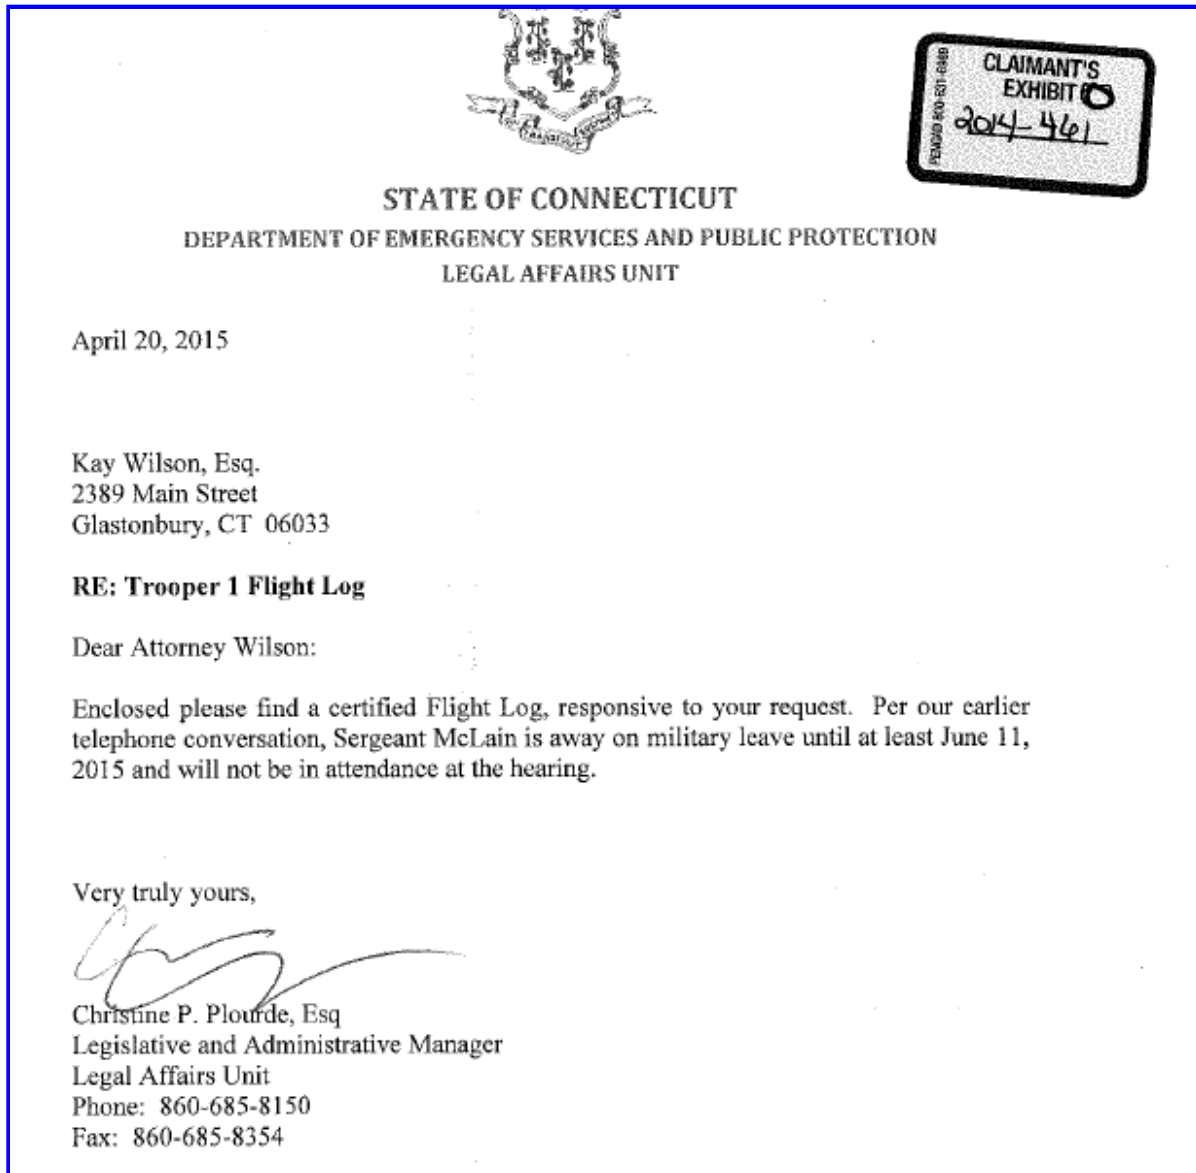

HALBIG:[with a big smile]: “Well, Alex, I saw my doctor the other day. I am not suicidal. I told my doctor I’m about as happy as can be. I got three great grandkids. But I’m telling you, the evidence that we have, right now I have an attorney here in Orlando, we filed a lawsuit. The judge here in Orlando allowed us to move forward. She granted me ten subpoenas to be issued two weeks ago, with discovery information. Alex, we are on the move.

March 9, 2015: ESTATE PROPERTY OWNERS ASSOCIATION INC, offers Wolfgang a settlement of one hundred dollars.

April 9, 2015: Wolfgang Halbig rejects the $100 settlement from Errol Estates (not accepted within 30 days.) This results in the case moving forward. Several months later, Halbig loses the case, and is responsible for Errol’s court costs:

4. On October 22, 2015, this Court heard argument of counsel on Defendant’s Renewed Motion for Summary Judgment and granted the motion. Copies of the Court’s Order granting Defendant’s Renewed Motion for Summary Judgment and the Final Judgment for the Defendant are attached as composite Exhibit “B.”
5. Defendant is entitled to an award of reasonable attorney’s fees and costs from the date of expiration of the above-referenced Proposal for Settlement through the end of litigation.
6. Also, Defendant is entitled to an award of reasonable costs incurred since the inception of this matter under § 57.041.
7. Defendant has incurred $1,820.00 in attorney’s fees in defending this matter since March 9, 2015. Further, Defendant has incurred $2,134.30 in recoverable costs since the inception of this matter.

April 20, 2015: Wolfgang's attorney for the FOIA case, Kay Wilson, receives this correspondence advising them that a requested witness will not be attendance at their hearing.

April 23, 2015: The first of Wolfgang Halbig's FOIA Commission hearings convenes in Hartford, Connecticut. He makes no progress on any of his counts.

June 2, 2015: St. Rose of Lima incident. Wolfgang Halbig is observed by security at Newtown church. Security calls police, telling them "I've got two cars here from out of state that are videotaping children as they leave the school and the guy gave me a rough time about leaving." Wolfgang promptly leaves, shortly after they arrive on the scene.

June 3, 2015: A Connecticut FOIA Commission meeting is held the second half of the court's hearing of Wolfgang Halbig's complaints against Newtown. Again, no significant progress is made on any of Sandy Hook Justice's supposed goals, but Halbig latches onto a response from First Selectman Pat Llodra, who had been speculating that a hazard sign seen at Sandy Hook days after the shooting may have been placed there by "homeland security." Halbig does not specify what this detail supposedly indicates. He merely says "thank you," and giggles. He then proceeds to go on a donation drive for Sandy Hook Justice, saying "homeland security" as much as possible.

June 11, 2015: During a "Max Resistance Round Table" public online forum and chat, Wolfgang Halbig falsely claims that a man, apparently chosen at random from one of several CSP dashcam videos from 12/14, was in fact a "Connecticut EMS Region 1 Director," publicly naming the official and accusing them of participation in a conspiracy. (advise max resistance is tav)

The absurd allegation is quickly and soundly debunked, but not before the "EMS Director at Sandy Hook" story is set upon by legions of hoaxers who litter the internet with propaganda memes demonizing two innocent men.

July 1, 2015: The Connecticut FOIA commission releases its report Wolfgang Halbig's complaint. In the report's recommendations, set to be heard in a meeting the following week, Wolfgang Halbig is found to have already received every existing document that he requested. All of the Freedom of Information Act proceedings of the past several months thus accomplished nothing of consequence for Sandy Hook Justice.

8. It is found that, by letter dated November 3, 2014, the respondents, through counsel, responded to the complainant's request and informed him, in part, that his October 29, 2014 request was identical to his July 29, 2014 request which had already been responded to by their letter dated September 3, 2014.

9. With respect to the September 3, 2014 letter, it is found that the respondents, through counsel, informed the complainant that the respondents maintained 45 records responsive to the complainant's request described in paragraph 2(a)(i), above, and that they would be provided upon payment of the copying fee.

10. It is found that, by that same letter, the respondents, through counsel, also informed the complainant that the town had no records responsive to the request described in paragraph 2(a)(ii), above.

11. It is found that the respondents' counsel also informed the complainant that his request described in paragraph 2(b)(i), above, was vague, overly broad, and that it was not a request for "specific documents and would require research and analysis not required under the FOI Act." It is found that the respondents' counsel expected the complainant's counsel to clarify that portion of his request and make a request for specific records.

July 8, 2015: The final meeting for Wolfgang Halbig's FOIA case is held, and the July 1 recommendations are approved. Wolfgang interrupts the proceedings, loudly storming out and losing all composure.

In the corridor just after the meeting's conclusion, a sound and video recording captures Halbig taunting Mr. Frank, who is passing by on his way out of the courthouse. Halbig promises that he is going to "find" Mr. Frank, as well as "find" one of the deceased child victims at Sandy Hook, Avielle Richman:

"We're going to find Mr. Monte Frank, and Avielle Richman! Guess what there, Mr. Frank, what do you think? You're protecting all of those people? Are you protecting Avielle Richman? Avielle Richman, you're in the synagogue!"

Wolfgang W. Halbig @halbigW · Jul 14

Just returned from Hartford CT after appearing before the CT FOIA Commission and we have now more Perjury by Sandy Hook Staff then ever

July 27, 2015: Paypal, possibly the last remaining online payment system that Sandy Hook Justice can receive donations through, terminates Sandy Hook Justice's account.

AUGUST 7, 2015

PayPal Pulls Plug on Wolfgang Halbig ⁵²

by James Tracy • News • Tags: charity industry, philanthropy, Sandy Hook Elementary

On July 27, 2015 Wolfgang Halbig received notification via email that PayPal was closing his account associated with the Sandy Hook Justice website, the donations of which are used in an ongoing investigation of the curious Sandy Hook Elementary School massacre.

"Due to the nature of your activities," the notice reads, "we have chosen to discontinue service to you in accordance with PayPal's User Agreement. As a result, we have placed a permanent limitation on your account."

The email was issued by PayPal's division of "Brand Risk Management." The widely-recognized electronic payment service further requested that Halbig "remove all references to PayPal from your website. This includes removing PayPal as a payment

August 11, 2015: Wolfgang Halbig loses in his court battle against one of several anonymous "bloggers," (see November 19 2014 interview) resulting in a judgement of nearly $23,000 against Halbig, who again achieves absolutely nothing toward his goals, professed or otherwise.

ORDER GRANTING PLAINTIFF'S MOTION FOR ENLARGEMENT OF TIME TO SERVE DEFENDANTS

THIS CAUSE came before the Court on Plaintiff's Motion for Enlargement of Time in Which to Effect Service of Process on Defendants. This Court, having reviewed Plaintiff's motion, the court file, and being otherwise advised in the premises, hereby

ORDERS:

1. Plaintiff's Motion for enlargement of time is GRANTED; and
2. Plaintiff has until Monday, July 27, 2015, to serve Defendants.

IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED, ADJUDGED AND DECREED as follows:

1. The sum of $22,495 is awarded to the [REDACTED] LLP Client General Trust Account for which judgment is hereby entered against Plaintiff Wolfgang Halbig.
17. This judgment shall accrue interest at the legal rate of ten percent (10%) per annum from the date of entry of this Judgment until paid pursuant to California Code of Civil Procedure §§ 685.010 and 685.020.
18. Plaintiff Wolfgang Halbig is not entitled to any attorney fees or costs from [REDACTED]

Wolfgang W. Halbig @halbigW · Sep 3
@megynkelly Please help me find the phone number of the Mafia I need them help me with the investigation into the Sandy Hook School Shooting

Wolfgang W. Halbig @halbigW · Sep 2
National+Local News Media may GOD forgive you for your Sandy Hook Conspiracy. Your children will pay the price one day for your negligence.

September 11, 2015: Len Pozner sues Wolfgang Halbig.

Case Details: 35-2015-CA-001693-AXXX-XX
	Case #	35-2015-CA-001693-AXXX-XX	File Date	9/11/2015
	Party Name/Co	POZNER, LEONARD	Court Type	Circuit Civil
	Name Suffix		Case Type	Other-Other
	DOB		Case Status	OPEN
	Party Type	Plaintiff	Restitution Bal:	0.0000 Offense Date
Court Events
No Court Events Found.
Parties
Full Name	AKA	Party Type	Sex	Race	Date of Birth
HALBIG, WOLFGANG		Defendant
POZNER, LEONARD		Plaintiff
Charges
No Charges Found.
Main Parties
Judge:	BRIGGS, DON F
Linked Cases
No Linked Cases Found.
Dockets
Image	Docket Number	Effective Date	Count	Description
2	1	9/11/2015		CIVIL COVER SHEET
0	2	9/11/2015		FILING FEE ASSESSED-CIVIL ACTION
0	3	9/11/2015		ISSUING SUMMONS / CIRCUIT CIVIL
6	4	9/11/2015		COMPLAINT
3	5	9/11/2015		SUMMONS TO BE ISSUED
3	6	9/11/2015		SUMMONS ISSUED TO <PARTY>
Sentences
No Sentences Found.
Warrants
No Warrants Found.
Arrests
No Arrests Found.
Bonds
No Bonds Found.
Total Fees
Total Amount Due: $410.00		Total Amount Paid: $410.00		Total Balance: $0.00		Total Judgement Interest:
Total Balance + Interest: $0.00

